

CARRIED OUT ITS PROGRAM

London, June 24—Messages received here from Commander Wild, confirm the report that the Quest which carried Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, who died in South Georgia last February to the antarctic is coming home she is expected here next September.

J. Q. Rowett, who financed the expedition, says that the Quest fulfilled her program as mapped out by Sir Ernest, visiting unknown islands off Enderby Land and that scientific observations were taken and explorations performed, the party obtaining much valuable information, which probably will be augmented during the return voyage.

MORE THAN A MILLION INCOME

Ottawa, June 22—Only two persons in Canada had incomes of more than $1,000,000 during the fiscal year 1920-21. This information was given to H. E. Spencer, Progressive, Battle River in the house of commons this afternoon. For the same year, nineteen corporations paid taxes on incomes of more than $1,000,000. The aggregate of incomes represented by the amount collected under the income tax act was $912,410,428. There are 194,257 persons paying income tax in the dominion.

PROTEST OVER A PAPER ON GEOGRAPHY

(Moncton Transcript)

Considerable comment has been heard about the city concerning the difficult geography paper set for the High School Entrance candidates and written by them on Monday last.

Trustee Reid McManus asked at the School Board Meeting Wednesday night if the paper was designed to keep students out of the High school. The consensus of opinion at last night's meeting was that certain questions on the geography paper departed too far from the course of study prescribed. It was pointed out that the School Board has no power to take action in such a matter as the entrance papers are set by the Board of Education at Fredericton.

Superintendent Amos O'Brien told the School Board that in the Canadian West, there existed an examining board whose business it is to examine the papers before they are given to the students to answer. If there is a single question on the paper dealing with work not in the prescribed text books that question is cut out.

RIGHT-O

"Who," asked asked the professor of the student, was Homer. The guy Babe Ruth knocked out was the reply.

WAGE CUT FOR RAILWAYMEN

Montreal, June 22—Federated trades on Canadian railroads have received note of a proposed cut in wages ranging from five to nine cents per hour. The cut would follow the lines of the United States award. While the notices have reached the headquarters of the union at Winnipeg, intimation of the proposed reduction has not yet been received by local union officials. Local railway brotherhoods expressed strong opposition to any cut, and the consensus of opinion expressed by prominent union officials is that strike action will follow its enforcement.

A CHANCE TO BID FOR SHIPS

Ottawa, June 22—The government will afford the hydro-radials' commission of Ontario, or any harbor commission on the lakes an equal right to tender for any of the twenty-seven small ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine which are to be sold. This information was given in the commons this afternoon in reply to a question by T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto North. The government has not considered the question of establishing a lake merchant marine, it was said.

TENT WORMS BLOCK TRAINS

Newcastle, June 23—Tent worms are playing havoc with trees and gardens in town and surrounding districts. In some places trees have been stripped and orchards severely damaged. A man coming in from Chaplin road by bicycle said that at one place he was forced to dismount and walk as the worms were crawling across the road in such a dense stream that wheeling was impossible. At several places trains have been held up until sweepers and sand were used.

Judge Gary Says That Ethics Pay in Business

Chicago, June 24—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, of the United States Steel Corporation, delivered an address on "Ethics in Business" at the convention here today of the alumni of North-western University.

"It may be asserted with absolute confidence", said Judge Gary, "that within the last twenty years or more there has been a decided change in the standards and conduct of business. To my personal knowledge many of the most intelligent managers of business affairs, some very large and others very small, who have laid down the cares and difficulties of this life, before their final departure completely changed their opinions and reversed their methods concerning ethical questions. This applies also to many who are still living. Hundreds upon hundreds, yes, thousands upon thousands, of business men all over the country who twenty years ago believed that the subject of ethics had little, if any proper place in business conduct, now assert and insist that it is essential and controlling. A man of high intelligence and probity about ten years since, while testifying in court, alluding to a certain other men who occupied the highest position in a large business concern, said: 'He introduced new rules into the business game.'"

Change in Last Decade.

"I think it properly may be claimed multitudes of leading business men during the last two decades have voluntarily devoted more and more of their time and energy in a conscientious desire to conduct their business in accordance with the rules of propriety and honesty.

"Business throughout the United States is to-day transacted on a higher plane than ever before, though of course there is always need for further improvement. The world is surely growing better. If time permitted many striking incidences could be given.

"The large majority of business men now conduct their affairs in accordance with the avowed belief that right is superior to might; that morality is on a par with legality and that the observation of both is, essential to worthy achievement; that the rights of customers must always be respected; that employee are associated rather than servants and should be treated accordingly; that stockholders of corporations, as well as all partners, are entitled to any information immediately upon receipt so that under no circumstances can there be preferential rights or opportunities; that the destructive competition must give way to humane competition, and that full and prompt publicity of all facts involving the public of the same by any officer or partner, is demanded."

TYPES.

"There's the lady that talks in italics, How perfectly ghastly!" says she And I would that my tongue could sputter The thoughts that arise in me.

She will quote the trite sayings of children, Exclaiming! How perfectly sweet And the sulphurous stiff that I mutter You would never—no never—repeat.

I will tell of some trifling adventure, And "Didn't you love it?" she soos And I would that my soul could utter The horrible cud that it chews. E. G.

Had to Make Detour.

Rev. Father Conway of Edmundston was in Fredericton Friday en route to his home after interviewing the Bishop of Chatham Father Conway travelled the International Sub-division of the C. N. R. going to Chatham but the floods put that line out of operation and he was forced to make a detour. He returned to Edmundston via McGivney Junction. His visit to the Bishop was in connection with the erection of a new church at Edmundston.

Your Home Town Paper What it Can Do for You—

First of all, it can bring to you the NEWS of your own home town. Week after week, it prints in detail the happenings of the community. Faithfully it sets forth the goings and comings of its people, giving careful attention to the homely little items that are ignored in the overcrowded dailies of the big cities.

It can furnish you with more interesting information about people you know, or used to know than could a dozen private correspondents. The one who writes to you may know only a few of your friends at home—but your Home Town Paper knows them all. It tells you about people you are interested in.

Finally, in a good, hard business sense, your Home Town Paper is of value to you. It keeps you posted as to the industrial and commercial growth of a community which familiarity may have caused you to neglect. It often reveals that keen people see, right in your home town, a mine of golden opportunity. The meral is obvious—
