

MADE FORTUNE OUT OF WHISKEY

Keene, N. H. June 20—How would you like to be notified that you were the owner of certificates calling for 25 barrels of whiskey which had been in bond since 1904? That is what happened to Louis A. Butler of 33 Brook st recently. He had since sold the whiskey to a drug concern for $30,000 and has used some of his fortune to purchase an automobile and a farm. The story of Mr. Butler's good fortune has just leaked out.

Mr. Butler formerly worked for a liquor dealer who took a fancy to him and in 1904 when whiskey was worth about $1.10 per gallon the dealer placed 25 barrels in bond in the name of Louis A. Butler without telling him what he had done. Mr. Butler was unaware of his good fortune until sometime during the year 1920 when he learned after the death of his benefactor that the certificates for the whiskey were in his name and that the tax had been paid on it up to 1920.

In settling the estate of the dealer the certificates were turned over to Mr. Butler. When it was learned that he had the 25 barrels which had been in bond for 18 years plenty of money were ready to purchase it. Mr. Butler obtained counsel to that he might dispose of his liquor in a legal way, which he did. One concern bought the certificates paying him $30,000 for them. Mr. Butler put the bulk of his fortune into bonds and then purchased a 16-acre farm in Swansey and a flivver.

Mr. Butler is well known in Keene and only a few of his closest friends know his good fortune. During the World War, Mr. Butler had four sons and a son-in-law in the service. One son, James, who was awarded numerous medals for bravery died in May 1920, from the effects of being gassed.

Marysville and Locals Played Seven Innings to Tied Score Wednesday

The standing in the York County Independent Baseball League was unchanged after Tuesday evening's game at the Trotting Park between Fredericton and Marysville. The teams played seven innings of interesting baseball and the score stood 1 to 1. To a great extent it was a pitchers' battle. Honors were pretty even. Paynter had the opposing batters guessing more than did Miller, striking out six Marysville men to Miller's two Fredericton players. Each was hit for six but Miller caught two Fredericton base-runners off their bags and each time nipped probable runs.

In the second inning there was one close decision, at the plate which deprived Fredericton of a run. Umpire Hughes calling Johnson out when he tried to score from second base on Hall's single.

A little better fielding and coaching which would prevent base-runners being caught between the sacks would have given Fredericton the game. The seven innings were closely played and the interest of the crowd was held to the last.

The Game

The game began looking very much like a big fight for Marysville and the contingent of rooters from the neighboring town, of both sexes, was jubilant. Hall let Collett the first man up get on by an error. Anderson made a hit which sent Collett home after he had stolen second and gone to third on a bad throw of Donovan's to stop him stealing. Donovan had hard luck when Anderson tried to steal second, base-runner colliding with fielder and the ball getting away letting Anderson reach third. He died there. Paynter used the strikeout route to retire two Marysville batters and Amos Mc-

Pherson went out on an infield fly. Fredericton had a big first inning all but the scoring. Jack Bolster hit safely and stole second. Collett's error let Fraser get on, Donovan advanced both base-runners by a sacrifice. With the chances never better Kierstead and Davis each hit to the infield and it was all over.

After that for five innings Fredericton gave the visiting team nothing at all. Two singles were all off Paynter till the seventh. On the other hand the home team came near tying up the score in the second. With one out Johnson and Hall each singled. Johnson tried to make home on Hall's hit to shallow centre but the umpire decided the throw beat him out. Marysville then for three innings retired the Fredericton batters like clock-work. The sixth was a big Fredericton inning producing one run and saving a lost game. Bolster hit nicely. Taking a little too much off first he was caught by Miller who whipped the ball over. Sharper coaching would have stopped that. This really meant the loss of the game for Fredericton for Fraser hit and stole second, Donovan followed with a hit which sent Fraser home. Donovan reached third when Kierstead was thrown out at first after fanning. Chances looking good but Davis hit fairly at Harold White and it was all over.

The last inning saw both teams with chances. With one out Walker hit safely, went to second on a passed ball and to third on Davis' error which let Miller on. Anderson was passed and the bases filed. It was a risky thing to do but Paynter and Donovan evidently knew what was what for they put the "K" sign on McLean and Marysville did not have another chance.

Wheeler started the last inning for Fredericton by striking out. It was bad but Miller hit Johnson with the ball and a man was on. Again the base-runner played too far off the sack and Miller's whip caught him. It looked as if it was all off but Amos MacPherson and Anderson both went after Hall's right field fly and the result was the ball was dropped. Need of better fielding discipline never was more plainly shown. Miller then passed Paynter. Again there was a chance to win but the Marysville luck held for Bolster hit right at White and it was all over.

WIDOW OF HONEST JOHN PUT IN PRISON

Philadelphia, June 20—Mrs. Doris Brunen, widow of "Honest John" Brunen, who was shot and killed in his home at Riverside, N. J., last March, was arrested last night for complicity in the murder. She is now in jail in Mount Holly, N. J.

Her brother, Henry C. Mohr of Camden, and Charles M. Powell, a former employee of Brunen, who confessed shooting the circus owner, have been locked up since April for the crime.

Relatives of the imprisoned widow protested today that Camden detectives got her into New Jersey by trickery.

The theory of Burlington county authorities is that Mrs. Brunen, her brother and Powell arranged to do away with Brunen in order to take over his circus. On May 10 Mrs. Brunen sold her interest in the "Mighty Doris Show"—named after her by her husband—and has been living since with her mother, Mrs. Augusta Mohr and her daughter, Hazel, 18.

Detectives Visit Her

Shortly after Mrs. Brunen and her relatives finished their evening meal yesterday, Bading and Cain, Camden detectives called at the apartment and told Mrs. Brunen the Camden authorities desired to "ask a few questions".

Her relatives assert she had no intimation she was to be jailed and was taken completely by surprise. When she touched the New Jersey soil, the detectives, one on either side of the widow informed her she was under arrest as an accessory in the death of her husband.

According to the detectives, Mrs. Brunen bore the shock of her arrest bravely, making no comment other than to inquire where she would be taken. An automobile was hired to take the three to the Mount Holly jail, where Mrs. Brunen was placed in a cell.

When she failed to return, her mother began making inquiries and learned from Burlington county detectives of Mrs. Brunen's arrest.

REVIVAL OF AQUATICS

A & B Club to be Congratulated—
Karl Walker to Try Single Sculls—Four-oared Crew Later

Fredericton is due for a revival in aquatics. Old timers hope that things will look like they did years ago when the West End and the St. Ann's Rowing Clubs were active and scullers and oarsmen were numerous here.

Karl Walker is to try the single sculls and his shell has been purchased. Two men are ready for a four-oared crew and if the others are found the shell will be obtained.

In spite of a local contemporary, scullers do not sit in sculls but in shells. They propel themselves with sculls, one in each hand. Each oarsman uses one oar taking both hands to it.

HARNESS RACING

Fredericton Entries Close Today—
John Waters 2.06 1-4 Goes to North Sydney

Entries for the local curtain raiser harness meet close with Secretary Dave Griffiths today.

Walter Cox is after a trotter with a double Peter cross and has bred the 3 year old half-sister to Guy Bacon, 2.17 1-2 by San Francisco, 2.07 3-4 out of Arleen Bacon, 2.18 1-4 by Peter the Great, 2.07 1-4, to the supersire.

The Boston Globe says;—

John Waters, matinee record, 2.06 1-4, goes to Nova Scotia, Hector McInnes acting as commissioner for William Hood of North Sydney. They have had some fast pacers down in the Provinces but never one with more whizz than the big son of John Dewey.

Ben Earl, 2.00 1-2, goes from Boston to Maine this week, a member of the Frank Fox stable, along with Jimmie Forbes, Red Russell and Nancy Lee Hanks.

Dave Warman expects to set the Woonsocket track record for trotters right at 2.10 today.

Some idea of what a country Russia was for the trotters before the war can be gathered from the fact that Will Caton in 18 years there won 2500 races, the purse of them being $2,500,000.

Lester Dore ships from Combina-tion to Houlton, Me., today.
