AROUND

the TOWN

June the month of roses and blushing brides will soon be here but so far the indications do not point to a record breaking crop of either. In deed the knowing ones declare that the local matrimonial market is in the doldrums, and they do not look for an early recovery. Of course there will be lots of June weddings but the high contracting parties will be mostly residents of near by rural districts, who will journey in by train or flivver in the morning get spliced and return home in the evening in time for the charvari. Some months ago the pastor of a local church reproached the young people of his congregation for moving so slowly in the direction of the matrimonial altar, but his words had no appreciative effect. If there is not a boom in the matrimonial market soon something will have to be done otherwise the crop of old maids at the close of another decade will be greatest in the city's history.

A lot of disciples of Isaak Walton of both sexes spent Victoria day at nearby fishing resorts in quest of elusive trout, but the catch seems to have been a very light one. A few years ago the Nashwaak River offered good sport for anglers on Victoria day but the building of a dam at Marysville destroyed fishing in that stream. Being very easy of access it had many visitors on Victoria day but there were no fish taken. The various books emptying into the Nashwaak were freely whipped, but the fish did not seem to be in a biting mood. Fishermen are endowed with great patience and can always find a good excuse for a poor catch. This time they had a real excuse as the season is backward and the water high. Instead of grouching over their ill luck the majority of those who were out on Victoria day are now planning big things for the King's birthday, which as luck will have it falls on Monday. Now fishermen who were promised a mess of trout on Victoria day by their angler friends and did not get them still have another chance.

Mr. F. B. Edgecombe, president of the F. B. Edgecombe Co. Ltd. and his son, Emerson, plan to leave next month on a trip to Europe and will be absent about two months. Mr. Edgecombe does not often tear himself away from his business for a holiday, but when he does get away he usually manages to enjoy himself. It is his intention to spend some weeks in the British Isles and also cross the channel for a tour of the battlefields. When Mr. Edgecombe last visited the old country over thirty years ago he met with a peculiar and rather amusing experience which he enjoys relating to his friends. It seems that in his wanderings about London some evil disposed person evidently mistaking him for an easy mark, passed the buck to him in the form of a bogus sovereign. Later on Mr. Edgecombe in his blissful innocence tried to exchange the coin for theatre tickets and found himself in serious trouble with the authorities. He was escorted to a police station where he was questioned and cross questioned at some length, but in the end was able to convince the authorities that he was not engaged in the manufacture of phoney coin. Of course he was discharged and it is needless to say that he picked up no more counterfeit money during the rest of his stay in England.

The late Frederick Ireland, whose death at Washington, D. C. has already been referred to in these columns, frequently made hunting and fishing trips to this province, and enjoyed great popularity with the trainmen on the old Canada Eastern Railway. The train on which he travelled from Fredericton to Boiestown was once described by him in a magazine article as "a little railroad train, half passenger and half freight." Conductor A. Logan who was in charge of this train once did Mr. Ireland a good turn, and he appreciated it so much that he described it in detail in several magazine articles. It seemed that Mr. Ireland had been out moose hunting with Uncle Henry Braithwaite in the Miramichi woods and came out on the day before Thanksgiving having accepted an invitation to spend the holiday with friends in Portland, Me. When the train reached Cross Creek Mr. Ireland and his guide got off to "see a man" who as waiting for them in a little shack near the station. When they emerged from the place it was to make the startling discovery that the train had pulled out and left them. Ten minutes later when they were trying to devise ways and means of continuing their journey they heard the whistle of a locomotive and soon afterwards their lost train backed into the station and stopped. "All aboard," was the greeting extended to them by the genial Conductor Logan. The conductor afterwards explained that he had missed his passengers after the train had gone about two miles, and concluded that the only thing to do was to return for them. It is needless to say that Mr. Ireland enjoyed the incident very much.

The tourist season will soon be upon us and it is important that arrangements should be made at once to provide a parking site for visiting motorists. The change in the rule of the road from left to right has proved very popular and it is sure to be a factor in bringing an increased number of motorists to the province. Dr. Doolittle of Toronto who spoke before the city club here last winter on good roads gave an assurance that a number of Ontario motorists would find their way east this season for the first time.

Dr. Bliss Carman, Canada's poet laureate, has no reason to complain of the lack of cordiality in the welcome extended to him during his recent visit to the province. It was certainly a happy thought on the part of the officers of the Alumni Society in asking him to speak for it at the U. N. B. Incarnia exercises. Although Dr. Carman has made his home in the United States for many years he is still a loyal Canadian and now is announced that he has decided to take up his residence in British Columbia. Dr. Carman like many other men possessed of literary genius has never been able to achieve any great share of the world's goods, but he is rich in friends and admirers. A few years ago when his health broke down his friends all over the country promptly came across with funds to enable him to take an extended sojourn in the Adirondacks. His health was restored and he remembered his friends with copies of a poem describing in detail how with the aid of a pair of snowshoes he had won the battle against ill health. Dr. Carman is Canada's greatest poet and it is pleasing to know that he is returning to his native land to take up his abode.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE TOWN

Big Change in a Few Years.
An old timer says he saw the article in the Mail about the license plates on New Brunswick automobile now running into five figures. He says it seems but a few years ago that the Chestnut boys Will and Harry brought the first automobile to the Province. Now the country is full of them. Such is progress. $32000 1. $32,000 was taken in one day recently by the Public Works Department for license plates.

Too Cold for Fever.

"Spring Fever"? The Doctor repeated the gag "Will this year hasn't been good for it. The mornings have been too cool and the evenings too chilly. Good spring fever weather has to be warm for close to 24 hours June look out for people who imagine when that happens in May and tarry that they have lost all the pep they ever had and if them are 40 and over they indulge indefinitely contemplation of a speedy death from old age.

HAD BAD PAINS IN HER HEART

Nerves Were Very Bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I wish to say that I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors but did not find much relief. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times, I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep. I f the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could not lie still and would only get a little sleep by being tired out. My stomach was also very bad and I could eat but very little, and then only certain things or I would have so much distress which always made my heart worse. I had been suffering for nearly two years until one day I was talking to our druggist about the way I felt. He advised me to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair trial. I have now taken five boxes and am feeling so much better, I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills
