LITTLE STORIES
OF THE TOWN

Will You Be My Valentine?

"Well, Valentine time is here once more," said a dealer, "but there are very few sold nowadays. The penny dreadful is a thing of the past, although they say it is returning in the United States. There is still a sale of valentines among children for those ranging in price from five to twenty-five cents."

Overheard at The Bachelor's Ball.

She—"Do you think that a woman should tell everything she knows?"
He—"Yes, but that's all."

Likes Movie Atmosphere.

"I always like to see some young couple hold hands when I attend a moving picture show," says a York street merchant. "It adds atmosphere to the romantic feature I am watching."

TOOK A BIG JUMP WHEN
CHASED BY COPS

New York, Feb. 12—Patrick Ryan kicked out a fourth floor window in an apartment house yesterday when chased by two policemen and leaped into an airshaft. His only injuries were bruises, but he was so stunned to get away, and the policeman found him at the bottom of the shaft. At the station, where he was charged with attempted robbery, he was attended by an ambulance physician.

The policemen were summoned by Milton Cizek, delivery man for a department store, who told them that Ryan had held him up in the first floor hallway. In the chase Ryan tried the doors of several apartments in the hope of eluding the policemen, but all were locked.

Prince Erik of Denmark
Weds Granddaughter of Lumber King of the OttawaThe Marriage the Culmination of a Romance—
Groom to Renounce His Rights to the Danish
Throne—The Wedding a Brilliant Affair—
Daughters of Lord Byng Acted as Bridesmaids.

OTTAWA, Feb. 12—The most sumptuous post-war wedding in Canada has been solemnized and the royal house of Denmark is allied with that of a rugged Canadian pioneer and empire builder. All the fashionable world and his wife, and especially his wife flocked to the Sandy Hill district Monday afternoon, but only a comparative few got within a block of All Saint's Church where Lois Frances Booth of Ottawa was married to Prince Erik, Count Rosenberg first cousin to the Danish and British reigning monarchs. The marriage is the culmination of a romance begun several years ago when the Prince, then a young man, met Miss Booth. The groom is about 33, the bride is about 25. He will renounce all rights of succession to the Danish throne.

In the marriage license which the groom took out at City Hall yesterday morning, he described himself as Erik Prince of Denmark, and gave his residence as Markerville, Alta., in the Red Deer district. He has a ranch there.

Enter by Side Door.

Just before the hour set for the wedding, 4 p. m., the groom and his party slipped into the church by a side door. He had no best man, in the Canadian sense of the word but was attended by his father, according to the Danish custom. Prince Valdemar also represented his brother, the Danish King. The groom's younger brother, Prince Viggo, Count Roussy de Salles, Danish Consul-General to Canada, Count Luis de Moltke Huitfeldt and Colonel G. Fellowes were the ushers.

The ceremony itself was a symphony of lilies and Wagner, through which the ceremony of the Church of England threaded itself as the theme. His Lordship Bishop J. C. Roper, of the Anglican diocese of Ottawa, assisted by Rev. C. G. Hepburn, rector of All Saints, read the ceremony. The bride was dressed in conventional bridal satin with a long train. Her shower bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern and her entire costume was unrelieved by any note of color. The groom and his party wore conventional afternoon attire. The matron of honor, Mrs. W. D. Herdridge, and the four bridesmaids wore turquoise blue gowns and carried roses.

The Bridesmaids.

Lady Elizabeth and Lady Mary Byng, daughters of the Earl of Strathford; Miss Marjorie Cook and Miss Betty Henderson were the bridesmaids. There were also four little flower girls and four pages. John W. Bearder, F. R. C. O., presided at the organ. As the bride entered the Church the organ pealed the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. During the signing of the register the introduction to Act Three of Lohengrin was played and N. T. Allen sang "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," a ballad by Ernest R. Ball, which was popular more than a decade ago. The wedding party left the church to the strains of the great Mendelssohn wedding march.

The ceremony was performed under a huge bell of white flowers and fern, suspended on white satin streamers from the roof.

Nine Foot Arch.

The bridal party passed under a nine foot arch of Easter lilies and smilax, which was the principal note in the decorations which filled the church and turned it into a veritable garden. Here and there a military dress uniform contributed a dash of color, with the women's costumes furnishing relief for the dazzling white of the lilies.

Present in the church were their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Byng, representing the King and Queen; Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada and several members of the Government were also present. Men and women prominent in Canada's business and social life were there making by far the most impressive gathering ever seen here at a wedding ceremony.

Cake Five Feet High.

Several hundred people repaired to the residence of the bride's parents J. Fred Booth and Mrs. Booth, where a reception was held amidst a great bower of roses. A wedding cake five feet high was duly cut by the bride. Among the guests were Miss Eleanor Marguerite Green, of New York, who denied that her wedding to Prince Viggo will take place at once. "It will be well on in the spring," she said.

Prince and Princess Erik of Denmark, left Ottawa tonight for Montreal, Quebec City and New York, en route to Europe. Today's wedding is the first in which a Canadian commoner became a member of a royal household. The wedding was made the occasion for an unusual display of official and social recognition, and the event stirred Ottawa as no social happening has done for years. The customary Monday meeting of the Canadian cabinet was postponed to permit the Prime Minister and other members of the cabinet attending.

BOY SAVES
BABY SISTER
FROM FLAMES

Montreal, Feb. 11—Battling his way through smoke and flames, ten-year-old Lionel Rosetine carried his sleeping baby sister to safety, rescued a dog and a cat from the top floor of a house, and dragged sister, dog and cat on his tiny sleigh 300 yards to warmth and help, when an explosion and fire destroyed him father's home at Brooklyn, Chambly county, near here. He was clothed only in an overcoat and rubbers. The Rosetine home was destroyed.

The children's parents were attending a bridge party, when, at 12.30 o'clock in the morning, the arrival of the little hero at the house where the party was in progress warned them of the fire.

FOREST FIRE LOSSES HEAVY

Montreal, Feb. 11—Unless the enormous losses caused by fire are prevented, the accessible forest supplies of Canada can only last another 30 years at the outside, according to O. Sweezy, consulting engineer for banking and lumbering interests, who gave evidence before the Royal Commission on pulpwood here this afternoon.

Mr. Sweezy claimed that 90 per cent of the forests of Canada went up in smoke, as compared to 10 per cent destroyed by the axe.

BAD BLOOD
PIMPLES AND BOILS
Banished by
Burdock Blood Bitters

Miss Irene A. Matthews, Stainer, Ont., writes:—"I thought I would write and tell you of the experience and benefit I have derived from Burdock Blood Bitters."

Some few months ago I was troubled with bad blood which broke out on my face in the nature of pimples, boils and ring-worms, and I got so bad I really did not know what to do. I was ashamed to go anywhere, and the itching and burning caused such a terrible sensation I could get no relief day or night.

One day a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I used one bottle and felt quite a relief, and by the time I had taken 3 bottles I was completely relieved.

I cannot praise B.B.B. enough and I hope anyone afflicted like I was will get the same benefit I received. Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., 1000 Broadview Ave., Toronto, Ont.
