INTERSCHOLASTIC TITLE

MAY BE DECIDED AT

ST. JOHN THIS AFTERNOON

Victory for St. John High Means Deciding Match Here on Saturday — Moncton High Team Looks Strong.

The fate of the N. B. Interscholastic Rugby title for 1923 is being decided today at St. John when Rothesay and St. John High meet for the second time. The Shamrock Grounds are the scene of battle and St. John High is favored. Fredericton High is certainly pulling for St. John as a victory for that team will make the decision of the league to rest with the game here on Saturday next.

In Good Condition.

Fredericton High is working out steadily under the instruction of Coach Cass. The team should give a good account of itself. Saturday no matter what may depend on the game. There is doubt concerning Capt. Earle Hickson. Because of injury he may not play. Simpson is the likely substitute in the event of Hickson being forced to stay out.

Moncton High Strong.

Moncton High which applied for admission to the N. B. Interscholastic but was refused because of distance between teams, looks like the best in Westmorland County. On Saturday the team journeyed to Sackville and trimmed Mt. Allison Academy 6 to 0 having a complete advantage. Possibly Moncton High will want to try the Interscholastic winners.

15,000 CALLED FAKE DOCTORS

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—The belief that approximately 15,000 physicians are practicing in the United States under bogus licenses, obtained through the fraudulent issuance of high school and medical school diplomas by "rings" in various parts of the country, was expressed here yesterday by William F. Sachs, former examiner for the Missouri School Department, in a confession to Howard Sidener, circuit attorney.

Sachs, who was sought in connection with the expose here of a "diploma ring" which was selling diplomas to unqualified persons, voluntarily appeared at Circuit Attorney Sidener's office and admitted his part in the "mill." He implicated Dr. Robert

OBJECTION TO SPECIALIZED FOUL SHOOTER

Intercollegiate Basketball League of U. S. A. Refuses to Adopt New Rule—Matter is Left Open.

New York, Oct. 23.—The executive committee of the Intercollegiate Basketball League at the Hotel Pennsylvania failed to accept the recent ruling of the National rules committee abolishing the specialized foul shooter. The delegates representing Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Yale, failed to come to any final decision on the disputed question and left it open until the meeting on Dec. 3.

The National organization has ruled that in the future the man against whom the foul is committed shall do the shooting.

William M. Barber, Yale 1902 was reelected president of the league and Ellwood Kemp, Columbia 1919 secretary-treasurer. The executive committee is composed of D. Meenan Jr., Columbia; Romeyn Berry and E. W. Butler, Cornell; S. D. Kilmarx, Dartmouth; Ralph Morgan, Pennsylvania; H. H. Salmon Jr., Princeton and William M. Barber, Yale.

RACE RECEIPTS SURPASSED ANY SERIES GAME

That crowd at Belmont Park Saturday did not equal the Yankee Stadium crowds at the World's Series games according to reports but the receipts were about double those of any game of the baseball classic.

Adcox, of St. Louis, and Drs. D. R. Alexander and Ralph Voight, of Kansas City, as members. The three physicians have been arrested and released on bond.

During the conference with Mr. Sidener, Sachs said he had evidence of at least 100 physicians practicing throughout the country without genuine licenses and would later present these names to Sidener, together with those he believes are operating in Missouri under fraudulent licenses.

Explaining his part, Sachs told Sidener that he had sold principally the high school certificates although he admitted having sold a few medical diplomas.

LITTLE SISTER AS CHAPERON

(New York Sun.)

Despite what some people may say the chaperon is still with us, even though she may not be all that a chaperon is supposed to be. The other night in Riverside Drive Park one was observed functioning.

She was a youngster about eight years of age. Her sister was entertaining or being entertained on a bench by a young sailor, an arm was around a waist, a hand was upon a shoulder, and endearing words were being murmured into a receptive ear.

On the same bench a few feet away was the small chaperon—sound asleep.

ALL EYES ON SACKVILLE

THIS WEEK, ACADIA AND

MT. ALLISON PLAYING THERE

MURPHY WON SIXTY FOUR RACES ON THE GRAND

Stable Won More than $100,000—Some Horses are Still Racing in North Carolina.

Thomas W. Murphy won 64 of the 264 races decided at the 12 meetings of the Grand Circuit. Berry also won a race for him with Lambert Todd at Readville. In addition to the above he found time to drop into Springfield and win the $12,000 free-for-all with Czar Worthy and equal Uhlan's half mile track record of 2.02½ with Peter Manning at Allentown. The winnings of the Murphy stable this year amounted to over $100,000 and a few of its members are now racing over the half mile tracks in North Carolina.

Murphy made his first start in 1923 at the Cleveland July meeting. He won five races that week and five the following one at Toledo. Three more were added at Kalamazoo where Margaret Dillon was forced out of a race on account of being doped by the "poison squad." At Columbus, Murphy won with Mrs. Yerkes and Merriman. Three more races were added at the Windsor meeting where Czar Worthy landed the free-for-all in 2.03½. From that point to the close of the season, Murphy was kept busy picking up first monies. He won five at Toledo five at Cleveland, six at Syracuse where he marked Hollywood Leonard in 2.03½, 11 at Columbus where Mrs. Yerkes equalled the season's trotting race record by winning in 2.02½ and six at Lexington where after winning the Transylvania with Rose Scott he reduced her record to 2.00½ in a trip against the watch.

The 50th renewal of the Grand Circuit opened at Cleveland on July 2 and closed at Lexington on Oct. 11 after a run of 15 weeks. As has been stated there were 264 races contested at the 12 meetings 150 being for trotters and 108 for pacers. The latter raced 347 heats and the trotters 442 making 789 for the trip. The purses amounted to $579,896.75. Last year the total was $517,012.25 and $584,097.07 in 1921.

THE RADIO BUG SAID TO LIKE A CHANGE IN "SCENERY"

(New York Sun.)

The man who has sold his crystal set at half price and bought "something lots better" has developed symptoms that annoy his wife beyond all expression. Now she has found out that it is a common complaint, the restlessness complex.

When you go in he seats you near the little black box and arranges the extra headpiece to suit your coiffure almost as soon as he has said good evening.

There is no waste of words and you can't talk. If you are not wearing the headpiece some one else is. If you are waiting your turn to view the remains you sit and guess what the other person is hearing by his expression. If he chortles loud and long it is a funny story in dialect. If he looks sad and reminiscent it is a love song in Schenestady.

All used to be well until this complex developed into an uncontrollable desire to see if you cannot "get" Philadelphia. In the midst of a political speech you hear the eternal love song. This disappears in the thrilling climax of a bed-time story. Before you have recovered from that, you are hearing the returns from the prize fight.

In the midst of that everything dies away and your friend whispers: "I think I can get Chicago. Just wait a minute."

Home Team Should be Favorite — No Game for U. N. B. Likely This Week—Fraser's Remarkable Kick.

The prospect is that University of New Brunswick Rugby squad will have a rest this week as available teams for a Saturday game are few and far between. The Red and Black has met both Moncton and St. John Trojans and those teams are to play one another Saturday.

Next week will be taken up by preparation for the intercollegiate game with Mt. Allison here on November 2. A big crowd is expected for the match. If the highways remain good there should be many motor parties here for the game.

All Eyes on Sackville.

All eyes on Sackville now as Acadia and Mount A. will tussle there Thursday in the opening match of the Western Section. There are no forecasts although Mt. Allison playing on home grounds should be the favorite.

U. N. B. Working Steadily.

U. N. B. is working steadily with good turnouts. Paul Fraser of the three-quarter division is working well. He is known all over the Maritimes as one of the strongest kicking backs in the game. In practice Tuesday he performed a most unusual stunt. From placement at midfield on a kick-off he drove the ball over the bar. The U. N. B. field is now regulation size so the kick was fifty-five yards. Unfortunately such a kick counts nothing on score but the power of the kicker should count heavily on converts and penalty kicks.

The Eastern Section.

In the Eastern Intercollegiate section the victory of St. Francis Xavier over N. S. Tech at Halifax Monday puts St. F. X. at the top of the section. Today St. F. X. will meet Dal. In the opening game N. S. Tech beat King's.
