John Paris Trial Will Go Over the Week End

The Accused Was Subjected to a Lengthy Cross Examination by the Attorney General—Several Witnesses Swear That Paris Was in Truro on the Day the Crime Was Committed.

St. John, Sept. 30—John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley in Riverview Park, North End, on Aug. 2, 1921, left the witness stand in his fifth trial at 4.10 o'clock yesterday afternoon and gave place to Dr. Dexter McCurdy, of Truro, who testified that he saw Paris in Oscar Clyke's house in the island district of Truro on that date. Paris went on the stand at 4.50 on Thursday afternoon and was subjected to an exhaustive cross-examination by Hon. J. P. Byrne, the attorney-general, who devoted much time to the detection of discrepancies between present and previous evidence given by the defendant. Following Dr. McCurdy as a witness was George Hill, a young farmer of Onslow, three miles from Truro. Mr. Hill said that Paris was on his marsh on Aug. 3rd., 1921, and spoke to him about a place to pick mushrooms. The cross-examination of Mr. Marsh is to be taken up this morning by the attorney-general and G. H. Vernon, K. C., of Truro, counsel for Paris, will follow with four more witnesses. As Hon. Mr. Byrne expects to put on several witnesses in rebuttal, it will be practically impossible for the trial to end today. This means that the jury will be held over the week-end. Mr. Vernon said last evening that it was probable that in addition to the witnesses he will examine today he would have several others, providing the case does not close before Monday. The jury is staying at the Edward hotel.

Cross-Examination.

Paris was subjected to a gruelling cross-examination by the attorney-general, Hon. J. P. Byrne, as to his movements in Truro on August 2, 1921, and almost constant references were made to his testimony at previous trials. He persistently maintained that his memory had failed him considerably since the last trial because of what he had undergone, and chafed somewhat under the constant fire of questions and demands upon his memory.

The accused, on cross-examination by the attorney-general, identified Conductor W. J. Capson as the conductor of the train on which he had come from Truro on the night of Aug. 3. He identified Mrs. King of Sagwa as the lady in whose house he had been while fighting the Westfield fire. He admitted having told her that the St. John police force was to slow to catch the murderer, as it was very unlikely that the man would be in St. John then. He denied saying that he was one of the three men who found the body of the child. He admitted saying to Mrs. King that the fellow who buried the child made a mistake in putting the little stones on top of the big ones. He swore he could not write

THE WAY TO BE WELL

Good Health Maintained Through Rich, Red Blood.

There are many men and women who, every few weeks, have spells of weakness, during which time they are little better than invalids; yet at other times they feel very well. Why does their health fluctuate so?

In the case of men worry and overstrained nerves are usually responsible for this state of unfitness and inability to face the anxieties of daily life.

As for women, her back aches, she is dizzy with sick headaches, and often has stabbing pains in the side. The only real health is all-the-year-round health; and the secret of it is good, red blood and plenty of it. One way to keep the blood in good condition is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There is scarcely a nook or corner in Canada where someone will not be found who will tell you the benefit they have had through the use of these pills. And the reason is that through the improved condition of the blood they strengthen and tone up the nerves of worried, enfeebled men and women, and at the same time have given new vigor to pale, delicate girls and thin, weedy boys. The value of these pills in all run down conditions is shown by the statement of Mrs. Lawrence Brown, Walton, N. S. who says: "When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a weak, bloodless and nervous condition suffering from all the depressing symptoms that accompany this run down state of health. I had taken much medicine but it did not do me any good, and as I had a family of small children, I was much discouraged. Then reading about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I decided to try them, and I can honestly say that I feel these pills have saved me from prolonged misery. My health is now good, and we now keep the pills in the house for use as a family medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

a better hat. This hat had a similar bow to his.

He admitted from the evidence that little Sadie McAuley had been murdered. He said that he did not think one man could place the rock described in court over the child's body. If it took two men to lift it from the body, as Detective Power said it did he could not see how one man could roll it over the body. He was satisfied one man committed the crime from the evidence, but his own opinion was that it took more than one man to roll the large rock in the position already described. He did not think one man, if one man did it, would afterwards ask another man to help bury the body. One would not have to handle a body to know its weight, especially of a child if the age was known.

Afternoon Session.

Hon Mr. Byrne resumed the cross-examination of Paris at the opening of the afternoon session. Paris said he thought that Dr. McCurdy was at the Clykes house on the island from ten minutes to half an hour. He said good day or good morning to the doctor, and the physician spoke to him. They spoke about the sick man, Paris said that his memory had not improved since the last trial. Considerable time was taken up by questions relating to Paris' alleged movements in Truro on the night of August 2, 1921, while yesterday he said that he had a belief that he was up town on that evening. In other testimony at the April trial Paris according to the official report had said that he did not recall speaking to anyone at the Eastern Hat and Cap Company's office, when he presented the lawn mowing bill. He admitted that the April statement on this point was not true, as he had spoken to Mr. McNaught, the bookkeeper who testified on Thursday. Paris said he slept at the home of his grandmother in Truro on the night of August 2, 1921. On August 3 he gathered mushrooms morning and afternoon. He told Mr. Byrne that the reason he did not mention at the April trial certain names he now mentioned was because he did not think he needed all Truro to establish one fact.

AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?

HAVE you not said of your neighbour's place that it was littered with filth and forgotten to look around and clean up your own place?

GO at once, look over your home, and clean out all rubbish. GO to your barn and other buildings, clean up and see that hereafter they are kept clean.

HAUL away and burn all the old litter and watch the fire while you are doing it and see that it is out before you leave. IF your neighbour asks you what you are doing, tell him "cleaning up," and to go and do the same.

TELL him you are going to reduce insurance rates by reducing the fire hazard.

TELL him you are tired of helping to pay other people's loss, and that the insurance companies are not paying the losses but that it comes out of the pockets of the insured.

TELL him you are going to help reduce the per capita fire loss, which is $4.00 in Canada as against 33c in Europe.

TELL him if the Old Country can get cheap insurance by keeping things clean, you are going to do your part and ask him to do the same.

GET the men and women together in your community and have them organize for fire prevention.

ADVISE them to look after the chimneys and see that they are clean before putting up stoves.

SEE that ashes are not put in wooden boxes or barrels.

SEE that the merchants keep gasoline and coal oil in proper underground tanks.

SEE that straw or hay or other inflammable material is not piled against buildings.
