When you see an advertisement mentioning a striking bargain cut it out. There is no certainty that it will appear again. We were fortunate in securing two cases of Print Ends direct from the mill. By so doing we secured them at a great bargain. They are from two to ten yd. lengths, light and dark colors and equal to any 10 or 12c goods you can get. We are placing them on sale Tuesday and Wednesday at

CATARRH OR COLDS NEVER QUICKLY CURED BY SWALLOWING DRUGS

Cough Syrup, Tablets, etc., go to the Stomach, Perhaps Sicken It, But Don't Kill the Germs of Catarrh

THE DIRECT BREATHING CURE IS BEST

To cure an ailment in the throat, or chest, to rout out Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has achieved such world-wide success as Catarrhzone, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the breathing organs. The healing vapors of Catarrhzone mix with the breath and descend through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, to the deepest air-cells in the lungs—all parts are saturated with the rich piney essences that ease, heal and cure.

"No one ever contracted a more obstinate attack of nasal catarrh than I suffered a month ago," writes Mrs. G. E. Root, a well-known resident of Bridgetown, N.I. "My head ached terrifically, I sneezed about every three minutes but still my nostrils were entirely closed and I could not breathe through them. Ten minutes inhaling Catarrhzone gave me a little relief, so I continued to use Catarrhzone every hour and before the day was out I had improved. Catarrhzone quickly cured me. I am well ever since."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhzone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhzone lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. At all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhzone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

NEWMARKET

Newmarket, December 26
The death occurred on Saturday, Dec. 20th, of John Scott aged fourteen years and ten months, only child of Mr. William Scott, after a lingering illness from lung trouble. By his death the home is saddened at Christmas time. He was an exceptionally bright and intelligent little fellow of a lovable disposition which endeared him to all who knew him. Great sympathy is felt for the bereaved relatives, and especially his grief-stricken father. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock and was largely attended. Service was conducted at St. Patrick's church by Rev. Father Cormier. Interment was made here.

FAR FLUNG FOSTERS ABSENCES

(Montreal Telegraph)

From every point of view it is to be regretted that Mr. Foster has found it expedient to be off once more for other climes. We had hoped after his recent denial of the rumor that he was going to England, that at last Government and Parliament were going to get the benefit of his presence and experience. But no sooner is another session of Parliament announced than Mr. Foster is up and off—this time to place the Atlantic Ocean, instead of the Pacific, between himself and the people's forum.

As on previous occasions, Mr. Foster's excuse is that he goes to talk Imperial trade. But we cannot help thinking that there are other reasons why he displays such eagerness to go abroad what another might easily do, instead of carrying out at home the work which the country naturally has a right to expect from a man holding his important position in the Cabinet. We suspect that in his heart Mr. Foster is as fond of these "tours de luxe" on vague Empire affairs, as he is proud of his position as a Cabinet minister. But even if he is, that in itself is not sufficient to explain his absence every time Parliament is in session.

We remember, of course, that Mr. Foster during the long period when he was in opposition, laid down his political principles in many a long speech and many a resolution now on record in Hansard. The action of the present Government in regard to many of the matters thus discussed by Mr. Foster must give him considerable misgiving at times—and possibly he hardly likes to risk appeals to himself from his fellow members to be true to his principles or not at them. But Mr. Foster cannot continually shirk his responsibilities in this manner. Not only is he the most experienced member of the present Cabinet, but he has by far the most acute political intellect, and he should, from his opportunities as a former Finance Minister, have the greatest financial knowledge. His guidance and counsel are imperatively necessary in a Cabinet composed of inexperienced and extravagant politicians—and more than ever necessary in the coming session of Parliament, when so many matters of importance are coming up.

We are reluctant to believe that Mr. Foster can look with approval on the extravagant expenditures of the present Cabinet; we refuse to believe that he is a party to the proposed spending of some $250,000,000 which is the sum commonly spoken of as the appropriation for the coming year. He is not the type of man to say "Let us eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we die." Yet at every period when the Cabinet needs him—at every period when his presence might help materially in the counsels of the nation—he packs his grip, and is off. This may be a way of intimating that he washes his hands of Cabinet doings. But it is not the way of a statesman, and it will hardly commend itself to thoughtful men in the Conservative ranks.
