G. W. HARRISON, Manager. FREDRICKTON BRANCH.

London, Dec. 22—Baron Alverstone, who recently retired from the post of Lord Chief Justice and was succeeded by Sir Rufus Isaacs, quietly celebrated his seventy-first birthday anniversary today at his home in Kensington. Since his retirement

Lord Alverstone has had rather the unique distinction of being the only man in history entitled to be called a former Lord Chief Justice of England. Since the post was established he is the only holder who has not died in office.

INDIAN HEAD BARN

On the Experimental Farm at Indian Head there is a wonderful barn. Cement work was very largely used in the construction of both the stable and barn, as both have a 10 foot wall of cement. This material was also used in the floor and stalls of the horse stable and of the basement of the barn, which will be used for the winter feeding of cattle.

The horse stable, which is a huge affair, is splendidly fitted up in every way, while the barn is the last cry in barn-structure. Its dimensions are 48 feet by 116 feet with an elevator of 52 feet. This height gives the building an added appearance of immensity, especially from inside, but there are no posts; the barn is framed with eight large bents, with hip roof.

A goodly space on the ground floor is reserved for work shop, and granaries have also a generous allowance; the windows are hung on weights, and can be easily lowered, indeed, taking it all in all, the barn is so very fine a structure that the fire which destroyed the old buildings may now be regarded as more of a blessing than a curse.

WHEN APPETITE FAILS AND DIGESTION IS BAD

There is Danger Ahead for the Man That Neglects Nature's Warning

Dyspepsia Tendencies are Serious and Should Be Treated Accordingly

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N.S. Like thousands of people he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away; he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of ruring the sickly enervated man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable—25c. per box, five for $1.00, all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarthozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

SUDDEN DEATH AT NEWBURG JUNCTION

Newburg, Dec. 18.—A very sad death occurred on Friday, Dec. 12, when Mr. Hugh Johnson a highly respected citizen of Newburg, Carleton Co., passed suddenly away.

Mr. Johnson and his son Hugh were swamping in the woods Friday afternoon. They heard some deer nearby, Mr. Johnson said to his son: "I believe I will try to get one of those deer", and suiting the action to the word, he shouldered his rifle, which he had in the woods with him, and started in pursuit of the game. He had not been gone many minutes when the son heard him fire his rifle once. Shortly after this Hugh went home. Mr. Johnson did not come; but the family thought he was at a neighbor's house until later in the evening; then his three sons started out to hunt for their father and found him, where he had fired that shot—dead. The gun, loaded, ready for a second shot, was laying across his breast, evidently he was making ready to shoot again, when heart failure seized him and he suddenly expired. Mr. Johnson all his life had been hale and hearty, looked young for his years, and could hold up his side of work with men of more than ordinary ability. He arose from a poor man on a small farm where he started in life thirty years ago, to be one of the most prosperous and comfortably situated for many miles around, his fine buildings, well tilled meadows and clearings on his many hundred acres of land are proofs of industry, ambition and integrity and lasting footprints on the sands of time.

Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. Mr. Johnson was of a kind, genial, obliging and jovial disposition and will be much missed by all who knew him and he had a host of friends.

High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Bradley at ten o'clock Monday morning and his sorrowing family and friends followed his remains to their last resting place in St. Joseph's cemetery, Newburg. The great concourse of friends that filled the church showed the high esteem in which he was held.

Deceased was sixty-one years of age. He leaves to mourn, a widow, who was Miss Rose Ann McGuire, two daughters, Mary, a trained nurse of Worcester, Mass., and Nellie at home, four sons Denis, Nicholas and Hugh at home and Michael of St. Joseph's College, Memramook, little grandson Francis Daniel Johnson, and four brothers, John in Washington State, Patrick in West Virginia, Michael in Banor, N.E., and James of Hartland, Carleton Co.

The pall bearers were Messrs Thomas, Barnabys and John McAlaire and Mr. Daniel Gallagher.

TRUTH ABOUT CANADA

No Trouble Finding a Job "When Y' Ken Y'r Business"

"I am going to close this letter with an example worth while," wrote an Englishman to his cousin in Canada. "I met a young Scotsman named Wilkie, hailing from Glasgow, the other day. Wilkie heard a lecture on Canada at the Glasgow Exhibition and became fired with Western fever. He landed in Winnipeg without a friend and with very little money. He had been in a piano house at home. Arrived, he applied at the McLean Rand Company on Portage Avenue. "What salary do you want?" said the manager. "It's work I'm thinking about maist!" says the Scot. Within an hour he was ripping up an old tin-pan piano which had lost most of its heart and most of its tone as well. But Wilkie went at the old rattle-bang-thing in a way that showed he knew his business, and to be brief he stayed with McLean and Company one year. Then he saw that the mechanical piano was coming to the fore, but knowing nothing of the "in-nards" of the machine, he took some of the money he had saved, went to Toronto, was engaged by a piano-machine factory, worked there six months, went back to Winnipeg, found his place filled at Mac's, walked into Lindsay's piano house, and was taken on at an advance of five dollars per week over and above what he had been getting. In Wilkie's own words: "My sister came out then, she got work at the big Massey-Harris house, office work, with good pay. We took a comfortable flat, we live there happy and contentedly; we have a fine piano and we'll be glad to have ye' call on us."

"How does the pay for work compare with the Glasgow pay, Wilkie?" I asked. "It's juist double," he says. "And how do you compare living?" says I. "You pay more for luxuries!" says Wilkie, "but otherwise I am thinking it's juist as cheap livin' in Canada, as anywhere else, an' said he meaningly, 'there's no trouble about findin' a job when y' ken y'r business!'"

"Wilkie," says I, "can I tell your story to a newspaper?"

"Aye," he said, "some of the Glasgow folk'll know me fine."

ENTHUSIASM

Enthusiasm tramples over prejudice and opposition, spurns inaction, storms the citadel of its object, and like an avalanche, overwhelms and engulfs all obstacles. It is nothing more nor less than faith in action. Faith and initiative rightly combined remove mountainous barriers and achieve the unheard of and miraculous. Set the germ of enthusiasm afloat in your plant, in your office, or on your farm, carry it in your attitude and manner; it spreads like contagion and influences every fiber of your industry before you realize it; it begets and inspires effects you did not dream of; it means increase in production and decrease in costs; it means joy and pleasure and satisfaction to your workers; it means life, real and virile; it means spontaneous bed-rock results—the vital things that pay dividends.—Henry Chester.

Accidents to Miners

Although there is an increase in the number of deaths from accidents in coal mines now, as compared with a few years ago, the death rate per 1,000 persons employed, says the chief Inspector of mines in Great Britain in his annual report is lower now than it ever was.
