FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT HARRY THAW

A New Turn of Affairs in the Case of Stanford White's Slayer---Application Made for Writ of Habeas Corpus---Looked Upon as a Scheme to Check-Mate Jerome---Sheriff Would not Take Prisoner to Church

Colebrook, N.H., Sept. 14.—The protection of the United States courts had not actually come to Harry K. Thaw tonight. Though his counsel obtained a writ of habeas corpus yesterday from Federal Judge Aldrich at Concord, the writ was not served on Sheriff Drew today and the Thaw lawyers said tonight that it probably would not be served until tomorrow afternoon.

On Tuesday morning Thaw will be taken before Judge Aldrich at Littleton, when arguments on the writ will be heard.

Thaw spent a quiet Sunday. He did not even go out for a walk. He expressed a desire to attend the Methodist church, but the sheriff said that he (the sheriff) had not been going to church much of late and feared if he went today it might establish a precedent under which his wife would compel him to attend regularly hereafter. He said later that his reason for not taking Thaw out was that Colebrook had been upset enough over the fugitive.

As it was, the corridors of the Monadnock House, where Thaw is held, were crowded with country folks throughout the day. They had driven or motored in from their homes in the hope of getting a good look at Thaw. But only those who were willing to pay for a meal had their curiosity satisfied.

The statement of Moses Crossman of the Thaw counsel, that the federal writ was obtained not because Thaw's liberty was sought now, but as an emergency measure to checkmate New York State, should Governor Felker honor the requisition warrant for Thaw without a full hearing, developed into an open controversy between factions today. Jerome last night characterized the move as a breach of faith, and today he procured a number of affidavits from newspaper reports setting forth what Crossman had said. It was understood that he obtained this for use in a move to sustain his contention that Crossman and his associates had "trifled" with the federal courts and were perhaps liable for contempt.

ABSURD, SAYS CROSSMAN.

"That is absurd," said Crossman. "I shall go before Judge Aldrich myself on Tuesday. He understands thoroughly our motives and we are prepared to meet any allegation that we did not act in good faith either with Mr. Jerome or the court. Any suggestion from Mr. Jerome that I agreed not to get this writ must have been made under a misunderstanding. It is ridiculous to assume that I, as a lawyer, could make any agreement that would jeopardize the position of my client. Mr. Jerome, as a lawyer, should know this."

Unless Jerome has some powder concealed somewhere, Thaw will be taken to Littleton on a train leaving here early Tuesday morning. The habeas corpus argument is set for 11 o'clock that morning. The Thaw lawyers will ask for a continuance, thus leaving the writ hanging over the heads of their opponents, and then proceedings will be transferred to Concord, the capitol, for the hearing before the governor.

E. P. Nute, United States marshal for this district, will serve notice of the writ on Sheriff Drew and from the moment that service Thaw will be in the joint custody of the United States government and the authorities of Cook county, New Hampshire. The marshal has been directed to "use such force as necessary to protect Thaw from violence and indignity if such be attempted." This will be a new experience for the slayer of Stanford White and he is pleased at the prospect. Having federal interference in this case, gratifies that peculiar love for show and publicity he has so often shown. Besides there is great comfort in the thought that any infringement of the writ by any one whatsoever, would mean serious consequences inasmuch as the writ carries with it an injunction which says in effect: "Hands off."

THE POWER OF MONTE CARLO

Prince Albert of Monaco is on a tour of the United States

Will Visit Many Museums and Will Hunt Big Game in Wyoming

New York, Sept. 14.—Prince Albert, ruler of Monaco, famed for its Monte Carlo, came to America on its deep-sea exploring yacht Hironelle, accompanied by French scientists and artists who have been assisting him in making a study of the Atlantic Ocean and its life.

The Prince showed to visitors the wonders of his vessel as it lay at anchor in the Hudson at Ninety-sixth street. The ship is fitted up for investigations in oceanography. The Prince's office is a completely equipped laboratory, and he himself is a walking encyclopaedia of facts of the Atlantic Ocean.

"I suppose your city has greatly changed since I was here forty-five years ago," said the Prince. "But when I have met so many Americans all over the world that I know I shall not feel at all lost here. Naturally, your women are far-famed. I think they are charming."

"I am visiting all your most important museums and universities and I am going to Wyoming, where I have investments. There I will do some hunting and after that will study conditions here."

Prince Albert later boarded a Broadway car, accompanied by his secretary and a reporter and handed the conductor a ten-franc gold piece.

"We're not taking junk like that," growled the police carman as he passed it back. His Highness did not understand the remark and the reporter, seeking to cover up any embarrassment that might follow, handed the surly individual the required amount.

The Prince is the owner of the world-famed gambling den known as Monte Carlo, from which he derives nearly $30,000,000 a year. He has leased the gambling concession for a long term of years. While he has millions, he is not on terms of intimacy with the monarchs of Europe.

MARYSVILLE

Cotton Mill Down For Exhibition---Excursion on the Minto Ry.---First Coal Over New Line

Marysville, Sept. 15.—The cotton mill will close down at noon Thursday for the remainder of the week to allow the operatives a chance to take in the Fredericton Exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collings were the guests over Sunday of their friends Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Merritt at Barker's Point.

A large number of people walked to Gibson yesterday on the Spur line, which road is becoming very popular.

The excursion to Minto next Saturday to the coal mines promises to be well attended as a large number of people both from Marysville and Gibson expect to take the trip.

The first coal from Minto over the new road arrived Friday night and was landed at the coal shed ready for dumping. Three cars were brought over for use in the cotton mill.

The large bear that Mr. Nash captured this spring and which he intended to send to the Exhibition died a few days ago. It is the impression of the owner that the bear was poisoned.

Mrs. J. B. Hayes of St. Leonards, is visiting relatives in St. Mary's.

SLIGHT SAG IN STOCK MARKET

Canadian Pacific had a Decline of Two Points This Morning

Money Market is Yet to Undergo the Test Imposed by Crop Moving Period

New York, Sept. 15.—It would be a mistake, perhaps, to permit optimism, based upon the recent buoyancy of the Stock Market to run very far at the present time. The political and financial outlook is still far from assured and the impairment of the country's aggregate agricultural yield may be felt later on. For the time being, however, the general feeling of relief afforded by definite knowledge regarding the grain and cotton crops, the money situation and the tariff bill, finds reflection in an evening up of short commitments and investments buying of a more assured character. The mildly reactionary course of general business tends to reassure banking interests with regard to the supply of money but it should be remembered that the money market has yet to undergo the test imposed by the crop moving period.

TO SAVE CHILD

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" Exposes His Identity To A Watchful Detective

The name "Alias Jimmy Valentine" the bank burglar with fingers so sensitive that he can open a vault by the sense of touch, without knowledge of the combination, has become a household word throughout the country, although the play in which he figures has been seen in a few cities only. Great has been the success of Paul Armstrong's play by that name in its two years in New York at the historic Wallack's Theatre. The country-wide reputation of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" has emanated hitherto largely in the favorable reports of the play sent out from the eastern metropolis. The famous play is being sent on tour by the Klark-Urban Company and local theatre-goers will have a chance to see him at the Opera House tonight, when they will commence a six-night and Saturday matinee engagement. "Alias Jimmy Valentine" is not a crook in the play. His bank looting days are supposed to have passed by the first time we meet him in Sing Sing prison. He has met "the girl", "fallen for the decent girl" game as one of his pals expressed it and his one ambition is to keep clear of the police and to live an honest life. This is not an easy thing for Jimmy. The police still have "something on him" for crimes committed in the past and it is only by outwitting them completely as to his identity that Jimmy manages to keep out of their clutches. Finally, in one of the most thrilling scenes staged in recent years, Jimmy is forced to reveal his true identity in the presence of the girl he loves and the detective that has been on his track. The above play will be produced with all special scenery and electrical effects the same as the original production. Seats now on sale at Ryan's Drug Store.

MANY SPORTSMEN OFF TO THE WOODS

The Earl of Kingston, a Noted Big Game Hunter Will Spend Some Mos. on the Miramichi

The season for shooting big game opened this morning and promises to be one of the most successful in years. Many non-resident sportsmen are already in the woods and the number will likely be considerably swelled during the coming week.

The Earl of Kingston, whose arrival from Ireland was noted in The Mail on Saturday, will leave this evening for the headwaters of the Little Southwest Miramichi, where he expects to remain until the first of the year. The Earl is a most enthusiastic sportsman and has made a number of successful hunting trips to Africa, and has many elephants, lions, etc., to his credit. On his last trip he was charged by a wounded lioness but by a fortunate shot killed the beast just as it was about to spring upon him. He has hunted caribou in Newfoundland and this is his second hunting trip to New Brunswick. The Earl served in the Boer war with the Connaught Rangers and for several years was an officer in the Irish Guards.

OTHER SPORTSMEN.

A party composed of F. C. Baker of Boston, H. J. Jones, Adam Schmidt and Thomas C. Love of Newport, are at the Queen en route to Little River, where they will hunt under the guidance of Harry Allen.

Another party at the Queen today is composed of Charles C. Cochrane, John B. Crape, T. M. Bunch, C. W. Rothern and D. G. Stewart, all of Williamsport, Pa. They are en route to Doaktown, where they will hunt at Senator Cochrane's camps with Thomas Weaver as guide.

Mr. Charles S. Hibbard and John D. Sellers of Philadelphia, are at the Queen en route to the Miramichi to hunt big game. They have engaged William Griffin of Stanley, as guide.

Mr. G. Bidlake of The Newcastle Advocate, is in the city.

Mr. Frank P. Doody of St. John is in the city for the exhibition.

MEXICANS CELEBRATE INDEPENDENCE DAY

City of Mexico, Sept. 15.—Foreign flags are profuse among the decorations put up in the Mexican capital in anticipation of the national independence day, but as was to be expected, the American flag is conspicuous by its absence. Thus far nothing in the way of disorder has been reported and the authorities declare that none is expected, though they are taking extraordinary precautions in view of the widely circulated reports that anti-American demonstrations were being planned.

The time-honored custom of repeating the Grito of Hidalgo will occur shortly before midnight tonight, when President Huerta will appear in the central balcony of the palace to ring the independence bell. The ceremony will usher in the celebration of Mexican independence day. Tomorrow, after the civil ceremony at Chapultepec, the President will review the military parade.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS TO MEET

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Prominent manufacturers of Ontario and the West are rounding up here preparatory to departing by a special train for Halifax, where the forty-second annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is to be held the early part of this week. From all accounts the meeting will be one of the largest and most successful in the history of the association. A tour of the Maritime Provinces will be included in the program.

SECOND TRIAL OF ACCUSED DOCTOR

Springfield, O., Sept. 15.—Dr. Arthur B. Smith, formerly a physician in high standing in this city, will this week be placed on trial for the second time on a charge of having murdered his wife by giving her a cup of cocoa containing cyanide. The alleged victim died March 18, 1912. Some months later Dr. Smith married Miss Mabel Merchant at her home in Newton, Mass. Miss Merchant had previously been associated with Dr. Smith as a nurse. Neighborhood gossip caused the authorities to begin an investigation. The remains of the first Mrs. Smith were disinterred and a medical examination made. As a result Dr. Smith was indicted on a charge of first degree murder. The first trial was held last spring and resulted in a jury disagreement.

MASSACHUSETTS LABOR FEDERATION

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 15.—Representatives of the labor bodies of Massachusetts, comprising a total of about 300 assembled in this city today for the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor. Mr. B. S. Moffet of Amherst, N. S., arrived on Saturday to join Mrs. Moffet, who for some weeks has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neill.
