WANT HELP FROM SHAREHOLDERS

Ottawa, Dec. 3—Appealing to a meeting of local L. R. Steel shareholders here Saturday night J. C.
MacKenzie of Toronto stated that there was a pressing need for $600,- 000 which sum would be sufficient to settle with the creditors and take the Canadian assets of the company out of the hands of the receivers. The offer was only open until Jan. 5 next. Mr. MacKenzie asked for the Ottawa shareholders to subscribe on a ten per cent basis on their stock holdings to the protective association.

By acting immediately MacKenzie stated the share holders could prevent the assets of the company being disposed of to the MacKinnon Syndicate of New York "for a song."

BOILED CREAM FILLING FOR CREAM PUFFS.

Cook together in a saucepan a cup of milk and 2 even teaspoonfuls of corn starch wet up with cold milk.
Stir steadily until the milk thickens.
Then pour gradually upon a well beaten egg into which has been whipped half cup of sugar. Return to fire and stir until thick. Set aside to cool and when lukewarm add vanilla flavoring. When cold fill the puff with the mixture.

few cents. Druggists sell millions of packages.

REV. DR. DUNCAN WAS ANSWERED

Newcastle, N. B., Nov. 27—A large ly attended meeting of Presbyterians was held in the Kirk Hall on Thursday evening when Rev. Dr. G. Duncan of Montreal and Judge O. S.
Crocket of Fredericton were heard in opposition to Church Union. One of the most interesting features was the intervention of Mrs. (Rev.) L. H. MacLean who in a speech which was quite unexpected reminded Dr. Duncan that she and others had not forgotten that not long ago he had gone so far towards union with Anglican Church that with other reverend gentlemen of Montreal, he had indicated his willingness for reordination at the hands of the Anglican Church. This was the church she said that had caused all the suffering harrying and martyrdom of the Covenantors whose flag he had been so proudly displaying yet Mr. Duncan she said was fighting this pact with the Methodist Church. A sister denomination of like ideals and purposes.

Mrs. MacLean said that she felt herself constrained to speak her mind especially when her husband was lying ill in bed at home and unable to be there to oppose the position of the Anti-Union leaders.

As we have often remarked, the neighborhood women's manner when they say something about somebody frequently conveys a much more forceful impression than their actual words do and when they inform you that they fear someone has been indiscreet it seems to mean about everything there is.—Bob Ryder, Ohio State Journal.

They put it mildly but think it outrageously.

"Wasn't there some talk of Mildred marrying a duke?"

"Yes but you see the duke didn't say anything about it."

HIS NEIGHBORS' RISIBILITIES

(New York Sun)

While Bagley still is a fresh air fiend and believes in sleeping out of doors under canvas he has at last decided to permit himself the extravagance of a sleeping bag, formerly he relied on the old fashioned blankets plus a small patent of his own. The blankets had a habit of slipping off his shoulders admitting cold breezes that frequently were conducive to a chick in his neck so to overcome this he attached to them a stout cord which in turn he fastened about his neck.
Everything worked satisfactorily until the other morning. The knots became snarled and tangled. Bagley could not undo them. He was obliged to the amusement of his neighbors to cross his lawn to his house to seek assistance and Bagley is a sensitive soul.
