THAW'S LAWYERS WON ANOTHER VICTORY

Messrs Greenshields and LaFlamme Secured a Writ of Habeas Corpus in Montreal and Rushed it to Coaticook by Special Train--Board of Enquiry Had Ordered Thaw's Deportation to Vermont --Ten Days Respite For Him

Coaticook, Sept. 5.—Harry K. Thaw will be produced before the full King's Bench, appeal side, at Montreal, on the morning of Sept. 15.

Meantime he may be detained here or at Sherbrooke or taken to Montreal on a moment's notice, at the discretion of the immigration authorities. Two of his counsel, J. N. Greenshields and N. K. LaFlamme, obtained a double written habeas corpus and prohibition at Montreal today and whirled a special train into Coaticook, where not long before the immigration authorities had ordered Thaw's deportation from the Dominion.

Counsel for Thaw, who has remained in Coaticook, had announced that the writ was returnable forthwith and a special train was made up to take the prisoner to Montreal tonight. A great crowd collected at the station where Thaw was confined and it was not until eight o'clock that it became known that he might remain here several days because the writ is not returnable until Sept. 15.

TEN DAYS' RESPITE FOR THAW.

There were cheers when the writ arrived and more cheers whenever Thaw's face appeared at the window of the detention room. When the special train pulled out for Montreal without Thaw aboard there were cries of disappointment, then more cheering when the news got abroad that for Thaw the new move meant ten days' delay.

Not only by the writ secured in Montreal but by the action of his attorneys an appeal did Thaw today break his deportation.

In addition he had the pleasurable knowledge that his old enemy, William Travers Jerome, had been arrested, charged with gambling.

GROUND OF APPEAL.

Messrs. Greenshields and N. K. LaFlamme in their argument, attacked the constitutionality of the Colonial Immigration Act on the grounds that it was a contravention of the natural law granting to every one the right of free locomotion; on the grounds that it was abusive in character as it tended to take away the remedies under common law—remedies which were secured under the Magna Charta, and because in the Thaw case it had been abusively made use of by the immigration officials in that they had seen fit to sit on a board of enquiry without any complaint having been lodged with the minister of the interior, in accordance with the prescriptions of law.

Attorneys, in the second place, argued the unconstitutionality of the Immigration Act. By that legislation, they represented, the federal authorities had seen fit to attempt to interfere with provincial rights; and legislation on civil rights, in accordance with the prescriptions of the British North America Act fell under the exclusive jurisdiction of the province.

DEPORTATION SAVED OFF.

Coaticook, Sept. 5.—Harry K. Thaw blocked deportation from the Dominion of Canada today by two moves and, in addition, had the pleasurable knowledge that his old enemy, William Travers Jerome, had been arrested, charged with gambling. Tomorrow, by virtue of a writ obtained by his lawyers, Thaw may be in Montreal for another court battle.

If ever a little town produced "sensations," Coaticook did today. First came Jerome's arrest and release on bail.

THE MARKET ON DULL SIDE

The Dealings Today Were Largely in so Called Specialities

Large Interests Are in Favor of a Comparatively Dull and Stable Market

New York, Sept. 6.—Today's Stock Market was dull and featureless, with dealings largely to the so-called specialties. There was no disposition to make commitments over the week end, the absence of anything in prospect to stimulate activity of any character being felt.

The street expected a very unfavorable bank statement but with the present small volume of speculation and the comparatively evening up position of the market the position of the banks for the time being was not expected to be an important feature. Large interests are said to be in favor of a comparatively dull and stable market which would tend to emphasize the tendency of investors to buy good stocks.

CORNER-STONE OF MARYSVILLE METHODIST CHURCH LAID TODAY

The corner-stone of the new Methodist Church at Marysville, which is being built upon the site of that destroyed by fire in 1911, was laid this afternoon. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of the citizens of Marysville and was attended by several of the Methodist clergymen of this section and by clergymen of other denominations.

The corner-stone was laid by Rev. G. F. Dawson, president of the New Brunswick & Prince Edward Island Methodist Conference. He was assisted by Mr. Alexander Gibson, Ex-M.P. of Marysville, who represented the late Alexander Gibson, his father who built the original church and donated it to the Methodist Conference. Others who assisted at the ceremony were Messrs. Alfred Rowley and W. Temple Day, who were present at the dedication of the first church and represented respectively the Quarterly and Trustee Boards.

Mr. A. C. Higgs of Nappan, N.S., is contractor of the new edifice, which is to be of wood. The building committee is composed of Messrs. P. C. Jackson, Richard Staples and Geo. Eno.

The service in connection with the laying of the corner stone was conducted by Rev. Thomas Hicks, pastor of the Marysville Methodist congregation, assisted by Rev. Mr. Dawson. Other clergymen present were Rev. Neil McLaughlan of Fredericton, chairman of the district; Rev. Geo. Steel, superintendent of missions; Rev. Chas. Flanagan of Gibson, Rev. Mr. Pincombe, Main Street Baptist church, Marysville; Mr. H. McLellan of the Olivet Baptist church, Marysville, and Mr. Henry Smith, Marysville Reformed Baptist church.

Addresses were delivered by several of the clergymen and appropriate hymns were sung, accompanied by the Marysville Brass Band.

It is expected that the new church will be occupied during the winter, a good start already having been made upon its construction.

HOT ELECTION IN MAINE

Third Congressional District will choose a Member on Monday.

The Three Political Parties Have Candidates in the Field and all Are Confident of Success

Augusta, Me., Sept. 6.—The most exciting political campaign ever known in the Third Congressional District of this state came to an end today. On Monday the special election will be held to select a successor to the late Representative Goodwin. The contest is between William R. Pattangall, Democrat, John A. Peters, Republican, and Edward M. Lawrence, Progressive. The Socialists and Prohibitionists also have named candidates, but they are not expected to cut much figure in the results.

That the contest is regarded as of far more than local importance is evidenced by the fact that the three leading parties have sent some of their best speakers, all men of national reputation, into the campaign. The importance of the contest is easily understood. Coming while the new tariff law is in the making and when Congress is preparing to put through a new currency bill, a Democratic victory will be regarded as a strong endorsement of the Wilson administration. If the Progressives should win, it would mean that the new third party must be seriously reckoned in all political contests of the future, while a Republican victory, on the other hand, would be taken as evidence that the breach between the factions is disappearing.

Each of the three parties regards the district as excellent fighting ground. Last year the district was carried by the late Congressman Goodwin, Republican, over Samuel W. Gould, Democrat, the then sitting member, by a plurality of 709. There was no Progressive candidate. Mr. Roosevelt, however, received in November more than 11,000 votes to about 5,000 for Mr. Taft in the district and ran only 272 votes behind Mr. Wilson.

MR. PINDER PROTESTS AGAINST BRIDGE JOB

Tells Premier Flemming in Plain Language What He Thinks of It--Members of Government Lack the Back-bone to Curb Morrissey--Premier Promised to Lay the Matter Before the Executive on Tuesday--Public Sentiment Aroused up by exposures made by this journal of the home, Mr. J. K. Pinder, M.P.P. and prospective Tory candidate for the federal parliament, has been compelled to interest himself in the Fredericton bridge job, with a view of putting a stop to the reckless waste of public money now going on. Mr. Pinder is credited with some practical knowledge of bridge building and he knows as everybody knows that a colossal blunder was made when the Fredericton bridge job was let to a Yankee concern without tender and our own contractors were ignored. The matter has been causing him no little uneasiness of late, but it was not until he read The Mail's article on Wednesday evening that he made up his mind to get busy. He was in the city on that day, as was also Premier Flemming, and he made the bridge the subject of a very breezy interview with the premier. Mr. Pinder was mad clear through and when he is in that condition he is not overly particular as to the kind of language he uses. He told the sanctimonious prime minister that the bridge job was a damnable outrage and he was surprised that the government should have got into such a scrape.

"There is not," said Mr. Pinder with great heat, "a d— one of you with backbone enough to stand up to Morrissey and put him in his proper place."

He went on to say that he could not talk as glibly as some of them, but he could make himself understood and if he were a member of the government he would not allow Morrissey to do as he saw fit. He said a whole lot more things and used such strong language that he actually frightened the premier. Mr. Flemming rubbed his hands and tried to pacify the indignant member for York, but the old man was not in a mood for taking any soft soap. Finally the premier told him that a meeting of the government was to be held next Tuesday and he promised to have a statement of the cost of the work to date laid before the executive together with an estimate of what it will cost to finish the work.

YORK MEMBERS BLAMED.

Mr. Pinder gave the premier to understand that the members for York were being blamed for this extravagant expenditure and intimated that he did not propose taking any share of the responsibility. He was greatly worried for fear that it would be made an issue in the approaching federal bye-election but the premier assured him that the matter would be straightened out. In other words, this means that he has fooled the people before and thinks that it can be done again.

A PER CENTAGE BASIS.

Nobody appears to know just what arrangement has been made by the government with the Foundation Company, Limited, for the construction of the bridge pier, as the work was not put up to public competition. The men who built the other piers of the bridge and did good work at that were never asked to tender and it is a most unfortunate thing for the province that this is so. Any one of them would have been glad to have been awarded the contract for one-half what it is going to cost the province under the unbusinesslike arrangement entered into by the government.

OLD PIER COST ABOUT $9,000.

The old draw-pier, which was swept away by ice last spring, was built by Mr. C. J. B. Simmons of this city, at a cost of less than ten thousand dollars. Mr. Simmons did not employ a force of divers, he did not have a day and night crew, he did not have four steam-boilers and several derricks on the job, he did not have men carrying water from a spring half a mile away, but the pier which was built would have been standing today had the government gone to the additional expense of $1000 or $1500 in providing it with some protection from the ice. As before stated, this pier cost less than ten thousand dollars, which is a good deal less than the new one is going to cost. Practical men say that if the government pulls out of this scrape with an expenditure of less than fifty thousand dollars they will be greatly surprised. As to the Foundation Company Limited, it is generally supposed that they are doing the work on a percentage basis. The government has agreed to pay all the bills and when the work is completed the company will receive so it is understood, an amount equal to fifteen per cent, of the cost of the work. Under this very businesslike arrangement, it will be manifestly in the interests of the company to have the work cost as much as possible. For instance, if it cost fifty thousand dollars they would get $7,500, while if the cost should run up to $100,000

WEEK END MARKET WAS VERY LARGE

The market this morning was the largest of the season and Phoenix Square between the hours of eight and ten o'clock, presented a very animated appearance. All of the space on three sides of the City Hall was occupied and teams extended quite a distance down Queen street.

All kinds of country produce of a most attractive quality were offered for sale and fairly satisfactory prices were obtained. A stranger who made an inspection of the market, was heard to remark that the vegetables were the finest he had ever seen.

The apple crop this year is almost a failure but some good specimens found their way into the market this morning. They were chiefly Astrachans, New Brunswickers and Maidens Blush and brought from $1 to $1.50 per bushel.

Potatoes were plentiful and of splendid quality. In fact, it has been a great year for potatoes and they are all good. They retail in the market for $1 per barrel.

Lamb sold this morning from $1.10 to $1.50 per hindquarter and forequarters sold for $1. A few chickens brought $1 to $1.25 per pair and ducks brought the latter price.

Other varieties of produce sold as follows:—eggs per dozen, 30c.; butter per lb., 28c.; beans per peck, 25c.; cucumbers per dozen, 20c.; corn per dozen, 15c.; pork per lb., 10 to 12c.; beef per lb., 7 to 9c.; veal per lb., 8 to 10c.; turnips per bbl., 75c.; cabbage each, 25c.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

James Greer, truckman, fell between the spokes of a wheel of his sloven last night when his horse made a sudden start and narrowly escaped serious injuries. Policeman William Saunders stopped the horse and Mr. Greer escaped with severe bruises on head and body.

ON A FISHING TRIP.

Mr. B. Thaw of Pittsburg, Pa., and his daughter, Miss Henrietta Thaw, are at the Barker House today en route to Cain's River on a fishing trip. They have engaged Mr. W. H. Allen as guide.

OVER THE DUMP.

A stranger with a small-sized auto had an interesting experience yesterday. He left the car near the Club House and just as he was about to enter the building it started up, went over the dump and turned turtle. With assistance he righted the car and restored it to the roadway without serious damage.
