Lady Astor Wants Moral Standard Made Higher Talked at Baltimore

Baltimore, April 29—The big contribution that women can make to politics and National life is to face and tackle the moral standard, Lady Astor told a crowded mass meeting here at the National Convention of the League of Women Voters.

She pleaded with the women of America to insist upon the single standard of morality, "not by lowering their standard, but by raising men's standard to that of women."

She believed that if the mothers of France who have suffered so much had the vote and had learned how to use it, there would not now exist "the amazing French attitude at Genoa."

"That is one of the tragedies of France and threatens to be one of the tragedies of the world," she said. "Poor France, blinded by her suffering, can't see that the only way out is to look forward and not backward."

The first woman seated in the House of Commons, cheered continually to night, asked women to put into public life the qualities they "have had to put into their home life—unselfishness, cleanliness and kindness."

She told the women delegates that they were right not to make a new political party.

"You are equally right to try and lift and improve the platforms of both the big political parties by joining them," she added.

"See that you send neither windbags nor carpetbaggers to represent you."

Urges U. S. Join League

Repeating her appeal for America to join the League of Nations, Lady Astor recalled that the league was started by "America, or an American."

"Some seem to think of the starter and forget it was the high purpose of its people which gave the impetus which brought the league from America to Europe," she said.

"When we go for a great ideal we go for the ideal and not for the idealist. It's a principle we should follow, and not be sidetracked by a personality."

Then she reviewed the ailments of the world and the accomplishments of the league. It had already prevented three wars, she said, and registered more than 100 treaties. It had humanitarian sections dealing with health, labor conditions, opium, drug and white slave traffic. Each of these must surely find hundreds of thousands of women backers in the United States, she thought.

"We want your help inside the league to bring on backward countries whether it be to protect the world from war or from plagues or to protect young girls from what is worse than plagues," said the Viscountess.

Must Rectify Men's Mistakes

"We English-speaking women cannot live for ourselves alone and get peace. We can't even get happiness and I doubt whether we can get plenty. We must somehow rectify the mistakes of the stronger sex when left alone and we must do it soon."

"When America came into the war, Europe saw the dawn of a new hope—America in the war to end the wars. When America went out of the peace, Europe was dumfounded. Idealism took America into the war; idealism cannot take her out of the peace, no matter what the politicians say."

WORE SHOES AND SMILE AND CARRIED FLAG

Dedham, April 28—Clad only in a smile and a pair of shoes and carrying an American flag and smoking a pipe. Luther S. Berry 25 who gave his address as Boston was arrested by the Dedham police while parading along Maverick st. The police rushed to the scene in response to more than a score of horrified telephone calls from outraged citizens.

Throwing a blanket about him the police carried him back to the station where he was wrapped in blankets and examined. According to the police this is how it happened:

Yesterday Berry went to the headquarters of the American Legion and asked for a job as he had served in the war in the Navy. He was sent to the People's Palace to spend the night. This morning he determined to enjoy the beautiful weather and so went out to Dedham. After a time he came upon Meadow Brook, where he decided to wash his clothes.

After wringing his clothes dry he put on his shoes lit his pipe and carrying his wet clothes on his arm strolled over into a neighboring cemetery where he is thought to have appropriated a flag from a grave.

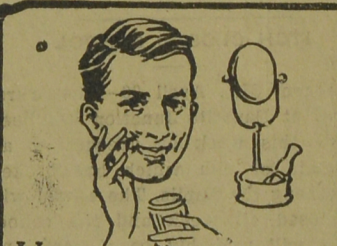

Then serenely happy he strolled off toward the heart of the town. His way lay through a fairly well settled portion of the town and he must have passed more than 100 residences before the police arrived.

He was examined by Medical Examiner Dr. Andrew Hodgson and Asst. Medical Examiner Dr. John W. Pratt. They committed him to the Medfield State Hospital for observation.

BATTLE WITH RUM RUNNERS

New York, April 27—The New York marine police have nabbed the second suspected rum runner that has entered the harbor in the last seventy-two hours.

This time it was the clumsy looking but surprisingly spry steam lighter Ideal, which was captured after a wild chase by two patrol boats along the Brooklyn shore, in and out going among anchored craft, a volley of pistol shots fired by the police, and a hand-to-hand fight on the smuggler's decks in which night sticks and revolver butts were freely used.

Monday morning it was the former submarine chaser No. 101, renamed the Fidus, that was caught after she had passed quarantine and whose captain explained his empty hold by stating that whiskey he was taking from Bermuda to Montreal had been pirated off Montauk Point.

The tip end of Long Island seems to be a popular rendezvous for bootleggers, in the opinion of port authorities, for the crew of the Ideal reported they had taken aboard their cargo of liquor from a three-masted schooner also lying off Montauk Point.

Dry agents, who have been busy strengthening the barrier thrown along the Canadian border to plug the flow of liquor into the United States, seemed to be impressed with the marine activities of rum runners this week. Some expressed the opinion that dammed to the north, forbidden fluids were rolling in from the east, finding the sea route less obstructed than the land.

The latest confiscated cargo turned out to be 1,500 cases of excellent rye. It was a brand much of which has reached New York from Baltimore and dry agents are seeking to establish whether the schooner which the Ideal met had put into the Maryland port for its supply. Revised valuation based on prevailing prices of $60 a case, made the cargo worth $90,000.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhazone, and thereby drives Catarrh out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhazone relieves the inflammation, destroys the seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to re-assert herself. For Catarrhal Deafness, pain over the eyes, plugged nostrils and other symptoms associated with Catarrh, use Catarrhazone. You'll be more than pleased with the quick improvement in your condition. Two months' treatment one dollar, sold everywhere, or the Catarrhazone Co., Montreal.

VILLAGE SCHOOL WAS WRECKED

Digby, April 27—The village of Hillgrove is somewhat excited over depredations which have been committed in the school house. Three times since last summer the building has been broken into and damage done, the worst offence was done some time last Saturday night or Sunday morning. The building is in a very isolated position, the church being the nearest building to it. Some time Sunday morning a passer-by noticed glass broken in the school and started an investigation, when it was found that the building had been entered, windows broken, blinds torn, books and papers destroyed and filth scattered all over the floors and walls making the building unfit for use and making it necessary to use the Temperance Hall as a school.

A meeting of the rate payers was held on Tuesday night and it was decided that the matter be placed in the hands of the attorney general's department.

FOUND LITTLE PURE BOOZE

Buffalo, N. Y. April 28—Out of 600 samples of liquor analyzed in the last month not one was pure whiskey, City chemist H. M. Hill reported today.

Most of the samples submitted were seized by police and prohibition agents. Many of the containers bore Canadian labels.

SONG OF EMANICIPATION

O course my dear since Spring is here I ought to be in love. There's something in the atmosphere That makes me want to shove The cares of business far away let it go to pot I know I ought to be in love But strange to say I'm not.

Last year old top I took a flop I fell for you for fair You gathered a prodigious crop Of verses to your hair. Your eyes your lips your wizardry that rapid beauty spot I should be sunk in dank despair But woe is me I'm not.

But say old dear what strikes me queer And leaves me mystified Is that I cannot shed a tear. I'm wholly satisfied To struggle with my single state and bear my lonely lot It's Spring some folks are getting tied. But gee! It's great I'm not. LOUIS BURTON CRANE, JR

TWO MONTHS FOR SLAPPING FACE

Boston, April 28—George J. Mitchell, aged 28 was found guilty by Judge Palmer in the Roxbury Court of assaulting his mother, Mrs. Margaret Lally, of 610 Dudley Street, Roxbury, and larceny of $32 from her pocketbook. A suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction was imposed.

Mrs. Lally testified that her son had not worked for 20 months and that he was continually bothering her when he should have been at his home in Dorchester taking care of his wife and his two children. Last evening, she said he came to her house, took $32 and slapped her in the face. Mrs. Lally testified that her son's mother in law was compelled to take care of the children and that his wife who is a singer, was compelled to earn her own living.

SORES SPREAD ALL OVER FACES AND BODIES

Mrs. Howard Houlette, Waskatenau Sask., writes: "I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine Burdock Blood Bitters."

My children started to break out on their faces in small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scabs and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters which I commenced giving them at once. In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared."

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as
