Of Interest to the Women

BLACK SATIN AND FELT HATS ARE NOW MUCH IN VOGUE.

Fashion frequently is in a contradictory mood. She follows caprice and whim and is seemingly illogical. Take the matter of hats for instance. If one moves in an orbit around which teas and matinees and formal town life revolves one is apt to be so impressed by the fact that black is the approved head covering that it is a distant shock to find in other circles that black is drowned in a sea of color.

New York is the recognized style centre at least in America if not in the world and when Miss Manhattan donned her best hat to go to the horse show for instance it was black and nearly always of satin. But when Miss Smart Set from several cities came to the various stadiums and bowls to watch the football warriors her choice in millinery would put the rainbow to shame while her coat and furs were as colorful as her hat.

A black hat is always in impeccable taste while a colored one depends largely on whether it is in harmony with the ensemble for its effect. In Paris black and brown still rule. There are many who sponsor the black satin hat and although it may seem out of season is at present the most approved among the elect. The reason for this is not difficult to ascertain—felt, once the darling of the gods of fashion has become too universally accepted to be permitted to remain unchallenged.

Velvet was tried and while not found wanting did not seem to fill the breach and did so satisfactorily. Combinations in which felts play a part are being worn and velvets especially in conjunction with fur are both flattering and seasonable.

A great deal of silver is being used on our winter hats and feather novelties with interesting appliques of fur have become formidable rivals to ribbon which earlier in the season was the most desired of trimming.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE.

Soak one tablespoonful of gelatine in a quarter cup of cold water then add one third cup of scalded cream one third cup of powdered sugar and 1 teaspoonful of vanilla. Set bowl in a pan of ice water and stir constantly till it begins to thicken then fold in whip from 3 cups of thin cream. If gelatine mixture becomes too thick melt over hot water and again cool before adding whipped cream. Place lady fingers or strips of sponge cake around inside of mold about one half inch apart turn in mixture and chill.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING.

Chop a half cup of suet very fine and dredge occasionally with flour to make the chopping easier. Then add a half pound of figs finely chopped. Take two and a half cups of bread crumbs and moisten with three-quarters of a cup of milk and four well beaten eggs. Combine these two mixtures then add one cup of brown sugar one teaspoonful of salt, three-fourths of a teaspoon of grated nutmeg half a cup of English walnut meats broken small half a cup of seeded raisins cut and two teaspoons of baking powder sifted in two tablespoons of flour. Mix all together very thoroughly. Turn into a buttered mold covered, leaving enough room for rising and steam for three hours. Serve with a yellow sauce.

COFFEE SOUFFLE.

Soak 1 tablespoonful of gelatine in 2 tablespoonfuls of cold water for five minutes then dissolve in 1 and a half cups of strong boiling hot coffee. Add a half cup of milk, two-thirds cup of sugar a quarter teaspoonful of salt and yolks of 3 eggs slightly beaten. Cook in a double boiler until mixture thickens. Remove from range then add the whites of 3 eggs beaten until stiff and half a teaspoon of vanilla. Mold, chill and serve with cream.

CRAB AND TOMATO SALAD.

Take 1 cup of hard shelled crab meat and mix with 2-3 cup of celery cut small. Peel and quarter half a dozen small tomatoes and add to the mixture. Arrange on lettuce leaves, garnish with Mayonnaise small sections of tomato and curled celery.

NORTH OXFORD BLAZE DESTROYS WOOLEN MILL

Oxford, Dec. 12.—Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion destroyed one of the buildings of the Gordon Woollen Mills, Inc., at North Oxford tonight, causing a loss estimated at $16,000.

Firemen saved the main plant only after a hard battle with the flames. The loss is covered by insurance.

ONLY FOR THE SLENDER.

Paris.—The official winter style openings are now a thing of the past but while there is the greatest variety in the matter of detail and one is allowed the circular or the plain the embroidered and the unembroidered the fundamental principle of the "straight line" remains supreme.

For street and travel wear the classic tailleur has the call and so many women have remained faithful to it despite the changing times that the great textile manufacturers of northern France are now creating fabrics designed especially for it.

The kasha, marokellaine and velours de Smyrne, particularly the latter are the materials used by most of the Parisian dressmakers for tailleurs and coats.

Simplicity is the keynote. Button or braid trimmed or without adornment, these garments for morning and street wear all retain a snug, exact fit, which is causing despair among women who admit they are somewhat plump. Slim women on the other hand, have no fault to find. As a rule the coats of the 1924 tailleurs are longer than they have been for several seasons, in many cases about three quarters or more. They also take the simple straight lines and are often the wrap around variety extremely smart and very popular. Braided coats with fur collars and cuffs worn over simple little straight line dresses are a variation.

A tailored dress of tabac brown velours de Smyrne recently seen has buttons for trimming and button holes of dull blue leather. A dull blue leather belt completes the rather striking ensemble.

Models made of knitted goods incorporating into the tricot tailleurs all the fashionable features of the cloth article, were also ushered in with the first chill of autumn. Some of these knitted suits have boarders woven into them which give the same effect as embroidery.

DYSPEPSIA WAS SO BAD Could Hardly Eat Anything

Mrs. C. Stone, Nanticoke, Ont., writes: "Some time ago I had a very serious attack of dyspepsia, and was also troubled with gas on my stomach. I could hardly eat anything, and very often had pains after meals. I had used different medicines, but they did not seem to do me any good. At last I happened to run on the track of Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using it for a short time I felt a lot better. I continued its use until I was completely relieved and now I am ready to recommend it to anyone troubled as I was."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Honestly, It's The Best Policy

What happens to your income if you are laid aside by an accident or by sickness?

Most men depend for their own and their family's support on their own personal fitness and against the day of their honorable retirement they plan to build up capital.

The stopping of earning power is a serious disturbance of the plan, and the prudent man manages to put aside in the form of an insurance premium, a small sum to unload the risk on a first class Insurance Office.

A man in a non-hazardous employment rated as "Select" or "Preferred" can provide at a yearly cost of $16.00, $5,000 if he is killed or loses two limbs or both eyes.

$2,500 if he loses one limb.
$1,666 if he loses one eye.
and $100.00 per month up to 50 months if he is in any other manner totally incapacitated, whether temporarily or permanently, by an accident.
