Westminster Abbey to Be the Scene of a Royal Wedding Tomorrow

PREPARATIONS ABOUT COMPLETED

Princess Mary, Only Daughter of King George to Wed Viscount Lascelles—Will Promise to Obey Her Husband—Order of the Procession.

London, Feb. 26.—Although a daughter of Great Britain's sovereign Princess Mary will promise to "obey" her husband when she is married to Viscount Lascelles in Westminster Abbey on Tuesday. The wedding service will follow the Church of England prayer books order but the "revised exhortation" will be used. This has received the sanction of church authorities. Its wording, in some particulars is regarded as in better style than the old version.

Abbey authorities are finding themselves in the serious position of having no precedent for the forthcoming ceremonial. The last marriage of a child of a reigning monarch in this Abbey, that of Edmund Crouchback, second son of Henry III, to Aveline of Lancaster, took place 653 years ago. The customs of that time was deemed inappropriate for today.

It is expected the arrangements for the ceremony will closely follow this order; the 2,500 guests will begin to arrive at 10 o'clock so that all may be seated before 11. The king's gentlemen ushers will receive them, the foreign ambassadors and ministers being received by the master of ceremonies. Members of the royal family will arrive at about 11.10 o'clock, officers of the king's household conducting them to their seats.

The Bride and Bridegroom.

At 11.15 Viscount Lascelles and his groomsmen will arrive. At the same time Princess Mary will leave Buckingham Palace in an open carriage, weather permitting and accompanied by the king will drive by way of the Mall, Admiralty Arch, Whitehall and Parliament Square to the west door of the Abbey.

Five minutes before the arrival of the bride, which is timed for 11.30, the queen accompanied probably by the Duke of York, will have reached the Abbey.

The order of the royal processions inside the Abbey affords some idea of the spectacular side of the ceremony. The first will be that of the members of the royal family, led by the Queen Mother Alexandra, who, it is expected will have the Duke of Connaught for her escort. Then will come the procession of Queen Mary escorted by the Duke of York and Prince Henry. The third procession will be that of the bridegroom and his attendants and lastly will come Princess Mary on the arm of King George, followed by the bridesmaids.

The procession of the bride to the altar will be headed by the choir and will be followed by the gentlemen ushers, the stater, chamberlain, master of the household, Princess Mary, King George and the bridesmaids.

After the Ceremony.

After the ceremony, for which Princess Mary will use a beautiful prayer book, especially printed and illuminated for the purpose, the register

The Irish Situation is Looking More Hopeful; Important Conference

Delegates of the Provincial Government Meet Members of the British Cabinet at the Colonial Office—Discussions Said to Have Proceeded Smoothly—Churchill Will Make a Statement in the House.

London, Feb. 26.—The delegates of the Irish provisional government conferred for an hour and a half this afternoon at the colonial office with Winston Spencer Churchill, colonial secretary; Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland and Sir Laming Worthington Evans, secretary of war.

Both sides are reported to be taking a cheerful view of the situation. The discussions are said to have proceeded so smoothly from their commencement that Mr. Churchill was able to inform Premier Lloyd George, who had been in readiness for a call, that he need not disturb his week-end.

Arthur Griffith and his colleagues started on their return to Ireland tonight. Mr. Griffith after the conference said he was satisfied that the British government was standing by the terms of the treaty. Both Mr. Griffith and Mr. Duggan seemed hopeful that a healthier atmosphere would prevail because of the mutual recognition of each other's difficulties.

It is understood that Winston Churchill will make a statement in the house of commons on Monday or Tuesday on the results of the conference and announce that the free state bill will be proceeded with at once in committee of the commons.

The Ulster government has informed the imperial government that the investigation of the recent Clones disorders cannot be begun until seven Ulster constables, said to be still imprisoned, are released. Despite official assurances from Dublin, the Ulster government insists that five men are still held by the Irish Republican army as a result of the Clones affair, and that two men captured along the Donegal-Tyrone border are still being held. Sir James Craig, the premier, has taken the list of names to London.

The three special constables, captured during the kidnapping raid at Newtown-butler, were released last week.

CARD PLAYING IS DENOUNCED FROM PULPIT

Rev. Z. L. Fash Says Games of Chance Have No Place in Christian Life.

The series of sermons on "Popular Subjects" which Rev. Z. L. Fash is preaching at the George St. Baptist Church on Sunday evenings is attracting very large congregations. Last night the subject was Card Playing. Rev. Mr. Fash handled the subject dispassionately and courageously. The subject of the Prelude which he is giving each Sunday night before the sermon was "Motives That Elect A Pope." He announced that the subject of the prelude for next Sunday evening would be "What Has The Disarmament Conference Accomplished?" The idea of these prelates is to give the religious significance of Current Events.

The preacher began by saying that he wanted to give his views kindly honestly on the important subject of Card Playing. It is your right to agree or differ with me, but I hope you will be able to say when I am through tonight "God wills it."

The text is 1 Cor. 10-31 may be summarized in this phrase, "Do all to the glory of God". That is the test to which to bring Card Playing.

Said the preacher "you know that many of the mothers of this land do not want their children to play cards my mother saw the figure of Satan plainly printed on each card. The longer I live the more certain I am that she saw right."

Not Games of Skill.

"It is necessary to make a distinction in games. Because you rule out cards and dice it is necessary to rule out checkers, chess, quoits, baseball hockey foot ball, curling, croquet, ping pong and a lot of parlor and other games. But all games of chance should be ruled out. Games of dexterity and skill if properly conducted are not in the same class as cards and dice. Playing with cards leads to the worship of chance."

"It is a fact that cards have ruined many lives and that is against them. This is not surprising when you remember that they are the gambler's tools the burgler's kit by which he has robbed many. It does not take much brain power to play cards as the most illiterate are often the most successful players."

Not Necessary.

Does any one say "How could you have an evening party without cards? Well it can be done. It does not take brains to get up a whist party, but it does take intelligence and ingenuity to provide entertainment for an evening along social and intellectual lines."

Card playing because of its evil associations drives away from Jesus Christ. I go further and say that a truly devoted Christian will have no play cards. He cannot do it to the glory of God.

Low State of Spiritual Life.

The uncovered may induce the Christian's to play cards, but they have contempt for their weakness.

ARTHUR E. OLSSON RETURNED LOOT

Placed the Money in a Safety Deposit Box and Was Able to Pay Back Every Cent of It—Pleaded Guilty in Court to a Charge of Theft.

New York, Feb. 27.—Arthur E. Olsson, the 26-year old clerk said to have stolen $120,000 from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 1 Madison avenue pleaded guilty to-day to an indictment charging forgery in the second degree.

Assistant District Attorney Wallace told Judge Rosalsky that every cent of the $120,000 which had been placed in various safe deposit vaults had been recovered as the young man had not spent any of it.

Olsson whose address was 205 Prospect place, Brooklyn, continued on his clerk's salary and work at the office until his peculations were discovered last July. Mr. Wallace said Olsson intended to save the stolen funds until he had a quarter or a half million dollars and could live for the rest of his life in luxury and ease.

Three indictments were returned against the clerk, each charging forgery in the second degree. The indictment to which he pleaded to-day involved the theft of $18,000. Olsson was charged with forging the names of various officials of the company to checks and other papers that passed through his hands in the office.

John A. Kennedy Olsson's counsel asked that he be allowed to remain at liberty in the $10,000 bail now deposited. Judge Rosalsky denied the request and remanded Olsson to the Tombs for sentence to-morrow. The court said that in the proper enforcement of the law he could not permit a man who had confessed to the larceny of such an enormous sum to remain at liberty.

WILL HAVE TO BE CAREFUL

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Fred Peterson was adjusting his tie in his room in the Congress Hotel when a young woman raced in, threw her arms around him, and disappeared with his watch and $8.

"A young fellow can't be too careful," Peterson admonished in telling his tale to police.

whenever they do. It is not true that playing cards argues a low state of spiritual life? The higher you are up the smaller the things from the earth appear.

Does the playing of cards interfere with your spiritual life and your communication with God? Then you should not play cards as long as the world stands. If you can play cards for the glory of God, then play on. If you cannot play cards for the glory of God then you should not play them at all. The right kind of religion makes short work of card playing.

SAYS MYSTERY FIRES IN NOVA SCOTIA CAUSED BY WIRELESS

Halifax, Feb. 27.—C. B. Harris, wireless operator on the government steamer Stanley, offers a solution of the Antigonish fire mystery. Mr. Harris, who is one of the most proficient wireless men in the government service, has given the matter much serious consideration. He is a native of Antigonish and naturally deeply interested in the mystery.

For some time past Mr. Harris has been delving into the wireless art in order to ascertain if a connection between the fires in the McDonald household, and wireless waves could be established, and it is his opinion, after careful research, that there is a possibility of such being accomplished.

This, together with the ship's papers were seized and the captain, John Allen Williams, with his entire crew were taken into custody pending an examination before the United States Commissioner at Norfolk on Monday.
