QUEBEC CUT
OF LUMBER WILL NOT BE LARGEQuebec, Feb. 10—Lumber operations which early last fall and until December were expected to establish a record over the last decade, will not be as successful as first thought as a result of the weather conditions which have prevailed in the last few months.Lumber experts had stated that fifty per cent more timber would be cut this year in this province than in the best years of the last ten years of operation. Now they state that the cutting will hardly reach a hundred per cent of the year 1920.The lack of snow for several weeks in December prevented the hauling of the logs and the heavy snowfalls recorded in January have greatly impeded the lumber operations, as the cut wood is lying several feet under the snow. The success of the lumber year consequently now depends on the facilities of floating the wood which will be afforded next spring, and this is the only hope of compensation entertained by limit holders.Mother (from upstairs)—Pauline Quickly Broken UpWHEN the throat is sore, and the chest is tight and full of congestion, something strong enough to penetrate through the tissues must be applied quickly. To get the quickest results, apply good old "Nerviline". Rub it in deeply; it won't burn or blister, but it will bring the blood to the surface, will draw out the inflammation and subdue your cold and make you well in a short time. No other liniment so potent, so strong, so quick to bring soothing and relief as reliable old "Nerviline". Nearly fifty years in Act or to bring the same into effect in said County.Dated at the City of Fredericton the 26th day of January A. D. 1924.C. D. RICHARDS, Solicitor.THORNTON SAYS THAT THE C. N. R. WILL BE PAYING ITS WAY INSIDE OF TEN YEARSMontreal, Que., Feb. 12—"If the present Administration are permitted to carry out as conscientiously and as honestly as lies within our capabilities, the policies now governing the Canadian National Railways system, it will be as efficient a railway system as there is in the world.In these words, Sir Henry W.

Thornton addressing the eWestmount Women's Club in Victoria Hall, West-mount, summed up his belief in the future of the National Railways and his confidence that the system can be made not only a paying proposition but also one that will be on a basis of equality with those other great steam transportation systems of the world which are considered as models today.Continuing, Sir Henry said:
"I have said before, and I say it now, that in three years, with just average good luck, the Canadian National Railways will cease to be any longer a burden to the taxpayers of the Dominion. I place the time at ten years, when it will become second to none of all the railroad systems in the world because we will require that time to technically bring it to a degree of efficiency which other great railroads have reached in from fifty to sixty years of effort and experience.

Three Main Functions.

There are three main functions which a railway system must perform. Firstly to maintain solvency, second to provide adequate transportation at reasonable rates to the territories it serves and third, to pay its employees that rate of wages which will enable them to live in decency and to bring their children up in the proper manner.

Ask People to Judge.

"These three functions, the Canadian National Railways will seek to perform. There will be criticism, and there will be complaints. These are to be expected by any one who endeavors to carry on any duty of national importance. But I will only ask the people of Canada to judge themselves whether they feel this administration is honestly trying to serve the people. I am quite willing to leave the decision with the intelligence of the citizens of Canada.

Need Immigration.

In dealing with some of the problems of the National Railways, Sir Henry stated the need of the large volume of immigration. "I am entirely convinced," he said, "that the Dominion of Canada can easily, very easily, support a population of one hundred millions. If we had 25 millions in this country instead of nine, there would be no railway problems.TO MODERATE REGULATIONS
ON HEN FRUITOttawa, Feb. 9—There will be steps taken to moderate the regulations governing the grading of eggs for sale in Canada within the next month it was announced last night by Dr. J. H. Grisdale deputy minister of agriculture at a meeting of the Ottawa Poultry Association. This will take the form of lowering of the minimum weight per dozen for eggs called for in the government standards. "Canada ought to produce more eggs" said Dr. Grisdale. "Egg laying contests have been introduced to help in the building up of the flocks of the country and the Americans are beginning to believe in the effects of them in that they are buying cockerels and pullets in large numbers for breeding."The government purposes to send an exhibit to the world poultry convention in May to show what has been done and what the country intends doing in poultry raising.Dr. Grisdale said that Canadian eggs were in high standing on the English market because of the grading regulation in this country regarding eggs for export.

'Mountie', A Husky Veteran of the Trail

VISITORS to the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec and especially those who patronize the Winter Carnival there in February have a treat in store for them—that of driving behind a real northern dog-team, led by one of the greatest huskies "in the business," Mountie, the latest acquisition to the team.In November it was found necessary to secure a new leader for the Chateau Frontenac huskies. It was decided that none but the very best available would do. Wires and letters were sent broadcast throughout the Canadian sub-Arctic to Edmonton, Le Pas, Fort McMurray, and Peace River; in fact, to every point whence a husky of suitable standard might be secured. It was only after a three weeks' search by many authorities on huskies that Mountie was eventually secured at Le Pas, Manitoba, the price paid greatly exceeding that usually given.It was a real stroke of luck which secured this splendid animal, for he is a veteran of the northern trails and, more than that, as his name implies, has done practically all his service with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Hailing originally from Lac-du-Brochet, in the far North, he was bought by Sergeant Grennan of that famous force in 1919, whenvery young. His training was carried out by the Sergeant and so well did he acquit himself later that the Mounted Police wrote of him: "He has never missed a patrol or been a day off duty since we have had him."So he is a real Policeman and no mere movie hero, co-worker for years with the comrades of such men as Dempster, FitzGerald and other heroic trail-makers of Canada's glorious corps, a comrade grown old in battling through snow and storm on the King's business for the maintenance of the right.Mountie, as one of the finest huskies ever kept on the books of the Police, is a magnificent-looking fellow, a dark grey giant with shining, slit eyes, pointed ears and muzzle, thick fur and gleaming fangs. There is about him more than a breath of the keen, romance-laden Arctic winds and one is not surprised to learn from the Mounted Police that "he has always been admired wherever he has been, both from appearance and capabilities."The work at the Chateau Frontenac will be puppy's play to Mountie after the desperate toil he has known in the far North. But he deserves well of a people of Canada and has nobly earned his rest and the comfort he will henceforth enjoy.
