

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

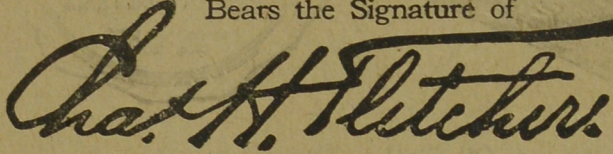

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN

USEFUL HINTS.

Lemon rinds are excellent for bleaching dishcloths and tea towels.

Chopped walnut meats are delicious in orange tapioca.

If the lids of pound lard substitute cans are enameled in white and stenciled they make unique tea glass coasters for the Summer porch.

When making lemonade add the sugar to the water before adding the lemon juice or ice. Your lemonade will not require so much sugar.

If small pieces, such as napkins, soft collars and handkerchiefs, are ironed on top of the sheets, there is a great saving of time and electricity.

When making spice cake mix spices and stir to a paste with a little boiling water. The hot water takes away the raw taste of the spice in the cake.

STYLE POINTS.

Gold lace appears on many of the new hats and gowns. It must be handled with care and worn only on dress occasions. Like many fashions it is probably doomed to an early demise because of too great popularity and indiscriminate use.

Many of the new jackets are quite Victorian in effect. They are short and loose fitting with wide sleeves growing wider toward the hand and fronts meeting or lapping over slightly. The word "sack" seems to fit them very precisely.

Big hats must be included in every wardrobe if a style standard is adhered to. The Oriental toque is enormously popular but the big hat frames the face so beautifully that it takes ten years off a woman's age—a point which very few are likely to overlook.

PRESERVE, WHILE

THERE'S TIME.

This is the time of year in prepare spiced and pickled fruits. Here are some recipes for doing so:

SPICED PLUMS.

Make a syrup allowing one pound of sugar to one of plums and to every three pounds of sugar a scant pint of vinegar. Allow one ounce each of ground cinnamon, cloves mace and allspice to a peck of plums. Add the spices to the syrup and pour boiling over the plums. Let these stand three days then skim them out, and boil down the syrup until it is quite thick and pour hot over the plums in the jar in which they are to be kept. Cover closely.

GINGERED PEARS.

To eight pounds of pears chopped very thin, allow four pounds or less of sugar, one cup of water the juice and thin yellow rind of four lemons (be sure they are not bitter) and one eight pound of more of green ginger root, scraped and cut in thin slices. Bring the sugar and water to a boil add the fruit ginger and lemon then simmer three quarters of an hour or until the consistency of an hour or until the consistency of marmalade.

TRANSMUTATION.

We read our old love letters
Those flames of youth's bright fire
And then with slow reluctant hand
We laid them on their pyre.

But nothing's lost in love's dear world
Nor wasted whole or part
We felt the warmth we'd once poured out
Flood back to each glad heart.

YOU MAY HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE
AND NOT KNOW IT.

If your back aches and you suffer from dragging pains, it is an evidence your kidneys may not be acting just right. What you need is a course with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of both Mandrake and Butternut and act very beneficially upon the liver and kidneys. "I was bothered a great deal with my kidneys, but got quick relief from Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My trouble manifested itself by pain in the back and by constant headache. I quickly recovered after using a few boxes of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They brought me health, strength and vigor." Sold everywhere, 25c. or The Cattaraugus Co., Montreal.

ONE WAY TO DEAL WITH THE GOSSIPERS

In a current popular magazine in a story by that master interpreter of human nature, Governor Morris, there is a passage so entirely applicable to the inhabitants of every small town that The Observer quotes it for the benefit of its readers:

"...But a very large percentage of every Anglo-Saxon population is composed of persons who spend a good deal of their time in putting evil constructions upon the actions of other people. And of course the gossip about Ellen and Terry was meat and drink to them. To strip from Ellen the reputation which she had always enjoyed even among themselves was the work of an instant. To acquaint Ellen's father with the 'facts' was the agreeable task of a committee of the 'Mothers' Club' appointed for the purpose. It was obvious but true that the president of the club, who now acted as chairman of the sub-committee, had never had a child or a husband.

"Mr. O'Brien listened to what she had to say—and the committee listened. Miss Gottlieb and the committee imagined that the veins which had begun to stand out on the O'Brien forehead were due to rage against Ellen. They believed that whatever they recommended to him he would do. They began to roll their tongues.

"Mr. O'Brien listened to their slanderous deductions and to their Mid-victorian recommendations without speaking a word. Then, Miss Gottlieb having finished her speech and emphasized the committee recommendations, he advanced one single step and began to quiver and shake as if he were very cold.

"What other possible conclusion interrupted the chairman in her sharp, self-centred, self-righteous voice. The effort which Mr. O'Brien made to control himself should be described in Shakespearean words and printed in letters of gold. It was almost a success.

"To a bunch of dirty-minded, foul-mouthed ugly faced, childless, middle-aged hens there wouldn't be any other possible conclusion.... You spoil my daughter's life and you spoil mine. What do I care if I go to jail? I don't.... If you aren't out of my house and out of my yard in ten seconds, I'll take down the horse-whip yonder and cut your yellow, withered hides to ribbons." Good.

NEGRO WAS A QUICK THINKER

(Indianapolis News)

"Speaking of alibis," said Jim Bottorff, who prosecutes the cases of the state of Indiana in the Clark Circuit court at Jeffersonville, and has sometimes been troubled by alibis which he distrusted but could not disprove, "I knew an old negro once—well, he sure was a quick thinker. This negro used to deal with a grocer named John Burnside, who had a store just north of Jeffersonville. One night the negro crawled through a small hole, only made for chickens, and when he crawled out a chicken went with him. Next day Burnside picked up the negro's grocery account book near the place the chicken had been and was not. He silently handed out the book to the negro who came later to make a purchase, and then said, 'I found it in the chicken house, uncle.' 'Yes, sah, yes, sah; suah, sah. I've left it thar so's you could charge up the chicken, sah.'"

THE NEW IMPROVED TWO PASSENGER
HAYNES 55
ROADSTER

Style, reliability, value—these are the outstanding characteristics sought and attained by Haynes engineers and designers in the new, improved Haynes 55 Roadster.

Extremely modern and modish is the arrangement of individual fenders and individual aluminum steps, as well as the searchlight design of head lamps and cowl lights. Special compartments for luggage and parcels increase the utility, while the tested and supremely reliable Haynes-built light six engine furnishes an abundance of flexible power.

Like all Haynes cars of the present season, this smart 121-inch wheel base roadster is equipped with four cord tires and the exclusive Haynes electric button starting system, which represents the maximum refinement of convenience.

The genuine leather upholstery of the seats is another token of the superior manufacturing excellence throughout, which emphasizes the value at the low price of
