MOSQUITO EXTERMINATION

During the last two decades a variety of methods have been tried with a view to exterminating the mosquito in various parts of the United States. In addition to being a source of irritation and discomfort the insect is also a menace to health as it spreads malaria. The pest has always been particularly bad along the New Jersey coast as it breeds by millions in the salt marshes adjacent to the sea.

The first method which offered any prospect of success was the application of oil to all stagnant bodies of water. This, however, was found to be very expensive and succeeded in effecting only a partial relief. The secret of only permanent remedy has been found to lie in the draining of the marshes. This has been carried on at Staten Island under the direction of competent engineers and as a result, the mosquitos have been almost exterminated.

In the case of stagnant inland waters, oil can be used to good effect or the depressions can be filled in. Before this method of fighting the mosquito was adopted the cases of malaria in one year on Staten Island numbered 120. Subsequent to the draining of the marshes the number of cases reported was two. The figures speak for themselves.

One of the latest fads in London is to obtain the correct time every twenty-four hours by wireless telegraphy. The Greenwich Observatory was an apparatus for communicating the time by wireless, but this is a very expensive method. A new method on the Eiffel Tower in Paris, which can thus give the time to anyone who possesses the requisite receiving mechanism within a radius of 2000 or 3000 miles. The mechanism is simple, and consists of a copper wire suspended in one's garden, a tuning coil, a detector and a telephone. Favorite times for receiving the signals are at 11.30 p. m. and at 11.45 p. m., as in the case of the party just home from the theatre. The Eiffel Tower sends out a "tap" for each second during three minutes.

Mr. Horton B. Hetherington, a former Queens County politician who from some point in the United States wrote letters to the Tory press condemning reciprocity during the campaign of two years ago, has received his reward from the Borden government. He is now holding down a job at the Canadian immigration inspecting station, Ellis Island, New York. Mr. Hetherington's experience as a Kickapoo Indian medicine man and as a former lecturer on "rum, Romanism and rebellion" should stand him in good stead in his present berth.

Suit for $15,000 on behalf of his baby for injuries due to an automobile accident has been started by Charles H. Allen, inn keeper of Oakland, N. J., against the Advance Motor Excess Company, of New York. Mr. Allen alleges that while driving with the wife and mother in Harrison, N. J., recently his motor car was run into by a truck and that both women were injured. It is contended that the accident caused injury to the then unborn child of Mrs. Allen, so that the infant bears marks upon his neck, causing disfigurement for life.

WITH OLD FRIENDS

Truro News: A former clever pastor of First Baptist Church, Rev. H. F. Adams, M. A. occupied his old pulpit at both services Sunday; and he did indeed get a hearty welcome. In the evening Mr. Adams was especially practically instructive and eloquent in his remarks. Under the general subject, "Put on the whole Armour," by apt illustration he urged upon all the necessity of ever being fully armed to meet the enemies of those who are running the Christian race and are fighting the enemies of mankind at every turn. The pulpit address was greatly enjoyed and it was good for old friends to see and hear their oldtime Pastor again.

OPEN USE NERVILINE

For Stomach Pains and Cramps, No Remedy so Prompt as Nerviline

A WESTERNER'S EXPERIENCE RELATED

"It's in an unsettled part of the country like our far west that proves how valuable Nerviline is in the home," writes Mrs. Patrick M. Dehaney, from Fort Saskatchewan. "Chills are frequent—a hot drink of Nerviline sends life circulating through the body in three minutes. Cramps or sudden illness at night is one of our terrors. No druggist or doctor is near but if Nerviline is handy you can get relief. The worst cramps Nerviline has cured in my children in half a minute. I don't think any farmer's wife has any right to be without the protection of Nerviline. In our family we use it for a hundred ills and it cures them all. One night one of my kiddies had earache and the other toothache. Without Nerviline no one could have slept—I applied it as directed, and the children's pains disappeared. My husband uses Nerviline for lame back, rheumatism, aching joints and all sorts of pains. It is as good inside as outside and is as much a part of my home as my kitchen stove." You find a thousand uses for a good family remedy like Nerviline. Get the 50c. family size bottle; it's more economical than the 25c. trial size. Sold by all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhzone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.
