

EVER HAVE CRAMPS,

Nervine?

For Stomach Pains and Cramps No
Remedy so Prompt as Nervine

A WESTERNER'S EXPERIENCE RELATED

"It's in an unsettled part of the country like our far west that proves how valuable Nervine is in the home," writes Mrs. Patrick M. Dehane, from Fort Saskatchewan. "Chills are frequent—a hot drink of Nervine sends life circulating through the body in three minutes. Cramps or sudden illness at night is one of our terrors. No doctor or doctor is near but if Nervine is handy you can get relief. The worst cramps Nervine has cured in my children in half a minute. I don't think any farmer's wife has any right to be without the protection of Nervine. In our family we use it for a hundred ills and it cures them all. One night one of my kiddies had earache and the other toothache. Without Nervine no one could have slept—I applied it as directed, and the children's pains disappeared. My husband uses Nervine for lame back, rheumatism, aching joints and all sorts of pains. It is as good inside as outside and is as much a part of my home as my kitchen stove."

You find a thousand uses for a good family remedy like Nervine. Get the 50c. family size bottle; it's more economical than the 25c. trial size. Sold by all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhzone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

In Touch With the Infinite

The nearer you get to Nature's ways, the closer you are to the beginning of things, in lumber camp, or open prairie, the more you understand that blessed touch with the infinite which is more than legalities and rubrics and articles; and is in harmony with the will of the Infinite, which you can neither cabin in a creed, nor fathom with a traditional plummet.

MAINE SENATORS ASK FOR POTATO EXCLUSION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—Senator Johnson of Maine spoke before the horticultural board Thursday morning at the department of Agriculture for quarantine against potatoes. Senator Burleigh submitted a written protest. William A. Martin of Houlton, C. E. Embree and Prof. Morse of the University of Maine, Orono, joined in urging fullest protection against diseased potatoes.

The board listened to representatives of several foreign governments and to pathological experts of various states. It then took under advisement the question of enforcing an embargo on potato importation. The state pathological experts urged a strict embargo for a period of years, on the ground that potato diseases are known to exist in certain portions of every foreign country included in the department of agriculture's notice on the notice on the subject.

Lord Eustace Percy, third secretary of the British embassy expressed regret that the United States should have suggested the embargo on English potatoes without co-operating with the agricultural experts of that country in their investigation of conditions. To impose an embargo suddenly he said, would be a disturbing factor in the scientific work of the nations. Great Britain, he added, wished to co-operate with the United States and other nations in a general policy of agricultural education.

PEOPLE SHOULD GUARD AGAINST APPENDICITIS

Fredericton people who have stomach and bowel trouble should guard against appendicitis by taking simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler's, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. JUST ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY because this simple mixture draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body. George Y. Dibble.

DIGGING FOR FOXES

Alaskans Dig Not Only Gold But Foxes
Out of the Ground

Gold is not the only valuable thing which Alaskans dig out of the ground. As a matter of fact, those who dig solely for something else have been more fortunate financially. They dig for foxes.

Strange as this may seem to most folks, it is the plain truth. Before the fox pups are old enough to leave their dams white and Indian trappers dig into their holes and capture them. The live little foxes are more profitable than the furs taken from grown animals.

A steamship of the Canadian Pacific Company arrived at Vancouver from Skagway with 126 cub foxes, valued at $100,000, or nearly $800 apiece on the average. The owner brought them for fox farms which were established in several Eastern states and in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. One special lot of ten young black foxes was sold to a New York firm for $30,000.

Even more valuable than the black fox is the silver grey of Alaska. There is practically no limit to the price on its fur. A Montreal firm sold for $7,000 a big and small mink of silver fox, and it was called by experts a "bargain price."

Within the necessity limits of demand for an article of luxury purely it is evident that digging for foxes is more profitable than digging for gold. Also there is greater certainty of return for the effort.

SIGNIFICANT NAMES

There is a Marked Difference in Place
Names in Ontario and Quebec

The place names of Ontario and Quebec eloquently reflect the historical background of the respective peoples. Journey through Ontario and you are confronted with names of counties, townships, towns and villages lifted almost bodily from England, as in Middlesex, Lincoln or York. Go through Quebec and we meet the names of French Kings, Governors and explorers, not to speak of innumerable saints held in close reverence by a devoted people. In Ontario we find in the nomenclature a solemn march of heroes, Governors, poets, philanthropists, statesmen, discoverers and martyrs, connected with the expansion or glory of England such as Sir Isaac Brock, Sir Guy Carleton, General Haldimand, Governor Hamilton, Governor Hope, General Prescott, the Duke of Richmond, Lord Durham, Sydneyham and Aylmer, Governor Simcoe, Sir Charles Bagot, Hilton, Collingwood, Wellington, Nelson, Raleigh, Hampden, Palmerston, Pitt, Harvey, Franklin, Wilberforce, and Macaulay, with such reminders of victory as Blenheim, Trafalgar, Vincent, Waterloo and Sebastopol.

In Quebec how different are the scenes called up by the names of cities, rivers, counties and parishes. Champlain, after the founder of Quebec; Chateaufort, the first French Viceroy; Montmagny, who succeeded Champlain. Two officers of the Carignan regiment, St. Louis and Richelieu, perpetrate the and Monarch of France and his long-trusted Minister; Frontenac, Vaudreuil, and Beauharnois were three of the most able and energetic of the French Governors of Canada, while Bishop Laval, General Montcalm and de Lévis, Cardinal Richelieu, Charlevoix, and other celebrities are similarly remembered. As to the names of saints, the calendar and Acta Sanctorum seem to have been ransacked, and not even the most obscure result of canonization overlooked.

EMPIRE BUILDERS

Such Are Poets Whether of Words or of the Axe and Pick

Like the Greeks who made no distinction between thinking and doing, we who speak the English tongue were above all a practical people, who loved being and doing and the strong, free life, said Mr. F. R. Benson, the great interpreter of Shakespeare's dramas.

A transcontinental railway builder was a poet, not of words but in vision, leader of a band who carved out empire, not "writing his sorrows on the bosom of earth, making dust his paper," but in terms of pick and ax and dredge, in tunnel and train, wedding east and west. He was one who could identify himself with the living principle of all things, who saw the relation between the particular and the universal, surely a practical man for our generation, and all generations to come, and that was the meaning of poet. A concrete example was given at the Stratford-Upon-Avon festival, where people were joined in a mighty realization of the brotherhood of man, not in the pink-blooded terms of the copybook heads, but with the vital intensification of national feeling and patriotism. Mr. Benson had a vision of a great empire of English-speaking people, of which Shakespeare's drama would be one of the chief links.

In a time of strikes, a striker told him how at Shakespeare's shrine he had gathered a sense of the harmony of life, and had seen the due relation of things. He added: "Shakespeare has shown me a better way than dynamite." Another man had prayed God's blessing on the Stratford Theatre. "It has shown me in Shakespeare's plays how we British became what we are, and how we may keep so."

THE FARM WATER SUPPLY

Often Neglected and a Source of Contamination and Disease

Usually the first considerations in locating a well are convenience, cheapness of construction, and certainty of striking an adequate water supply. The well is therefore usually located near the house or the barn and often in a low place subject to seepage or surface drainage from the barnyard or outbuildings, thus contaminating the water and making it dangerous to health. Water thus contaminated may cause typhoid fever, or similar diseases, contaminate milk, butter, and vegetables sold from the farm, and altogether directly and indirectly cause great loss and suffering to the farmer and to the country at large.

Often these wells have clear, cold, sparkling water, and it is hard to make their owners believe that it cannot be safely used without first destroying the bacteria and removing the source of contamination. If this cannot be done, it is necessary to dig a new well in some location free from such danger. This should always be the first consideration in the location of a well.

It may cost a little more to distribute the water, but it is money well spent. A pure water supply is one of the most valuable assets of a farm. The water should always be piped to the house, barn and garden. The saving of labor much more than repays the cost of such distribution.

Greater than Panama's Bridge of Water

The Panama Canal is the logical outcome of the trend of modern commerce—it is monumental evidence of the present-day need for shortening distance—for lessening time and for reducing cost of distribution between maker and consumer.

In point of distance, the Panama will bring the Pacific nearer to the Atlantic by 1,000 miles. In point of time, the sea voyage between Halifax and Vancouver will be shortened by 24 days. In point of cost, the canal will very materially lessen the expense of carrying freight between these places. But there is a stronger factor than even the Panama in shortening distances, lessening cost and saving time between manufacturer and user.

It is Advertising—

It is the quickest—It is the most direct—And it is the cheapest—means of communication between the maker and user of goods.

For instance, Advertising enabled a manufacturer in Nova Scotia to carry a demand for his product from his factory to the Pacific Coast

—in a few days

—at an insignificant cost compared with slower and more laborious selling methods.

In one week, thousands learned of his product where it would have taken years for the news to get around without advertising.

To the Manufacturers of Canada:

You will be alert to take advantage of the Panama route for the physical transportation of your goods. Have you considered how quickly, how far, and at what small cost the Advertising Trade Route will carry demand for those goods?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it will be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
