COLLEGE CONFERENCE AT TRURO

St. Francis Xavier Protest Against Dalhousie to be Considered—Western Section Playoff Also.

A conference is to be held tonight at Truro by representatives of the colleges composing the Intercollegiate Hockey League. It will be for the purpose of considering the protest of St. Francis Xavier against Dalhousie for playing an alleged ineligible player at Antigonish in the match won by Dal 7 to 5. The player is Dunn whose brother played here with Dartmouth.

The conference also is expected to deal with the matter of a playoff in the Western Section. Mt. Allison although expressing a desire to play to break the three-cornered tie, informed U.N.B. last night that the faculty was of the opinion that the decision reached at the intercollegiate conference should be adhered to, viz. that in the event of a three-cornered tie occurring the college winning the title the preceding year should retain the trophy.

The Sumner trophy however complicates the situation in the western Section as Kings College was a member of the original league for which the cup was awarded and under the terms of gift must compete for it still. In order that a competition take place for the cup some one team of U. N. B., Acadia and Mount A. must be selected.

Him Without Contract—

Money.

Baltimore, Feb. 19—Jack Bentley, ex-Oriole, who is holding out for part of the purchase price of $65,000 for which he was sold to the Giants received an ultimatum from Pres. Chas. A. Stoneham of the New York National League Club. Stoneham notified the ex-Oriole pitcher that he must not report to the training camp unless he signs a contract first.

Stoneham's message was as follows:

"Wish to notify you that no player who hasn't signed will be taken to training camp."

Bentley's answer was.

"Respectfully notify you that I wasn't going to report."

Jack Dunn, manager of the Orioles refuses to give Bentley any part of the purchase price, and the Giants regard him as a holdout. Bentley is persistent in his demand for part of the money and says he will stay out of the game until he gets it.

THESE WOMEN REAL PAINTERS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16—Customs and characteristics of the Seri Indians were described in a lecture by Charles Sheldon at a meeting under the auspices of the Washington Anthropological Society in the New York museum last night.

Mr. Sheldon told of Tiburon Island in the Gulf of California where he lived with this tribe for nearly two months, during which time he studied their many traits and modes of living. He stated that it was very hard to learn much about their religious beliefs and superstitions as they speak only a very limited amount of Spanish and that there was no other race of people in the world who spoke their language. This peculiar race of people, of which there are only about 150 in number who live on an island about 20 miles wide and 30 miles long, live mostly on sea which they catch with crude fishing outfits and spears. They usually make their homes near the water front and have to carry their water supply from the mountains in containers made by themselves he said.

The women paint many kinds of fancy designs on their faces some of them erasing one design and applying another about every half hour he said. They carry all their earthly belongings with them wherever they go and, as did the American Indian they bury all of one's belongings with him at death. He also told how they were able to bear almost any kind of hardships. Wearing practically no clothing they could stand the heat of the desert or the cold of the high altitudes without

RESTRICTIONS ARE PLACED ON RADIO

London, Feb. 15—English children may be forced to get their bedtime stories through the old-fashioned channels instead of by radio, if the monopolistic methods employed by the country's latest infant industry continue, who are beginning to criticize severely the innumerable restrictions placed on purchasers of radio sets.

When the wireless telephone craze first struck England it was decided to avoid the mistakes made by the pioneer Americans who found themselves in all sorts of difficulties over wave lengths. These troubles arose from the fact that competition among the broadcasters was unlimited.

Consequently the general post office under the telegraph act of 1869 claimed a monopoly over the industry and designated the British Broadcasting Company to take control over all radio affairs. The result is that every person who contracts the radio mania must obtain a license from the Post Office Department. Such a permit costs ten shillings.

Furthermore he is not allowed to rig up his own set but must buy his apparatus from the broadcasting company or some other manufacturer approved by it. In order to be thus approved a maker of radio sets must purchase a share in the company. In addition the manufacturer must pay to the general concern a tax on every set graduated according to the cost.

In order to make sure that the owner of every set has a license the post office has begun a house to house canvass. If the suspect-house holder has an unlicensed set, the postal authorities may obtain a search warrant and enter the premises. They are then permitted either to collect the license fee or destroy the apparatus.

HIGHER PRICES FOR TEA

The unsettled state of affairs all over the World has penetrated even to the remotest tea gardens in India. Labor troubles have occurred in the form of riots; dock strikes in Calcutta have delayed shipping, and the gardens have had great difficulty in securing a sufficient number of Coolies to pluck all the tea that could be obtained from the plants. This year eighty million pounds less tea has been produced than will be consumed, which has resulted in the price of tea rising steadily, as the effect of this tremendous shortage is being felt.

It is easy to forget what we do not wish to remember.

seeming to suffer, he concluded.

Following his lecture he showed lantern slides of many of the Indians and various scenes on the Island.

WHEN DOES BRONCHIAL TROUBLE BEGIN TO GET SERIOUS?

First it was a little throat tickle then a cough which grows severe. This neglected cough travels down the lungs, and it's mighty hard to treat. To treat throat trouble right use Catarrhoxone. It heals the sore spots, allays irritation, eases the cough, makes breathing regular, clears out the phlegm and frees the nostrils from crusts and accumulations. You can prevent colds, and keep free from Catarrh and bronchial trouble.
