Captain Wild Will Carry on Exploration Work Begun by Late Sir. Ernest Shackelton

EXPLORER DIED SUDDENLY

Body Has Been Enclosed in Rough Coffin Lined With Zinc—Placed in English Church — The Uruguayan Government Has Furnished a Guard of Honor.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 30—The body of Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British explorer, lies in a hospital here in a rough, wooden coffin that was made for him by Norwegian whalers of the island of South Georgia, where he died on Jan. 5. A squad of Uruguayan soldiers acts as guard of honor and until the body has been sent to England, probably Feb. 11, the guard will be maintained by the Uruguayan government which plans also to render other honors. In his handiwork of simple-living Antarctic islanders—a strong box of unplaned deal wood, lined with corrugated zinc the famous explorer will be buried in England. "I am sure that is what he would wish—in keeping with his own simplicity, and because these whalers of the south seas, whom he loved made it for him," said Captain L. Hussey, meteorologist of the steamship Quest and close friend of the explorer, who arrived with the body here last Sunday on the Norwegian steamer Professor Cruvel.

Death Was Sudden.

As described by Captain Hussey to The Associated Press correspondent today, Sir Ernest's death was sudden. It occurred at 3.30 o'clock in the morning in his cabin the day after the arrival from Rio De Janeiro at the principal whaling station of South Georgia, a place called Gryvicken, a town of 200 inhabitants.

Later in the day, the body was brought ashore and placed in the English of Gryvicken, and the Norwegian and British flags of the island were half-masted. The rector was visiting another whaling station and consequently there were no funeral services.

The steamer Professor Cruvel, which calls at South Georgia, for whale oil, was the only other vessel in port besides the Quest, and after taking her cargo she sailed with the body for Montevideo on Jan. 20. Her wireless apparatus broke down, and he was unable to communicate the sad news until her arrival here. Captain Frank Wild who assumed command of the expedition, proceeded with preparations to continue, in accordance with a written agreement with Sir Ernest that if he should die Captain Wild should carry on.

Looking For Lost Land.

Accordingly, the Quest departed on Jan. 16 in search of Enderby Land, reported to have been seen by Captain Enderby ninety years ago, but which nobody since has succeeded in finding. The expedition probably will return in March, when it will be decided whether further explorations will be continued. This will depend upon John G. Rowett, of London, one the patrons of the expedition.

Captain Hussey was detached by Captain Wild to accompany the body to England "because you stood very highly in the boss' estimation," as Captain Wild wrote in his letter of instructions. He commissioned Captain Hussey to buy a wreath for Sir Ernest's funeral, the of which each member of the expedition will share equally.

CITY TAXES THE PROBLEM AT PRESENT

Effort to Clear Up Arrears is Being Made — February 20th Last Date for Qualification.

The payment of city taxes is the problem confronting many people at the present time. This period of every year sees "frenzied finance" on the part of not a few on that account but this year because of well defined business depression, the situation is much more acute. The total of arrears in taxes still is great in spite of firm efforts on the part of the Finance Committee to clear up the books.

In the Blue Book

Instructions to have the City Blue Book containing the list of tax defaulters issued early in the year were given some time ago. Copy for the book is now being prepared and the defaulters list is expected to be a record one.

Qualification Period

February 20th is the last date for the qualification as an elector by the payment of taxes. Many of those in arrears state that they will be square with the city by the time that date rolls around. In the meantime there is a steady stream of money trickling into the treasurer's office.

WINE SHOPS FOR WOMEN

Montreal, Jan. 30—Two wine shops where Montreal women may purchase liquor without being jostled by the rougher element who want spirits will shortly be opened by the Quebec liquor commission. Wine only will be sold at these stores and while men will not be barred from purchasing there, they will mainly be for the use of housewives desiring to buy wine for household purposes.

Bonds Are High.

Victory Bonds aer keeping up well in the Montreal Stock Exchange. The issue of 1922 is selling around par while those which expire in 1933 are quoted at $102.75.

MONCTON HAS NEW MAYOR

Moncton, Jan. 30—J. Fred Edgett was elected mayor over Mayor A. C. Chapman by a majority of 554 in today's civic election for mayor and aldermen, and for the first time in three elctions labor lost its grip on the council. Along with the new mayor, five new aldermen were elected and three members of the former council. The labor party placed seven candidates in the field and made the fight for continuing labor control at city hall.

The vote for mayor stood:
J. F. Edgett, 1,523.
A. C. Chapman, 969.

DEATH OF AGED HOUSEKEEPER DUE TO QUARREL WITH MAID

Montreal, Jan. 30—Adelaide Perreault, housekeeper, aged 70, at 26g0 Notre Dame Street, is dead as the result of an injury received during a quarrel last July when a maid, whose name is withheld, pushed her so that she fell and fractured her hip.

The alleged quarrel occurred at the home of C. Chaput, 349 Sherbrooke street east, while the owner was away. Miss Perreault was in charge, and under her was the maid. This maid, it is said, entertained a young man one night of whom the hosuekeeper did not approve, and the quarrel was caused by the latter rebuking her for having him in the house.

Victims of Washington Theatre Disaster Number 108; Storm Subsides

All Danger of Food Shortage in the U. S. Capital Has Passed Away—Some Notables Among the List of Victims—Four Members of One Family Lost Their Lives—Many Bodies Recovered.

Washington, Jan. 30—Bright sunshine and thawing temperatures did much today to restore normal conditions in Washington and the middle Atlantic section buried under Saturday's severe snow storm. All danger of a food shortage in the capital passed away during the day as train service was resumed.

Reports from Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities in the path of the storm also told of rapid restoration of normal conditions. Heavy seas, however, still were being experienced in the vicinity of Hampton Roads with several vessels still in danger.

The list of 108 dead in the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster includes:

Former Congressman A. J. Barchfeld, formerly of Pittsburg (Pa.)

Miss Helen Marchfeld, daughter of the former congressman.

Chauncey C. Brainerd, Washington correspondent of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

Mrs. Chauncey C. Brainerd.

Lewis Strayer, Washington correspondent of the Piftsburg Dispatch.

William Walters, Brooklyn (N.Y.), student at Georgetown University.

FOUR IN ONE FAMILY

Four of the five members of the family of Oscar G. Kanston, of Chicago, lost their lives in the disaster. Kanston, who came here recently in connection with some temporary work for the Bureau of Valuation of the interstate commerce commission, went to the playhouse with his wife, his two daughters Helen, 13, and Anyln, 7, and his son, Grant, 11. Only the boy escaped.

The body of Mrs. Virginia Farrand, sister of Julio Bianchi Guatemalan minister to the United States, was identified among the victims.

Edward H. Shaughnessy, of Chicago, second assistant postmaster-general, Mrs. Shaughnessy and their two daughters Myrtle nad Ruth, were injured. Mr. Shaughnessy seriously.

WIFE SCALDS HUSBAND AND CHILDREN

New York, Jan. 31—Mrs. Tillie Mildada of 22 Harvard Court Brighton Beach, was arrested yesterday with felonious assault in pouring boiling water over her husband Harry, their daughter Mildred, one year old, while they were in bed.

The man's condition is serious. He and Herbert were taken to Coney Island Hospital The baby escaped with slight burns on the legs. In Coney Island police court Mrs. Mildado was held in $2,500 bail for examination on Monday. She pleaded not guilty to the charge.

"We have had trouble for six years" she said to Magistrate Folwell My husband stayed out nights and last night we quarreled and he threat ened to throw me out of the window. I did not mean to scald them, but just to frighten them."

Mildado said that there had been a quarrel Thursday evening, but he thought it was all over and went to bed. He woke up, he said to find his wif estanding over him with the kettle of boiling water tilted in her hand

BOOZE PLANT SEIZED.

Sydney, N. S., Jan. 30—An up to date moonshine plant capable of turning out $1,000 worth of marketable liquor a day and the largest ever captured in Cape Breton, was seized by a squad of revenue officers Sunday, on the farm of Joseph Bonacth, a Belgian, one the outskirts of Sydney.

SAYS WOMEN SHOULD WEAR THE CORSETS

New York, Jan. 31—Dr. Adolf Lorenz appeared as an advocate of corsets for women during his health department clinic yesterday.

"Every woman should wear a corset" said the famous surgeon. "Possibly the young girl should be expected. The corset not only braces vital organs that need bracing but is a preventive of spinal troubles.

"I do not say that women should squeeze their waists as once they did. I am referring to corsets of to-day, designed on common sense lines. The important thing is that the corset should in every instance to be a perfect fit.

"I frequently prescribe corsets modeled after casts made of the persons under my observations. I agree with Health Commissioner Copeland in his observation that a corset gives to a woman the sense of being completely dressed ond thus contribute to her peace of mind which is beneficial."

ADVOCATES THE CAT.

Toronto, Jan. 30—That the lash as well as imprisonment should be the penalty meted out to persons convicted of holdups was one of the recommendations made by the grand jury this afternoon to Mr. Justice Riddell. Another recommendation was that revolvers and small arms be prohibited except for police and military purposes.

Sir. James Craig Says that the Ulster Government is Making Good Progress

SAYS ALL ARE ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Ulster the Head of Ireland and Under a Great Responsibility—Shots Fired at Catholic Employes in Belfast Shipyards Looked Upon as a Grave Incident.

Belfast, Jan. 30—What is regarded as a grave development in connection with the resumption of work by expelled Catholic employes in Belfast was an attack tonight on James McCullough, who returned to work in one of the shipyards today.

Five shots were fired at him as he was leaving Queen's Island gates. One bullet lodged in the shoulder and he was struck on the head by a bolt.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, speaking today at a luncheon given by the lord mayor, said that the Ulster government was making good progress in getting under way and the promises of success were brighter than some time ago.

"By all there is an absorbing desire for peace," he continued, "and peace is bound to settle and open our land. Owing to the country's formation we are the head of Ireland, but as the head of the community—and I say this in no offensive terms to any other section—it places upon us great responsibility that the head should show grave wisdom. A slip or error in statesmanship today can never be recovered in the future."

North and South Confer.

Belfast, Jan. 30—John Miller Andrews, Ulster minister of labor, accompanied by Parliamentary Secretary Gordon, left for Dublin today to confer with Joseph McGrath, minister of labor in the Dail Eireann cabinet, regarding the railway situation.

This is the first instance of a conference between ministers of the northern and southern governments since the recent meeting between Sir James Craig the Ulster premier, and Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government.

Constitution Draft Soon.

London, Jan. 30—It was officially announced in Dublin tonight that the committee appointed by the provisional government expects to complete the draft of the constituion by February 3. The evacuation of British troops from Ireland continued today.

Th emunicipal councils in various parts of Ireland elected lodr mayors and mayors today. Cork, Limerick and Sligo chose Republicans. Stephen O'Mara, after being re-elected mayor of Limerick declared himself as much Republican now as when he was first elected last year.

HOYT STATION.

Hoyt Station, Jan. 29—The members of the Baptist Church gave a very successful entertainment on Saturday the 28th inst in the Agricultural Hall.

Mr. Corey presided and also showed himself as a good entertainer.

Miss E. Corey and the Misses Corey san, and recitations were given by Miss V. Hoyt, Miss E. Corey and Miss Anine Hoyt, also by Jean and Margaret Taylor two of the youngest members of the community. G. Duplisea gave a recitation and his brother E. Duplisea a piano solo, deservedly encored.

The evening went well and proved a financial success.

CAMPBELLTON AND CHATHAM TIED IN NORTH

Bathurst Beaten 10 to 2 By Campbellton Monday Night Home Team Not In It.

Bathurst, Jan. 30—Campbellton, contenders for the northern section title in the N. B. and P. E. I. Amateur Hockey Association, ran up a score of 10 to 2 against Bathurst in their league fixture here.

While the Bathurst people support their team in generous fashion despite the losses, the only interest in this contest from a general standpoint was as to the scoring ability Campbellton could show. They fell behind the record of Chatham, the other contenders for the sectional honors, who ran up a score of 17 to 2 here against the local recently.

The standing of the northern section of the N. B. and P. E. I. A. H. A., which shows the best race of the three sections of the league for the leadership, follows:

	W.	L.	F.	A.
Chatham	3	1	32	12
Campbellton	3	1	26	9
Shediac	3	2	23	26
Bathurst	0	4	15	49

TWO SHOT IN SILK HOLDUP

New York, Jan. 31—Two bandits in a taxicab on Washington Street, between Houston and Clorkson Street, last night held up at the point of revolvers an automobile truck laden with $35,000 worth of silks bound for Philadelphia. They shot and seriously wounded the negro driver and the white guard and fled empty handed.

John H. Overton thirty-five years old negro chaffeur of 4144 Market Street, Philadelphia is in St. Vincents Hospital, with two bullet wounds in his abdomen. August Koepp, forty-five years old, of 27 Brevort Street, Brooklin, who served as his guard on the night trips made between this city and Philadelphia is in the same hospital with a serious wound in his right shoulder. Both men are employees of long standing of the Triangle Transportation Company, of Philadelphia.

FAMILY SAVED BY FIREMEN

New York, Jan. 30—Swinging head down from the roof of a burning house in Brooklyn, tonight while companions held his feet, Edward Steiler, a fireman, rescued a woman and her four children from a window on the top floor after every stairway had been cut off. Lieutenant Edward Gros another fireman, who wrapped a wet towel over his mouth and nose and groped his way through dense smoke to the apartment, found the family bewildered and screaning for help. One by one he passed them to his dangling comrade, then himself was lifted to the roof. All had barely left the roof when it burst into flames.

OWEN MOORE AND MARY PICKFORD SAID TO HAVE BEEN IN COLLUSION

Carson City, Nev., Jan. 30—Oral arguments on a motion by Attorney General Fowler to have the divorce decree of Mary Pickford from Owen Moore dissolved as illegal were made here today before the state supreme court by Fowler and by Miss Pickford's attorney, Gavin McNab, of San Francisco.

Fowler attacked the divorce, which was granted by Judge Frank P. Langan in the district court at Miden, March 2, 1920, "in the interest of the state of Nevada" on the ground that Moore and Miss Pickford were guilty of fraud and collusion and that Judge Langan had no jurisdiction, since the parties were bonafide residents of Los Angeles.
