THE WIND ON THE HILLTOP

I love to stand on a windy day
Where all the buttercups blow one way.
It makes me think I must surely be
A fairy thing—I feel so free—
A shaft of light a bit of sky
A breath of perfume drifting by
A thing with no earthly form at all
Just wings that swing with the breeze's call.
See—I am wearing my new lawn dress.
The sleeves are nothing but gauze
The folds float out on the wind
That sings,
Drifting them up into gossamer wings.
Oh, I love to stand on a windy day,
Where all the buttercups blow one way.

LOWER CAVERHILL

Lower Caverhill, York Co., Easter Sunday was fittingly commemorated in St. George's Episcopal Church. In the evening the congregation was so large that the people could not get room to sit down. The large choir rendered appropriate music. Prof. W. A. Russel, who has been doing good work in the church for the past four months, had a beautiful reed organ placed back of the altar, also a new white altar frontal and two new flower vases which were used for the first time at Easter services. Jesse Clark of Springhill built the reed organ and everyone gave him great praise for the beautiful work done. Mrs. Jesse Clark and Miss May Clark worked the new white and gold altar cloths which are very attractive. Mrs. Clark also kindly supplied the altar with beautiful Easter lilies. The clergyman, Rev. Mr. Budd of Temperance Vale had charge of the evening service and preached an inspiring sermon. The musical programme was under the direction of Prof. Russel and was exceptionally good.

The condition of the roads here is not good at present.

Prof. Russel will take a week's rest before he commences his work here again. He will go to St. John.

City Officials Were Reappointed With no Great Salary Changes

City Solicitor an Exception—Position Vacant at Present—
Discussion on Salaries of City Analyst H. H. Hagerman and City Engineer McDowell—No Changes Made.

The special meeting of the City Council held Monday evening to appoint the City officials for the ensuing year and to fix their salaries passed off very quietly. None of the salaries were reduced with the exception of that of Lloyd Shaw, Fire Driver who will in future be paid $60 instead of $70. His receiving free rental accounts for this reduction.

SOLICITOR NOT APPOINTED

On motion the appointment of a City Solicitor was deferred to the regular May Meeting. R. B. Hanson, M. P. has been acting as such for several years at a retaining fee of $250. Friction has developed however concerning the extent of his duties as covered by this fee. Certain bills have been presented to the City lately for payment for legal services performed which City officials claim should be covered by this retaining fee. Action has been deferred until an outline of services required by this fee can be drawn up.

ANALYST'S SALARY

The only salaries which came up for discussion were those of the City Analyst, H. H. Hagerman and the City Engineer, G. C. McDowell. H. H. Hagerman is also Superintendent of the Filtration Plant and receives a salary of $900. A few of the aldermen were of the opinion that this was rather excessive for the time spent on this work. However, it was explained that his duties were more extensive than they seemed. Due in a large measure to his efficient work this city has been almost entirely free from the contagious diseases so prevalent here years ago. His salary was not reduced.

ENGINEER'S SALARY

Concerning the salary of the City Engineer it was felt that he was receiving only sufficient remuneration for his work. But it was also felt that at the present time when economy was so imperative in all things and when the program of street work for the coming year was not so extensive, an assistant engineer to run lines and to perform such tasks which really came under the City Engineers duties, was not needed. The City Engineer however explained that this man was getting only an ordinary workman's pay and that he was employed in various work besides engineering, for instance taking charge when a foreman was ill, time-keeping and doing actual manual labor. The Council however did not give an expression of opinion with respect to the services of this assistant engineer being continued, since he is not appointed by the city, but hired by the City Engineer.

New Agricultural Societies.

M. A. McLeod, Supervisor of Agricultural Societies and James Bremner Jr., Provincial Live Stock Commissioner were very busy last week. They organized two Agricultural Societies, one at Deer Island and the other at Canterbury Station. Owing to the slump in the price of fish the residents of Deer Island have turned their attention to farming more so than formerly. This island is especially adapted to the raising of poultry which is easily carried on in conjunction with the fisheries. Messrs McLeod and Bremner were also at Harvey Station where they also inspected some livestock they reported that the best dairy Jersey stock to be found in the province is located in that place with the possible exception of Kings county.

F. B. Bonnell of St. John is at Windsor Hall.
