PERSONNEL IS ANNOUNCED

Lord Robert Cecil in the List—McKenna May be Chancellor.

(Special to the Daily Mail)
London, May 26—Appointment of the new Stanley Baldwin Cabinet was favourably commented upon by political leaders and newspapers today. Indications are Reginald McKenna, chairman of the London joint city and Midland bank will be appointed to the post of Chancellor of the Exchequer as soon as he recovers from an illness.

London, May 26—The new administration was completed tonight and is in readiness to meet Parliament which reassembles on Monday.

There have also been a few changes in the Government arrangement, but otherwise they are the same as those who had things in charge before Bonar Law resigned.

Objects in View

Stanley Baldwin the new Prime Minister, in assuming the post of head of the Government had two objects in view, first, to secure a stronger Government than the one under Mr. Bonar Law, and second, if possible, to reunite the Conservative party. To some extent, he is considered to have succeeded in his first purpose but to have entirely failed in the second. None of the Conservatives who "went into the wilderness" with David Lloyd George when the coalition Government collapsed, have seen their way clear to enter the Government. All negotiations with this aim with Sir

WANTS C. P. R. OR C. N. R. TO TAKE OVER ROAD

President of B. & M. Ry. Wants Amalgamation with Canadian System

Washington, May 26—A suggestion that an arrangement be made between the Boston & Maine railroad and either the Canadian Pacific Railway or the Canadian National Railway was placed before the interstate commerce commission here today, at the hearing on consolidation of the New England railroads, by President James H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine.

"The Boston & Maine has a substantial interchange with the Canadian Pacific direct and with the Grand Trunk (now the Canadian National Railways) through the Central Vermont," President Hustis said. "New England traffic is regarded as attractive by both of these lines, and a high quality of service is maintained through these northern gateways, which has probably been quite as effective in maintaining the popularity of these routes as have the western differential rates."

"The suggestion has been made that one or the other of these lines might take over the Boston & Maine. It is doubtful whether the commission has power under the statute to recommend consolidation of American roads with the two large Canadian systems. Moreover, important political considerations would be involved in such an arrangement."

U. S. TROOPS TO BE RUSHED TO TEIN TSIN

(Special to the Daily Mail)
Peking, May 26—American troops in Manila are soon to be rushed to Tien Tsin it was reliably stated here tonight. The American legation refuses either to confirm or deny the report. The forces were demanded in a resolution forwarded by the state department by the American Chamber of Commerce. It is presumed they would be used either actively or passively in attempting to induce the Chinese bandits to release the American prisoners seized nearly three weeks ago after the wreck of the Shanghai-Peking express.

QUEEN HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

(Special to the Daily Mail)
Aldershot, England, May 26—Queen Mary and Princess Mary narrowly escaped serious accident during the bridging manoeuvres of the Royal Engineers here. A motor lorry turning suddenly struck the car of Commander in Chief General Chetwodes which was just behind the Royal car there were no casualties.

Robert Horne and Austen Chamberlain failed, apparently because, although Sir Robert seemed willing, the others were disinclined to acquiesce unless all could enter together and the "die-hards" section of the Conservatives obstinately refused to have anything to do with Lord Birkenhead. Premier Baldwin has obtained a promise from Reginald McKenna, the famous head of the great City and Midland Bank to take over the Chancellorship of the Exchequer a few months hence, should Mr. McKenna's health permit.

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA WERE DESCRIBED

Rev. F. F. Komlosy, Chairman of Russian Relief and Reconstruction Fund, at Memorial Hall.

Conditions in Russia under Soviet rule were described Friday night by Rev. F. F. Komlosy, chairman of the Russian Relief and Reconstruction Fund, who is touring for the purpose of presenting the situation. He was in St. John prior to coming here and this evening leaves for Boston where he will speak tomorrow in the Church of the Advent.

Very Rev. Dean Neales was in the chair last night. The audience was not as large as it should have been. The speaker is a clergyman of the Church of England of Hungarian descent but whose family has been in England for several generations. He is an associate member of the League of Nations and has become conversant with conditions in Russia through personal experience.

In an eloquent address he set forth some of the handicaps under which Russia is laboring today, particularly in reference to the debauching of children and mocking all forms of religion. Some children received recently at the schools carried on by the Fund had to be segregated from the others on account of the lack of morals shown by them.

Rev. Mr. Komlosy in his story of the deplorable conditions said in part:

"Think of your own children, or other dear children you know, in like condition through no fault of their own. Here is an extract from a Bolshevik newspaper: 'there are thousands and thousands of homeless children (in Moscow) living in abandoned houses and cellars; gangs of them from 10 years upwards, congregating together as beggars, thieves, prostitutes, swarming in the streets.'"

"Can the condition of these children be wondered at when the Soviet Government itself has approved the establishment of the 'Komsomol,' or 'Union of Young People,' which consists of youths and girls depraved by systematic effort in the last five years? The main purpose of this organization is anti-religious. Obedience to or respect for parents is labelled as a bourgeois prejudice; marriage is described as an outworn institution; burlesques of all known religious observances are applauded in the press, and in all the important towns, youths as well as adults, grotesquely attired in profanation of all objects of veneration, perform antics through the streets and make obscene orations in mockery of religious rites. A vast multitude of semi-illiterate, corrupt, immoral, godless young men and women has resulted, whose highest ideals are to satisfy the cravings of their licentious appetites."

REDS SEIZE GERMAN TOWN, APPLY TORCH

RED FLAG IS HOISTED

Scores Wounded in the Fight for Gelsenkirchen Mob.

Essen, May 26—The Communists have taken possession of police headquarters at Gelsenkirchen and have hoisted the red flag over the building.

Reports from German sources say that five persons were killed and 61 wounded in the fighting for the possession of the building. The struggle began late last night and continued until early this morning.

Defenders Flee

The building is said to have been defended by the civilian organization, which was finally forced to quit when one wing was set on fire by the attacking mob.

The fighting was not restricted to the building, but spread through the streets and many street cars were shattered. A number of non-residents were wounded.

The trouble began to take serious form yesterday afternoon when a Communist "commission of control" visited the shops, demanding that the prices of foodstuffs be cut in half. The housewives of the city, hearing that the stores were complying with this demand, swooped down upon them and exhausted the supplies in a short time.

Crowds Launch Attack

Meanwhile the streets began to fill with people and a general scramble ensued. As the security police had been expelled in February the town was without protection except for a force of firemen, which had been doing some patrol duty.

This force was called upon to make an effort to disperse the crowd. It was aided by the newly formed civilian self-defense league, the members of which are armed with clubs but not guns.

The interference of the firemen and the self-defense league force seemed only to add fuel to the fire, and the crowd began counter-attacking. In one instance the demonstrators attacked a squad of them and burned the truck, which was being used as a patrol wagon.

French Keep Out

Seeing matters were growing worse, the firemen began using their revolvers, this resulting in several persons being killed and others wounded. At least 40 wounded persons are reported to have been treated in the hospitals.

Additional French troops were ordered into Gelsenkirchen, which is in the Essen region six miles northwest of Bochum, but it was announced there was no intention on the part of the French to interfere so long as the demonstrators did not clash with the French military.

When the French troops appeared they were cheered by the Germans, who thought the military had come to suppress the demonstrations. But the French merely went to their various posts and looked on.

IS INVITED TO CANADA

London, May 25—Lloyd George has received an invitation to visit Canada is September and further invitation to visit the United States in November.

He has made no definite promise and is now considering whether he will be able to accept.

If the invitations are accepted it is stated that the tour would include a visit to Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Washington and New York.

something beyond an attempt merely to save the bodies of the children. If Russia is eventually to work out her own salvation she must now be given help, so as many as possible of the coming generation may be saved, built up and made ready, mentally, morally and spiritually, to play a part many a great part, in the future regeneration and reconstruction of their country. Can there be a greater work than such an effort to save a nation? Will Canada help?

BATTLING BIG FOREST FIRE NEAR CAPE COD

Flames Sweep Along Three-Mile Front — Menace Falmouth.

Boston, May 26—More than 100 villagers from the towns of Bourne, Bourne, Monument Beach, Cataumet and other near-by hamlets are today battling with a wall of flame nearly three miles in length and sweeping before the drive of a 16 mile northeast wind in the direction of Cataumet and Falmouth.

All the villages in the region are threatened by the flames which after having been partially stopped near the middle of the night last night started early today with renewed vigor.

At the same time another fass of flames surmounted by rolling clouds of smoke that can be seen for many miles was raging in the woods near Forestdale and the vicinity of Sandwich. According to Walton S. Raymond observer in the fire tower at Bournedale the fire was increasing in area and threatened nearby villages. The blaze was reported to have started yesterday at 11.15 A. M. having been discovered by Raymond burning about Telegraph hill near Monument Beach. Linemen had been at work back in the woods making repairs and it was close to the spot where they have been employed for the past three days that the fire was first seen.

Fought Fire All Night.

When discovered it was sweeping toward North Pocasset. Then the wind shifted and it turned toward Bourne and Bournedale.

Fire summonses were sent out to all the villages and fire wardens immediately marshalled their crews and went into the woods. The fire fighting continued all the afternoon yesterday. Gangs remained in the woods all last night. This morning every fan available in the locality is in the army of men now struggling to keep back the twisting walls of flame. Before dawn today, under a sharp southwest breeze the flames started again in the woods back of the villages of Bourne, Bournedale and Sandwich.
