The Helcyon Days of Hon. H. R. Emmerson

A Moncton Newspaper Deals Effectively With a Flippant Remark in Parliament of Mr. R. B. Hanson, M. P.—Some Facts in Connection With Mr. Emmerson's Public Service Recalled.

(Moncton Transcript.)

During the debate on the address in the House of Commons at Ottawa on Wednesday when Mr. Harold Putnam, the Liberal representative of Colchester, N. S., was advocating that the headquarters of the Intercolonial Railway be brought back to Moncton from Toronto, and placed in charge of men familiar with conditions in the Maritime provinces, Mr. R. B. Hanson the Conservative member for York-Sunbury, broke in with a flippant remark about returning to "the helcyon days of H. R. Emmerson."

The late representative of Westmorland County, as is well known, carried out his duties faithfully and well. As a parliamentarian he was eloquent and forceful; as an administrator he was capable and progressive.

One of the outstanding characteristics of Hon. Mr. Emmerson's career was his courage and persistency in championing the right of the Maritime provinces in connection with the management and operation of the Intercolonial Railway.

Those were days of progress and contentment, and nowhere, perhaps, was this more apparent than in Moncton where magnificent shops for the Intercolonial and terminal facilities of the Transcontinental were established.

It is timely to recall some facts regarding Hon. Mr. Emmerson's services as Minister of Railways.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night.

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N. S., writes: "As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me."

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

Following the disastrous fire on February 24th, 1906, when the old railway shops here were destroyed, and uncertainty as to rebuilding prevailed he promptly assured the people of Moncton that the shops would be rebuilt in this city. And they were reconstructed here on a larger scale, although it was stated that a strong effort was made to have part of the shops at least transferred to Lewis.

Monctonians know well that Hon.
Mr. Emmerson was a true friend in Moncton's hour of gloom. His plans for the construction of greater shops were carried out. This city prospered and grew.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson was also a staunch friend of the employees of the Intercolonial, not only here but throughout the system. He introduced the Provident Fund plan on the government railways in the interests of retiring employees.

One of the progressive policies which Mr. Emmerson advocated was the acquisition of branch lines by the Intercolonial. He brought this question up in the Federal parliament and persisted in advocating it—a policy of much importance to the Maritime Provinces.

Not only the branch lines project but expansion and improvements of the government railway system—double-tracking, etc.—received his earnest attention and support.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, in those "halcyon days", worked not only in the interests of this constituency and the Maritime Provinces, but of the Dominion generally.

One might continue enumerating many other instances in which he rendered splendid service as legislator and administrator, both in provincial and federal capacities.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson ably championed the interests of the Intercolonial, as part of the Confederation agreement, and had the Conservative government acted in accordance with the principles he so steadfastly and effectively advocated conditions, undoubtedly, would not be what they are today.

Better indeed, to have the "halcyon days of H. R. Emmerson" than the muddle into which the government railways were plunged by those who were hurled out of office by the electors on December 6th.

AGNOSTIC JOINS CHURCH

New York March 27—John L.
Stoddard traveler, lecturer and an ardent pro German during the war who has been converted and admitted to church membership according to an announcement.

He was one of the few Americans who remained abroad at the outbreak of the war and he immediately identified himself with German propaganda becoming a strenuous opponent of Woodrow Wilson.

His wife divorced him in Boston in 1901 alleging desertion. Mrs. Stoddard was given custody of their child Theodore L. then 17 who has written several plays under the name of Lorimer Stoddard.

Rev. James A. Walsh superior of Maryknoll Seminary a Catholic foreign missionary institution made known the news of Mr. Stoddard's conversion, and admission to the Catholic Church by an announcement appearing today in press sheets of the National Catholic Welfare Council of Washington.

Fr. Walsh now in Rome told of the conversion taking place after a meeting with Mr. Stoddard who is over 70 at Meraz in the Tyrol. He said also that Mr. Stoddard has written a book explaining his religious experiences.

"In his home in Meraz he has been granted the extraordinary privilege of having the Blessed Sacrament reserved and his work for the faith is now regarded as the dominant note of his life."

After his divorce Mr. Stoddard's lecturing was less frequent and he devoted much of his time to writing travel books.

NEW USE FOR SAND GLASS

A new complement to the telephone dial on the house desk is the small hour glass or rather minute glass. This tiny glass is half full of sand and it takes just three minutes for the sand to run through from one end to the other.

By means of the glass one can tell when three minutes have elapsed for long distance calls. When the sand gets low in the upper compartment the conversation, generally speeds up and by the time it is all out the business at hand has been attended to.

The sand glasses are also used to time eggs that are being boiled.

Lloyd George's success is due to his ability to get in a punch while his opponents are sparring for wind.

perfected synthetic coal is probably the man who made that synthetic gold.

MILLINER TESTS GIRLS' EYESIGHT

(New York Sun.)

"You'd never think it necessary for a department store to test its employees for color blindness," said the employment manager. "But after many protests from the millinery department we adopted the same examination they give to railroad engineers."

"It seems they got some girls who couldn't tell the different shades of millinery ribbon. Several customers said they'd been cheated by being sold hats that went badly with their hair. Then we began the general color checkup."

Out in California they are going to grow flowers by sunlight during the day and by electric light at night, evidently having little faith in moonshine for this sort of thing. Moonshine is especially adapted for raising Cain, not posies.
