Then moisten a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, so soft, lustrous and so easy to do up. All dust and excessive oil is removed.

Let "Danderine" put new life, vigor and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, check dandruff and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick strong and beautiful.

GIRLS NOT WANTED IN ENGINE ROOM

London, Jan. 26—Evidently marine workers do not relish the idea of a girl shipping as an engineer. At least according to C. Booth, district secretary of the Amalgamated Marine Workers' Union. Miss Victoria Drummond who recently startled shipping men by going to sea in the engine room of the Blue Funnel liner Anchises wearing trousers, will be the last as well as the first girl to be a ship's engineer.

"There's not the least chance of the owners repeating the experiment said Booth flatly. "Women will not be substituted for men in the engine room of a ship at sea." According to him Miss Drummond was permitted to sail to enable her to complete eighteen months at sea, thereby qualifying her as a fully certified engineer. What Miss Drummond thinks of all this only she knows, and she is not telling.

REEL CERTAIN.

Miss Catt—She only gave us a brief synopsis of her past.
Miss Nipp—Don't worry. Her friends will see to the continuity.

"Have a heart!" said Osler to McGill University.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Says Heavy Breed of Poultry Are the Best

The first purebred chickens that I owned were Brown Leghorns writes Miller Purvis in The Breeder's Gazette. For ten year I kept no other kind. For about twenty years I kept other kinds and the Brown Leghorns keeping the other kinds spasmodically a year of two at a time. First I added Barred Rocks to my yards disposing of them within a year or two then Wyandottes appeared under several different names and I took them up for a few years always keeping the Brown Leghorns. I have always kept them and they are still my favorites although for a number of years they have not been my most profitable variety.

About twelve years ago I became interested in Barred Rocks and White Rocks. I had kept White Rocks for two or three years when they first came into notice but at that time they did not have much to recommend them as they have much to indifferent layers and hard to breed entirely out of the strain that I began with and I have kept them ever since. A year or two later I took on Buff Rocks and a little later White Leghorns from a flock that had been trap-nested for fifteen years and is probably the best-known flock in the country.

All this had given me an opportunity of observing the performance of both large and small breeds and get an idea of the relative profits that may be expected for both kinds the laying contests have produced winners among Barred Rocks White Rocks, Buff Orpingtons and White Wyandottes so many times that it is absurd to claim that any one breed has an outstanding lead in laying ability. It we are going to talk about the best specimens we can find leaders in any of the more popular breeds and varieties.

If we are to take general averages as the criticism by which to judge, I am willing to admit that the White Leghorn is the leader even if this is not the case in my yards. In an argument I would be ready to give the average White Leghorn the advantage of two dozen eggs in a year which is being liberal to the Leghorn. From several sources I have evidence that it costs about 20 cents a year more to keep a Plymouth Rock than it does to keep a Leghorn so the Leghorn has the advantage of 20 cents plus two dozen eggs say 50 cents making 70 cents in all in a year.

No worn out hen is ever sold for what it costs to keep her. What she sells for when she ceases to be a profitable layer does not represent the cost of feeding her from the time she is hatched until she is sold. She is a waste product after she has finished profitable laying and whatever she sells for is just so much additional to the revenue of the owner. Before me lie quotations—I get them every Monday morning—giving the prices that I can get for poultry including old hens. The quotations are always good until the Saturday following the Monday when I get them. This particular card is dated Oct. 9 and comes from Seattle which is my marketing point for poultry products. It reads:

"Hens heavy, weighing 4 1-2 pounds 24 cents hens medium weighing 3 1-2 pounds 17 cents; hens light 3 1-2 pounds and under 12 cents.

The last lot of Plymouth Rocks hens—Buff and White that I sent to market weighed a little more than 6 pounds each. At present prices those hens would have sold for $1.44 each. At the time they were sold for $2.10 each. The average Leghorn hen reaches the market to-day in the 3 1-2 pound class and is worth 42 cents which is $1.02 less than a 6 pound Plymouth Rock would be worth.

Assume that the hens of the two varieties that were sold were 18 months old when sold and that it had cost 30 cents more for feed for the Plymouth Rock that it was to feed the Leghorns. Also assume that the Leghorns had averaged two dozen eggs each more than the Plymouth during the year that they had laid this makes 80 cents difference in favor of the Leghorn in the way of saving feed and getting extra eggs. This added to the 42 cents that she sold for would make $1.12 as against the $1.44 which the Plymouth Rock sold for—a difference in favor of the Plymouth Rock of 32 cents which may be counted clear profit in favor of the "double-decker."

MEDICAL STAFF WON VICTORY

Sydney, Jan. 24—Sydney medical men have won a complete victory in their fight for recognition by the local hospital board. The hatchet in the hospital war was formally buried at a joint session of the doctors, the hospital board and interested citizens. The board agreed to recognize in future the medical staff of the hospital and consult it upon all matters of a technical nature. The doctors complained that the board played politics in making their appointments and decisions as to technical affairs, without getting expert advice. When the board paid no attention to their representations, the doctors disbanded the medical staff, refused to lecture to the student nurses and otherwise took measures to protest.

WOULD STOP EXPORT OF XMAS TREES

Montreal, Jan. 25—Stoppage of the export of hundreds of thousands of young spruce trees to be sold as Christmas trees, was urged at the closing session of the convention of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association held here today. It was pointed out that this trade was greatly expanding and meant the sale of an enormous number of young trees which, if left to mature, would add much more to the wealth of the country than any immediate profits by their sale as Christmas trees could bring.

Most of the day was devoted to discussions on forest conservation and the necessity of stabilizing the timber and lumber industry so as to stop runaway markets and speculative profits. It was generally considered that the day of cheap lumber had forever gone.

HARD TO FIT.

A city man driving his automobile along a little used country road something rattle beneath his car, stopped, looked back and saw a bright metal object lying in the road a short distance behind. It was a plow-point evidently lost by some farmer.

It was fully half an hour before the next car came along and its occupant the first man flat on his back under his vehicle by the roadside, stopped and asked what the trouble was.

The city man emerged and held up the plow-point.

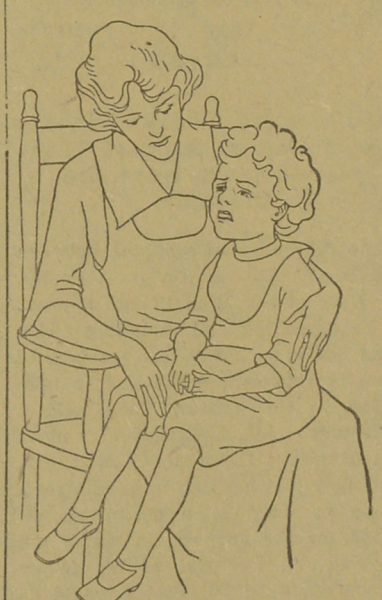

"This blooming thing dropped off my car" he said, "and I've been hunting for half an hour to find out where it belongs."

HIGH STEPPING.

She—I wonder what Sir Walter Raleigh said to the Queen when he put his coat down for her?
He—Probably, "Step on it Kid."

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. ## GENERAL GOOD WISHES LIKELY TO BE TAINTED

London Jan. 26—In trying to satisfy the voracious appetite of a romantic and royalty-loving public eager to have all the details of the doings of the Duke of York and his fiancée London newspapers have said a few things that were susceptible to more than one interpretation.

One remarked "Lady Elizabeth has little that is modern in appearance and yet she is always charmingly dressed." This contribution was signed by "A Fried."

The Laborite Daily Herald comments on the latter as a paradox to women. It decrees the fuss made over the engagement saying the public is surfeited with the intimacies of the royal love match to such an extent that the general good wishes for a happy marriage are likely to be tainted by a revolt against "the silly pretention that it is the only things which counts in the world today.

Speedy Relief for Cold in Head

Rub a little Minard's between your hands and inhale. It will speedily relieve the severest cold in the head.

J. G. Leslie of Dartmouth, N.S. who uses it for this purpose, writes that "it will never fail to relieve cold in the head in 24 hours".

Also best for sprains, bruises, etc.

Always keep a bottle of Minard's Liniment on the shelf.
