THE U. N. B. ENCAENIA.

The University of New Brunswick turned another milestone in its long and honorable career today when it radiated a class of forty-six young men and women. The encaenia exercises, which mark the end of the academic year, took place this afternoon and were highly successful in every way. Friends of higher education from all sections of the province were in attendance and excellent program carried out proved very interesting and enjoyable. The attendance during the term was large and the large graduating class furnished tangible evidence of the excellent work done by all departments of the institution.

The memorial hall, erected to perpetuate the memory of the students of the university who made the supreme sacrifice during the great war, was used for the first time today and naturally lent additional interest and zest to the proceedings. It is a magnificent building and makes a splendid addition to the equipment of the university. Various organizations composed of graduates of the institution who labored unceasingly to bring this fine memorial into being are deserving of all praise and have every reason to be proud of the result of their labors. The old university had a prosperous year and for this the members of the senate and faculty as well as the students are deserving of hearty congratulations. The outlook for the future of the institution is very promising. The U. N. B. fills an important place in connection with our educational system and is deserving of the hearty support of the people of this province in order that it may better fulfill its great mission.

To the forty-six young men and women who this afternoon received the coveted parchment, as the reward of their labors, The Mail tenders its hearty congratulations. We wish them every success in their chosen sphere of work and while it may not be possible for all of them to remain in New Brunswick we hope that no matter where their future lot may be cast they will reap a rich reward in educational leadership and be able as a result of the splendid training received from their alma mater to render beneficent service to the country.

THE BUDGET DEBATE.

We notice that several Liberal members of Parliament who represent manufacturing constituencies have announced their intention of voting against the Ottawa government's budget proposals. What is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander. Mr. R. B. Hanson, Conservative M. P. for York-Sunbury, represents a constituency in which at least seventy-five per cent of the people are directly dependent on farming and lumbering for a livelihood. If he only had the courage to stand up and tell parliament that so far as his constituency was concerned he was prepared to vote for all measures likely to confer the greatest good in the greatest number, he would not need to worry in regard to his political future. Knowing as he must know that the lowering of the tariff on the instruments of production will greatly benefit the people of his constituency, why should Mr. Hanson be influenced by the crack of the party whip? Why does he not follow the example set by certain Liberal members who represent manufacturing constituencies and vote against his party and in the interests of York-Sunbury?

The university of New Brunswick honored a noble son of Fredericton this afternoon when it conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr. Charles E. Neill, General Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada. Mr. Neill while he is filling one of the highest positions in the Dominion is still a young man, and numerous citizens recall the time when he was junior clerk in the Merchants Bank of Halifax here under the late Mr. A. S. Murray. He was a good fellow then and has not changed one iota in that respect. His has been a remarkably successful career and the people of his old home city of Fredericton have every reason to be proud of him. In honoring such a man the University of New Brunswick is honoring itself.

Dr. Miner H. Evans of the Boston City hospital is a neurologist. That means he has a great deal of information about the human mind and the human nervous system. He is supposed to know what is good for people to think. Dr. Evans says that fairy stories are bad for children. He would substitute nature stories for Jack and the Beanstalk. Perhaps But few of us are going to believe that the number of children ruined by fairy tales has reached tragic proportions.

The so called National Policy was adopted by Parliament in 1879. At that time the counties of York, Sunbury, Carleton and Queens were represented by Liberal members all of whom voted against the tariff proposals. Senator King of Queens is the only man now living who stood up in Parliament and voted against the National Policy and he is still going strong at eighty-seven and has not changed his views on fiscal matters.

Why should the river counties of New Brunswick, in which more than three quarters of the people depending on lumbering and agriculture for a livelihood be interested in the maintenance of a protective tariff?

NEW SCHOOLS--WHAT ARE OTHER NEW BRUNSWICK TOWNS DOING?

Since 1919 MONCTON, with a population about double that of Fredericton, has spent half a million dollars in modern school buildings. (See Annual Report of the Schools of New Brunswick 1923.)

EDMUNDSTON, half the size of Fredericton, has built, within the last few years, two new schools, at a cost of $230,000; one of them being a composite High School costing $160,000.

SUSSEX with one-quarter of our population, has opened a new twenty-three roomed building at a cost of $165,000.

MILLTOWN, population 1900, has a new composite High School which cost $110,000.

The village of HARTLAND has spent $50,000 on a new building, which contains a large assembly hall and three rooms for pre-vocational work.

ST. STEPHEN has just given a contract for a new school to cost $100,000.

Lately the towns of Newcastle and Marysville voted overwhelmingly in favor of erecting new school buildings.

The citizens of ST. JOHN, in a recent plebiscite, decided by a large majority, to erect a purely Vocational School, which will cost about $450,000.

By building the school this year, the citizens will save at least $25,000 on account of the aid they will receive from the New Brunswick Vocational Board.

Can FREDERICTON afford to fall behind?

Vote for the new school on the 22nd.
