SCHOOL HYGIENE

An important conference on school hygiene was recently held at Buffalo, New York. Many eminent men, including Ex-President Elliot of Harvard University, took part in the proceedings and read papers and spoke on every important phase of work having to do with improving the health and efficiency of school children. The question is a big one and is deserving of more attention in our own City of Fredericton than it receives. The public drinking cup has been tabooed by many railway companies as a breeder of disease, but in the schools of this city, with one notable exception, scores of children are compelled to drink water from the same vessel, usually an old tin cup. The exception is the new Regent street school where an up-to-date device has been installed by which water is imbibed direct from the pipe. The chairman of the city school board is an experienced medical man and he will not attempt to say that the present arrangement for supplying water to pupils in three of the city schools is what it should be. The system in vogue in the St. Dunstan's school should be duplicated in the other schools of the city and there should be no unnecessary delay in bringing about the change. The problem of providing ways and means—always an important one with the school board—ought to find a ready solution when the health of hundreds of our boys and girls are at stake.

JUG-HANDLED TRADE

The United States trade returns for the twelve months ending June 30th must be disconcerting to Canadians who find cause for apprehension in the exchange of products between that country and Canada. The United States exports to Canada in that period were $415,000,000, as against $216,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910. The increase has been mainly in manufactured goods, the increases in the three years being in part as follows:

Passenger and freight cars increased from $500,000 to 5 1-3 million dollars.

Automobiles from 3 1-3 millions to 9 1/2 million dollars.

Copper pigs, bars, etc., from less than $1,000,000 to over $6,500,000.

Steel rails from less than $1,000,000 to nearly $4,000,000.

Cotton cloths from $758,000 to $2,500,000.

Locomotives from $250,000 to over $1,000,000.

Lumber (boards, deals, etc.) from $5,000,000 to 13 1-3 million dollars.

Structural iron and steel from less than $3,000,000 to over $9,000,000.

Metal working machinery from 1-3 of a million to 2 1-3 million dollars.

Agricultural implements from 3 1-3 millions to practically $7,000,000.

Pipes and fittings from $1,500,000 to over $4,000,000.

Leather boots and shoes from $1,250,000 to over $3,000,000.

The bulk of this increase has taken place since the defeat of reciprocity. In fairness to the Canadian opponents of the agreement, as The London Adviser says, they professed to find no danger, political or commercial, in the increase of imports from the United States but only in the increase of Canadian exports to that country. In 1911, as today, Canadians bought over twice as much from the United States as they sold in that country, but our Conservative friends were so satisfied with this state of affairs that they implored the Canadian electorate to "let well enough alone."

"It was the first time on record that in such quarters an 'adverse' balance of trade was hailed as a blessing. The Liberals thought it would be better business to try to redress the balance by selling more Canadian products to the United States but they were confronted by the surprising doctrine that exports should be discouraged."

The Borden government has at least been consistent. It has done nothing within the past two years to discourage imports or encourage exports.

It is announced that the first effect of the amendment passed last session to the Judges Act will be the retirement on full pay of ten County Court judges. At the same time Forey organs ingeniously announce "The number of aspirants is fully equal to the number of vacancies." This will be cheering news to the disappointed candidates for the Solicitor-Generalship, and other party friends who expect to benefit by Premier Borden's complete adoption of the party spoils system.

There are a number of eminent lawyers in the Conservative party in this province but their names are not found in the list of judgeship possibilities recently published by Premier Flemming's pocket organ. They evidently lack the necessary political pull.

Some old time Tories in York have not yet heard "the ruse in the hay" to quote a phrase used by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at St. Hyacinthe. The approaching federal bye-election should give them their opportunity.

Citizens of Fredericton who are kicking over a tax rate of $1.50 per $100, should derive consolation in the fact that in several Maine towns the rate varies from $2 to $2.50.

SOME THINGS WE KNOW

That the city's Scott Act prosecutor recently got stuck on a bar.

That a heavy fog prevailed at the time and he was without a compass.

That the faithful who have jobs on the Highway Bridge do not intend to permit themselves to be over-worked.

That they are thinking seriously of organizing a time killers' club.

That there must be something attractive about the job of municipal councillor.

That the old fellows like to hold on and the has-beens are anxious to come back.

That the local duck shooters are going to get busy on Monday.

That a local cub reporter had a genuine pipe dream this week.

He thought he saw a split skirt, said so in his paper and was called down for it.

That the relative of a local politician has publicly disclosed the name of "the biggest grafter in New Brunswick."

That York's M. P. is a two to one shot in the race for the judgeship.

That the new moving picture house is O. K. but the ladies must remove their headgear or the fellows behind them will see nothing.

That a new stenographer has been added to the departmental building staff.

That the Normal School and Business College will re-open next week.

That the rubber-necks will assemble at Dibble's Corner on Tuesday morning.

That the fellows who have to do the financing are mighty glad the baseball season is over.

That it will now be possible to get a hearing on the down town party telephone lines.

That the cron of September weddings does not look promising.

That a veteran widower is going to be the first on the list.

ACHING LUMBAAGO BACKS ARE QUICKLY HELPED AND PERMANENTLY CURED

Release, Yes, and a Cure for Lumbago is Now Known

YOU CAN EASILY PROVE THIS

To cure Lumbago—surely it's a good thing to know how. This information meant to Jno. E. Neave, the difference between invalidism and robust health. Writing from his home near Cornwall, he says:—"A severe and prolonged attack of Lumbago in my youth rendered me at all times liable to aches in the back and loins. So established became the predisposition and so frequent the attacks, I confess I accepted the condition as my particular weakness to be borne with as much composure as any evil circumstance might permit. One day an unusually bad attack developed and unfortunately there was no medicine of any kind in the house. I sent to a neighbor for help and received with a strong recommendation a bottle of Nerviline. My friend was surprised we didn't use Nerviline saying that they found use for it in their family almost every day. So quickly did Nerviline check the attack and so grateful was the relief that I was in a day on the high road to recovery. I have cured my tendency to Lumbago with Nerviline and consider it the most powerful pain-subduing liniment ever made."

For curing colds, hoarseness, tight chest and winter ills Nerviline is a marvel; as for Lumbago, Sciatica and Rheumatism, Nerviline is considered to be without a peer. In the home it is especially valuable, because it cures cramps in half a minute, stops nausea, controls vomiting and upset stomach. For internal or external use, wherever there is pain, apply Nerviline. Get the 50c. family size bottle; trial size, 25c., at all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarthozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

MCLEOD BECOMING AN IMPORTANT CENTRE

MacLeod, Alta., Aug. 30.—A striking situation is now presented in the MacLeod district which is believed to typify quite generally conditions that can be observed at numerous important railway centres in this section around MacLeod, turning their attention to ranching and farming; and, as stated by one careful observer, in nearly every case the man who ranches or farms, or, better still, the man who carries on mixed farming by doing both "has made his pile." The mixed farming idea at MacLeod, according to this authority, is taking hold; and MacLeod farmers are demonstrating the fact that it is decidedly a paying proposition to raise cattle as well as wheat at the same time. The prospective shortage in meat supplies owing to drought in the American Southwest this season would seem to confirm in a striking manner the view here outlined.
