ROCKEFELLER IS THE WORLD'S RICHEST MAN

HENRY FORD IS A GOOD SECOND

James A. Davis Comments on Statement Published by the Wall Street Journal.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Henry Ford is not the richest man in the world as the Wall Street Journal yesterday declared Rockefeller holds that place.

This was the opinion today of a nationally known financial authority James A. Davis author of the Illinois Securities act, and former financial guardian of the state. Mr. Davis recently resigned to become vice president of a larger motor car manufacturing concern in charge of its financing.

"Henry Ford has the Ford Motor company the largest income and, if capitalized the largest fortune in the world," said the Wall Street Journal.

"Profits before taxes for 1922 will exceed $125,000,000. After taxes they will be $110,000,000 about $100 a car. With these earnings the Ford Motor company could be capitalized at $2,000,000,000 and pay 5 per cent on the capital."

"Ford's income but with $180,000,000 in cash he is the largest individual banker in this country if not in the world."

"His income adding to his boundless wealth $500,000 a day through the busy season is probably unequalled in all history."

"In the first place the Wall Street Journal erred in assuming that a man's wealth may be capitalized on the basis of his earnings and I don't think the paper was entirely serious when it did so," Mr. Davis declared. "A contract or business may be capitalized but not earning power. There is no question but that Henry Ford has been making an enormous amount of money and has a wonderful organization but it's pure speculation to guess as to a man's worth in dollars," he said.

"Surpasses Ford." "If that were done," he went on "things to be taken into consideration would be his past record his reliability, his experience as a trained thoughtful financier and shrewd business man. In all these things and I think most people will agree John D. Rockefeller far surpasses Ford. Rockefeller's whole business experience has been a careful thoughtful one."

"Rockefeller, in the estimated value of his holdings in various concerns in which he is interested has an infinitely greater wealth than Ford is known to have," he declared. "The difference in the earning capacity and dependability of a man whose business began and grew through sheer ability shrewdness and foresight might be ten times as great as that of one whose career has been erratic."

"I don't think however that there is any other person whose wealth can compare with that of either Rockefeller or Ford. Morgan's personal wealth is comparatively small, the various syndicates which he controls of course command great sums."

BRACKEN IS OPTIMISTIC

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, who is here on his way West after attending the funeral of his father, stated last night that conditions in the west are exceedingly promising, owing to the bountiful harvest. The crop this year in Manitoba is the largest since 1915 when a bumper crop was harvested. While here Mr. Bracken attended the Lake of the Woods Control Conference between the U. S. and Canadian officials but would not comment on the matter. He was hopeful of the outcome of the Pas-by-election to be held on October 5, where he expects to win over three other candidates entered as independents.

Sunday Trains

The last Sunday C. P. R. trains for the season ran yesterday. It proved a popular service and there is no doubt but what they will run again next summer.

SAYS SHE WAS MARRIED AT POINT OF GUN

New York Woman Courtied, Wed and Parted, All in Three Hours.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Courtied, wed and parted within three hours last New Year's night, Mrs. Nellie Butterworth 4363 Emerald avenue, sought a divorce from Lyle Butterworth before Judge Harry B. Miller in the Superior court this morning.

"I had gone for a walk last New Year's evening and was returning home about 9.30 o'clock when I met Lyle," Mrs. Butterworth told the court at the prompting of her attorney, William S. McNamara. "He was driving and asked me if I would take a ride with him. He said he would drive me home. I had known him for several years and I said 'Certainly, I would be delighted.'"

"He said he would take me for a little drive before going to our house. It was a beautiful evening and we drove and drove away out into the country somewhere. Lyle stopped his car and said: 'I have something here I want to show you.' I asked him what it was and he took a marriage license. He showed me the license in the light of the moon and when I saw what it was I asked him what he got it for, and he said, 'We are going to be married.'"

"I was angry and told him that I would not marry him. I have told you so many times," I said.

"Oh, yes, you will," Lyle told me, for I have something here that will make you marry me. Let me show you this."

"Then he drew a revolver and held it to my side. I was scared to death, and I thought that if I told him that I would marry him and get back to the city I could get away from him."

"I guess he knew what I was thinking about, for he said, 'You will marry me now.' We drove to the home of a minister and woke him up. It was 11.45 p. m. when we were married."

"He drove me home and the next morning I told my mother. She said he ought to be prosecuted."

"The next time I saw him I told him to get the marriage annulled. He promised to, but every time I saw him after that he said he was so busy that he did not have time to get a divorce. We never lived together."

Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 25.—First Lieutenant Raymond E. Davis, United States army air services and eight enlisted men were killed when a huge Martin bombing plane crashed to earth at Mitchell field last night.

"Soon after leaving the field," a report said, "the plane passed out of the rays of the huge searchlights which had been arranged and used in the night manoeuvres. The plane approached a steep angle and then suddenly went into a nose dive."

There were no lights on the plane as it fell. The crash occurred some distance from the field.

Peace Conference To be Held at Venice In the Near Future

THE ALLIES AGREE TO CONCEDE ALL OF THE NATIONALIST PEACE TERMS—THE KEMALISTS MUST AGREE IN RETURN NOT TO ENTER THE PRESENT NEUTRAL ZONE ALONG THE STRAITS—FREE-DOM OF THE DARDANELLES.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The return of Turney to Europe was assured last night when Great Britain, France and Italy at the final session of the Allied conference unanimously agreed to concede all the Nationalist peace terms.

The Turkish claims to Eastern Thrace to the Maritza River and including the ancient Turkish capital of Adrianople were approved as peace terms that can be supported by France Great Britain and Italy in a joint invitation sent to Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Nationalist leader to a peace conference to be held at Venice at the earliest possible date.

The Kemalists must agree in return not to enter the present neutral zone along the straits, nor make any crossing elsewhere and must accept complete freedom of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus, preferably under the League of Nations.

KEMAL LIKELY TO ACCEPT

The invitation which was cabled last night by M. Poincare to Kemal Pasha personally urges an immediate meeting of the Allied and Turkish and Greek generals at Mudania to formulate terms of an armistice, pending the conference. It is regarded as virtually certain that Kemal will accept the conditions and a reply is expected from Smyrna in a day or two.

In addition to other concessions, Turkey is promised the support of the three Allies for admission to the League of Nations, and also withdrawal of the Allied troops from Constantinople so soon as peace becomes effective.

TEXT OF A NOTE

Following is the text of the joint note to Mustapha Kemal Pasha:

"The three Allied governments ask the government of the National Grand Assembly to be good enough to let them know if it is disposed to send without delay representatives with full powers to a meeting to be held at Venice or elsewhere and to which will be invited also with the representatives of Turkey, plenipotentiaries of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Roumania, Jugo-Slavia and Greece."

"This meeting will take place as soon as necessary arrangements are made by the governments concerned. The object of this meeting will be to negotiate and consolidate a final treaty of peace between Turkey, Greece and the Allied powers."

"The three governments take this opportunity to declare that they view with favor the desire of Turkey to recover Thrace as far as the River Maritza and including Adrianople."

"On condition that the Ankara government does not send armies during the peace negotiations into zones, the provisional neutrality of which has been proclaimed by the Allied governments, the three governments will willingly support at the conference attribution of these frontiers to Turkey, it being understood that steps will be taken in common agreement in the treaty to safeguard the interests of Turkey and her neighbors; to demilitarize with a view to the maintenance of peace in certain zones to be fixed; to obtain peaceful and orderly re-establishment of Turkey's authority and, finally, to assure effectively under the League of Nations maintenance of the freedom of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus as well as protection of religious and racial minorities."

"For the rest, the three Allied governments will willingly support the admission of Turkey to the League of Nations."

"They are in agreement in reaffirming their assurance, given in March last, that they will withdraw their troops from Constantinople as soon as the treaty of peace has entered into force."

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS

The premier declared at the outset he would make it clear that any action that had been taken had nothing to do with the merits or demerits of the case under dispute between Greece and Turkey. The British government, said the premier had been impartial as between the Greeks and the Turks. He pointed out that a few weeks ago the Greeks threatened to march to Constantinople, and at that time General Harrington the British general in chief command at Constantinople, had warned the Greeks in "identical terms as the warning now given to Mustapha Kemal Pasha."

GIRL AND MAN ARE HELD FOR BANK THEFT

Alleged to Have Stolen $30,000 in Securities From Montreal Bank.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—A girl of 20 and a man of 21 appeared before Judge Cusson in the criminal courts in connection with the theft of $30,000 in cheques and money orders from the Molson's Bank.

The girl Mina Robert alias Lapalme, was charged with receiving stolen goods. The man Jack Lacker of 17 Church street was charged with theft and conspiracy.

Enquete in both cases was set for Sept. 29. Lacker was allowed bail of $5,000. The girl was refused bail.

Acting on information. Detectives Gorman, Royal and Burns at six o'clock last night took Lacker into custody on a warrant charging him and two other men to be identified with the theft of the cheques and money orders. Four hours later the woman was arrested charged with receiving the stolen securities from the Molson's Bank.

W. W. Stavelly of the head office of the Molsons Bank told Judge Cusson that on August 11 last one of the bank automobiles carrying numerous cheques, express orders and other securities belonging to the bank had stopped in front of the branch of the Molson's Bank at the corner of St. Lawrence boulevard and Ontario streets.

When the messenger in charge of the automobile came out he found parcels containing $30,000 worth of money orders and cheques missing.

Detective Gorman who investigated the theft told Judge Cusson that active on information he had caused the arrest of the Lacker man and the Lapalme woman.

Lacker then addressed the court, stating that "I was with the men who stole the cheques. I have done by best to help the detectives get them back. The cheques were not negotiable."

The arrest of the couple it is alleged by the prosecution was caused by the woman cashing several of the stolen cheques and express orders at a downtown bank.

Mr. Stavelly told the court that a few of the stolen cheques and money orders had been recovered but the majority were still missing.

SPENDTHRIFT HEIRESS HAILED BEFORE COURT

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Whether it is decorous as well as thrifty for a woman to take off some of her outer clothes when it rains is the question twelve Englewood jurors must answer tomorrow when Mrs. Marian P. Gilman-Dresler-Cook, Drexel boulevard's "spendthrift heiress," comes up for trial.

Judge Theodore F. Ehler of the Englewood court was to have done the answering today, but he frowned so that Mrs. Gilman-Dresler-Cook asked for a jury trial. Kenneth B. Terry, who was with the heiress when she was arrested for leaving most of her clothing at home while she crossed Drexel boulevard in a thunderstorm, also preferred jury to judge.

Mrs. Cook appeared in court with a prim hat, a sombre dress and a lawyer named Rollo, but these seemed not to impress the court.

"Haven't I seen you before," the judge demanded of Terry.

"I should say so," Terry replied. "Had you up here just a week ago, didn't I for trying to get into some apartment?"

"Yes."

"Whose apartment?" Terry indicated Mrs. Cook, the judge looked severe and Attorney Rollo moved for a jury trial.

He Who Laughs Last

Three flappers tried to kid a youth at a Queen Street soda fountain. "Sweets for the sweet" they giggled as they stood watching his painstaking efforts to make three handsome sundaes. "Yes, that is true, but just now I am placing nuts on these sundaes," remarked the boy.

LIBERALS AND PROGRESSIVES MAY UNITE

CLOSER ALLIANCE IS LOOKED FOR

Both Parties Want Parliament Consulted on the Near East Situation.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The Near East crisis has placed the seal of certainty upon a close alliance between the Liberals and the Progressives in the next session of Canada's fourteenth parliament. This fact has emerged from telegraphic activity and personal conference in this city during the last six days.

In addition to Hon. T. A. Crerar leader of the Progressives in the house of commons Hon. A. B. Hudson, now known as liaison officer between the government party and Mr. Crerar's spent last Friday and Saturday here, and his presence is far from being without significance.

True he had a lengthy conference with J. B. Cahillies the chief of the water powers branch of the government on the Lake of the Woods situation about which there was a conference of premiers last week and Mr. Hudson gave and obtained much valuable information. But he also learned something of the political situation.

Mr. Hudson it is learned is in thorough accord with the views expressed by Mr. Crerar in the statement the latter issued to the press late Friday night on the European situation. He with Mr. Crerar believes that parliament should first be consulted before the government decides to send troops to oppose the Turks and that the people should be given the fullest information as to what participation in the conflict by Canada would involve.

More important that the accord between the leader of the Progressives and the man who it is believed has done much to pave the way for a more cordial entente between the government and the western members is the conviction which it is understood is now shared by them and by the prime minister that the movement which began amongst the electorate this summer has been fruitful to an astonishing degree, and that nothing now can prevent this desire on the part of the electors and elected for more stability in the government of the country from being fully satisfied next session.

Not that either concedes the other to have a monopoly of political efficiency or virtue but it is held by both that a closer understanding will make possible a more resolute and effective administration of the country's affairs and avoid a repetition of what many times last session proved to be needless and costly uncertainty and compromise.

NON RESIDENT SPORTSMEN ARE NOW ARRIVING

Bathurst, Sept. 23.—Reports from different sections of the province are to the effect that large numbers of non-resident game hunters are this year taking advantage of the special hunting licenses which give them the privilege of going after moose, caribou and deer fifteen days ahead of the regular opening of the season. Several parties arrived in Bathurst and went into the woods just so soon as they could obtain these licenses, which were issued by the official vendor, W. F. Pepper. Those who have already gone into the woods are W. W. Schneckenburger, of Buffalo, N. Y., and E. A. Diefenbach, of East Orange, N. J., who are under the guidance of Joseph Gray and his staff; George M. Pettee, George Vandepool and Dr. L. R. Worrell, of New York state, who are up with Thomas Vineau; and H. S. Fischer, of Hyndman, Pa., and C. W. Haffa, of Lancashire, Md., who are under the care of William Gray, sr.

No local hunters have been keen enough to pay the extra fee required to enable them to go into the bush earlier than the opening of the regular season, Oct. 1, but as game is plentiful it is likely that there will be a good season beginning on that date.
