SPORTSMEN PAY TRIBUTE TO GUIDE BRAITHWAITE

The following extracts from letters received from sportsmen in the United States and England in connection with the testimonial presented to Mr. Henry Braithwaite, will be read with keen interest by friends of the veteran guide:

FROM MR. MARTINDALE.

Mr. Thomas Martindale, sportsman and civic reformer of Philadelphia, wrote as follows:

"I am glad that you and others are to do honor to our grand old man, Henry Braithwaite. It is better now when he is in the flesh than to put flowers on his grave when he is gone. Henry will enjoy the occasion as well as his friends." "All who joy must share in happiness was born a twin." "Give him my ardent wishes for a long life."

A GLOWING TRIBUTE.

Mr. Dale Burnstead of Chicago, representative of the Dupont Powder Company, wrote as follows:

"Mrs. Burnstead and I are anxious to contribute our mite to the Christmas celebration which is to mark your sixtieth anniversary as a guide and trapper."

"You are already richer than most men in all that is really worth while that is the love and regard of your friends and all who have ever known you are your friends. The little check is nothing but it carries a depth of feeling comparable with any that you receive, larger or smaller."

"Though our trail may lead us into many strange lands, with other guides to cut the blazes, we can never forget kindly, big-hearted, resourceful Uncle Henry and his trails on the Miramichi. We doubt if we shall ever have a more delightful vacation than that spent some years ago following the blazes that you cut so long ago."

"You are also to be congratulated upon having in the sixty years that have past, had more and closer association with God's great out-of-doors than falls to the lot of even the most fortunate of men, save only those copper-colored friends of ours, many of the best of whom have already passed to the happy hunting grounds."

"Since we hunted with you in New Brunswick, our trail has taken us into British Columbia, Yukon and Alaska, but we have never forgotten the lessons we learned on the Miramichi. . . . May your trail still lead through pleasant places, and may good friends gather around your camp fires and learn your wisdom for many, many moons and many snows."

FROM MR. C. D. BUTLER.

Mr. Charles D. Butler, a veteran sportsman of Pittsfield, Mass., wrote as follows:

"I am pleased to know that you are getting up a token for our esteemed friend, Mr. Braithwaite. I hereby enclose check for twenty-five dollars to this worthy cause. May he have many more years to his credit."

FROM LORD HAWKE.

Lord Hawke, the celebrated English cricketer, writes:

"I well remember a very pleasant shooting trip with Henry Braithwaite and gladly enclose two guineas towards his testimonial. I was delighted to hear that he is still on the trail. I was in Montreal three weeks ago and regret that I did not have time to take another trip with my dear old friend."

FROM MR. PULITZER.

Mr. Ralph Pulitzer of the New York World, who has made several hunting trips with Mr. Braithwaite, wrote as follows:

"As a member of the Braithwaite testimonial committee, I am writing you personally to express the great pleasure it gives me to contribute my small share to what I hope will be a generous total. Nobody deserves such a sign of the esteem of those who know him better than dear Uncle Henry. When you see him give him my best regards and those of my wife."

A DELIGHTED SPORTSMAN.

Mr. F. G. Waterer of Surrey, England, wrote as follows:

"I am enclosing my mite towards the Braithwaite testimonial. I have never sent out anything that gives me greater pleasure. The week I spent with him was worth going to Canada and back twice for. Tell him that every time I look at my moose I think of him."

FROM AN OLD FRIEND.

Mr. P. N. Graham of Goldaming, England, who hunted with Mr. Braithwaite many years ago, wrote as follows:

"I have pleasure in sending my mite towards the Braithwaite testimonial. I wish I could be present at the presentation. It must surely be a source of gratification to Braithwaite to know he has made so many friends among his clients and is held in such great esteem by his fellow citizens."

FROM MR. DAVIS.

Mr. R. G. Davis of New Haven, Conn., wrote as follows:

"Your communication as to our old friend and guide, Uncle Henry Braithwaite, is received and I am pleased to be counted as one of his friends, which I certainly have been from the first moment I met him at the station on arrival in Fredericton. I will always remember his first greeting and we were fast friends before we reached the hotel. Men of his kind are fewer than they should be, and we old fellows appreciate meeting them. Nothing would give me more pleasure than to do it over again. If you meet Charlie and George Love, guide and cook assigned to me by Uncle Henry, kindly remember me to them for two nicer fellows never attended a hunter and I have had a lot of experience in the Rockies, Wyoming, Montana, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Maine. These two men are above reproach and will always stand in my memory with Uncle Henry as the best friends it has been my privilege to meet. Three cheers for the bunch."

FROM MR. WILLIAMS.

Mr. Homer D. Williams of Duquesne, Pa., writing on behalf of himself and Messrs. W. A. Stanton, C. E. Dinkley and John Unger, said:

"There is nothing that we know of that we would sooner subscribe to than a testimonial to 'Uncle Birthright.' We have all had many a pleasant day in his camps under his guidance and nothing but pleasant memories remain of our hunting trips in New Brunswick. Many a time, when we get together we wonder how Uncle Henry is getting along and how all our friends are in Fredericton. All the hardships and vexations of those trips have been forgotten and only the pleasant memories remain, and we can never forget the splendid treatment that we have received from the soldiers and citizens of Fredericton."
