Iroquois Falls, Small Town Team, Travelling Fast For the Allan Cup

Iroquois Falls, title holders of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association is in the finals with the Granites of Toronto for the Ontario amateur title and qualification round for the Allan Cup. The team cleaned up the Kitchener team in a "sudden death" match. Iroquois Falls is a pulp and paper town of only two thousand people. A few years ago it was wilderness.

The Toronto Globe has the following on the team:—

After the Canadian Soo had beaten Sudbury four out of five games in the southern section of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, Iroquois Falls, winners of the northern section beat the Soo at the Falls and then held the Greyhounds to a draw in the return game at the Soo. Thus they qualified to meet Kitchener, O. H. A. intermediate champions, in a sudden-death game here last night. Again they were victorious, beating the Green and White 9 to 3. Iroquois Falls will meet Granites, O. H. A. senior champions, for a majority of goals in two games, the first at the Arena on Friday and again at the same place on Monday.

Those in the Iroquois Falls team are, Art Thropp (Coach), George Brickendon, Percy Fahey, Harry Quesnel, Bill Brydge, Ted Courbold, Gordon Wilson, Lindsay Flucker, Steve Yankoski, Joe Chircoski, Wes Turk (Manager).

(Yankoski and Chircoski are Poles)
The Globe has the following on the Kitchener game:—

The strength of the winning team undoubtedly lies in the goalkeeper and the defense, but the forwards are all fast skaters, are unselfish and while inclined to roam from their positions to check are usually on hand to accept a pass. They were fed continually by the defense men, and the first three goals were scored after good combination play. Quesnel had chances galore to tally, but fell down badly, although as a backchecker, he ranks with the best in the O. H. A. He is a little fellow, sturdily built, and the fastest skater on the team. The wings were well looked after by the veterans, Fahey of Ottawa and Flucker of Penbrooke.

Kitchener failed to shine, except as checkers, in the first ten minutes of the first two periods. Barring this they showed little and left the impression—already strong locally—that the class of hockey in the intermediate series is nothing to rave about. The players lacked finish and, like the Falls, roamed all over the ice. It was expected that the Karges-Gludner defense would prove hard to get past, but the reverse was the case, and every time the winners tried combination they went right in to test Zuber from close range.

Scheel, at right wing, and Karges were prominent at times, with the former the best man Kitchener had. He however, was unable to keep pace with the northerners, and was relieved frequently. Goalkeeper Zuber did not get much chance to shine, as the N. O. H. A. champions were generally at close quarters before they shot. The exceptions were provided by Brydge, who let fly from any angle and always had the range.

That Iroquois Falls will defeat Granites few Toronto fans believe, but they may play a lot better when opposed to a stronger team than Kitchener. It will be remembered that the critics were not greatly impressed by the form shown by the Sudbury Wolves against Collingwood two years ago, yet Sudbury went right on and gave Granites two beatings.

The Northerners made many friends by their clean play, but they, however, showed that they are a sturdy lot not likely to wither even under the most trying circumstances.
