Closing Exercises Of High School Were Highly Interesting

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

The capacity of the assembly hall of the High School was overtaxed Monday night when the graduation exercises of the school took place and a considerable number of persons stood in the hall throughout the entire proceedings. The latter were interesting and varied to such a degree that attention of the audience was held until the last.

A feature of the addresses was the feeling reference made to the memory of Sir George R. Parkin whose death occurred in London on Sunday. Sir George was at one time principal of the Fredericton Collegiate School and several of the speakers were his pupils.

Two new prizes were announced and presented. They were in the Commercial Course which is ending its first year.

The vocal music was a very pleasing feature the two selections from Il Trovatore being particularly well sung. There also was a very enjoyable piano solo by Miss Gladys Burns. The two orations were delivered excellently by the boys selected, Hubert A. Davidson as Valedictorian and D. Hazen Fulton as essayist. Miss Helen Taylor also gave a French recitation which was well received.

ADDRESS BY CHAIRMAN

Dr. G. C. VanWart, Head of School Board, Congratulated the Graduating Class—Reference to Sir George Parkin.

Dr. G. C. VanWart, chairman of the School Board, presided at the exercises and delivered the opening address. He expressed gratification of the Board on account of the large attendance of those interested in the school. He felt he must refer to the death of Sir George R. Parkin who for a number of years had been principal of the Fredericton Collegiate School which had since become Fredericton High School. He had had the good fortune to be one of the pupils who received instruction from him. All the older graduates recognized the deceased as a gifted instructor and also as a man. Not only had he in later life taken a prominent part in the development of universities in various places but also had taken a foremost position in the life of the Empire.

Dr. VanWart said the School Board appreciated the attitude which the City Council was taking toward education. The Council now appreciated the needs of the city and of its boys and girls in the matter of education.

PRIZES PRESENTED

Two New Prizes in Commercial Course—Reference to Services of Dr. Foster.

Dr. C. C. Jones presented the Douglas Silver Medal for Classics to Miss Maggie Chestnut. He referred to the fact that for ninety years students had been receiving this medal. He was not surprised to see Miss Chestnut win the medal as he remembered her mother as an honor student at the University of New Brunswick. Referring to Sir George Parkin, Dr. Jones said he recently looked at the farm in Salisbury where Sir George was a boy and realized the value which education had been in the case of that one man.

J. M. Lemont presented the City of Fredericton Medal for highest standing in Latin and French to Miss Annie MacPherson. As a student in Latin under Sir George R. Parkin he had not appreciated the value of that language as he did later Both Latin and French were of extreme value in education.

Dr. H. V. B. Bridges presented the Governor General's Bronze Medal for English to Miss Helen Taylor. He took the opportunity to state that Mr. Lemont had been too modest in his reference to his student days as he had been a winner not only of the Governor General's Medal at school but also of the Douglas Medal for English at the University. The value of knowledge of English could not be questioned.

C. McN. Steeves presented the Coulthard Memorial Medal for Natural Science to Miss Florence Raymond. It was twenty-one years, he said, since the medal first had been given. The late Dr. G. E. Coulthard in whose memory the medal had been founded by his widow, was for twenty-one years a member of the School Board and for five years chairman. He hoped that the winning of the medal would prove an incentive to further endeavor.

Secretary R. D. Hanson presented the Birks Medal for best English essay to D. Hazen Fulton.

Dr. G. A. Inch presented the U.N.B. Senate's Prize for mathematics to Miss Florence Raymond.

The Class of 1921 Prize for French was presented to Lewis R. Tims by Mr. Turner of that class, and the Class of 1921 Prize for History was presented to the same student by A. S. McFarlane.
