GAVE MAN
A BEATING

Berlin, Feb. 26—German courts are not very considerate of women who seek damages for wounded affections, consequently a young woman at Mannheim, whose sweetheart had treated her slightly and told her his parents objected to their betrothal consulted the mother of her halting fiancé and was told by the mother that he had lied to her. The young woman did not consult a lawyer but invited her former sweetheart to take a stroll with her. She awaited her opportunity and then knocked him down with a blow. Then she boxed his ears and beat him until the blood ran from his nose. Spectators of the affair held the irate woman while the man made his escape. The Mannheim newspapers in warning recreant lovers to beware of jilting also informed them that heroines still live in Germany.

Phyllis—Your husband is simply wild about you isn't he?

Lois—Yes he raves about me in his sleep, but the poor absent minded boy nearly always calls me by the wrong name.

RULES FOR DRESS
ARE STRICTER
NOW IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 26—Dress requirements for official function in France are becoming much stricter. This was brought home in a striking manner to an American newspaper correspondent who recently tried to attend a reception by President Millerand in the Elysee Palace clad in a tuxedo when the invitation stipulated full evening dress. Until recently the "smoking" as the dinner coat is known here, sufficed for such functions but this time the American was turned back at the door. Surprised but undiscouraged the newspaper man waited around. In a few moments a British correspondent came out properly arrayed.

"You leaving?" the American inquired. "Yes" said his English confrere. "Then let me have your 'tail coat' the American unblushingly responded. "Certainly" the British journalist replied whereupon the two went across the street to the nearest cafe. The American returned to the Elysee Palace and attended the reception sporting his newly acquired social accoutrement.

NO LONGER
DOMESTICS

Paris, Feb. 27—"Servants" and "domestics" are names anathema to the French "house employees" as the butlers, maids, cooks and scrub women insist on being called. They declared anew their adherence to the "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity" of the French Revolution when they organized recently to seek full electoral rights, such as eligibility to all elective offices, some of which are forbidden them because of their occupations. They also declared for abolition of the term "domestics" by which they are described in the laws. The increasing difficulty of the servant problem in France would seem to suggest that wages and working conditions would be the chief concern of the house employees but their efforts are chiefly centered on establishing themselves as dignified persons although they include a long list of grievances in the platform they plan to enforce later.

Mothers Should Not Neglect Bronchitis
In The Babies

Mrs. E. Langdon, Kingston, Ont., writes: "My baby boy had bronchitis when he was two weeks old, he recovered from the attack but took it again, several months later, and on account of the severity I was almost panic-stricken to know what to do for him. My mother advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, as she had used it for several years with splendid results.

I got a bottle, and after I had used it I could see a decided improvement in him; after several bottles he was completely relieved.

My boy is now two years old, and he has never had an attack of bronchitis since.

As a mother, raising a family, I am very grateful to know that I have found a real remedy for bad colds and bronchitis, as it lifts care and anxiety from an anxious mother's shoulders."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c. a bottle; the large family size 60c.; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MALES PROPOSED TO TODAY
MUST ACCEPT, ONE OF THE RULES

(By C. R. A.)

While marriageable ladies in Fredericton have for days been rehearsing poetic and apologetic proposals in preparation for February 29—the leap day par excellence of Leap Year—not a few unmarried gentlemen are said to be making last minute bookings of passage for parts unknown.

Feminine proposals are in order, according to the tradition, on any day during Leap Year, but there is one custom which distinguishes the twenty-ninth day of February from the other 365 days in this black sheep of years. Men on the receiving end of a February 29 proposal are not given the privilege of refusing.

Menaced males don't know on whom to place the blame for this supposititious conspiracy against their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, but they have grounds for tracing the root of the evil to Julius Caesar, may he rest in peace, who in the year 46 B. C. established the first leap year. But with Brutus, Cleopatra and his Commentaries, the Emperor Caesar had enough troubles without adding the responsibility for the matrimonial phase of the centesimal years.

HOW IT ## STARTED

Leap Year has an astronomical phase quite apart from its traditional reversion of the connubial order, but for all modernity knows it might have received its name from either of its two applications.

Leap Year sounds suspiciously appropriate to potential husbands for a period when it is the established custom for maiden ladies to leap after a mate. By the same token it may appear as appropriate and surely more convenient to the maiden ladies heretofore referred to.

Webster defined Leap Year as a year in any calendar in which there is intercalation, which definition seemed perfectly clear after due reference to the dictionary definition of "intercalation." Having learned from Webster that intercalation is "the insertion or introduction of anything among others as especially, something additional, foreign or unusual," bachelorhood is more than ever convinced that the matrimonial significance of Leap Year antedates the astronomical.

Having failed before the emancipation of women to pass a law prohibiting Leap Year proposals, what hope have the celibates of enacting legislation with all the maiden ladies in politics undoubtedly for no other purpose than for the perpetuation of the noble and equalizing custom of Leap Year proposals?

February 29 may be a hazardous 24 hours for unmarried males, but it is a downright imposition on the man whose yearly salary was fixed on a 365-day-year and has a boss who recognizes no Leap Year overtime.

SOME POINTERS ON SELECTING
FLOWERS FOR GIFT TO FRIENDS

There is an art in choosing and giving of flowers beyond any degree you may have imagined," remarked a woman who had picked up bits of information from florist and friends.

"And at this season when there are so many holidays with their attendant festivities, so many new babies, so much winter illness, it is distinctly a gift to be able to send the appropriate sort of token in flowers.

"For instance, I had occasion to be visiting a friend who was the mother of her first son. Her room was a bower of blossoms and I couldn't help noticing how appropriately some of the tokens of love and congratulation were chosen. There was a basket of that feathery blossom commonly called Baby's Breath and it was tied with a large blue bow for the boy. There was a single lily in a tall glass vase with a card to the baby. There was a bowl of baby primroses intermingled with a few sheafs of that honeysuckle like blossom called freesia. And there was a sturdy plant of purple heather that had been chosen because the young infant's mother was Scotch, with the love for her native heath of most Scots.

"It is not very safe to send any invalid a heavy scented blossom.

"For nervous folks choose the brilliant, cheery Calendula, which is the primrose yellow that has been found so successful in the new color cures for shell-shocked soldiers. Or select any of the bright yellow flowers that seem to hold the sunlight even when there is none. The sight of them seems to have a cheery effect.

"The psychological effect of any flower that droops too soon is not beneficial to a person lying in bed watching it day by day. The gay young daffodil holds its head erect even to the last crumbling of its petals. This is encouraging to a patient who thinks: if a flower can hold up its head when half dead, why not a human being?

SMALL SON
GUARDS DAD'S REPUTATION

A man may not be a prophet in his own country nor a hero to his valet but a father to a small son is always something to be looked up to and admired. Everything about the father his habits, ways of talking and playing, even his business, is a subject for boast among the son's fellows.

In a nearby town there is an eight year old boy whose father is a news paper man and he has considerable respect for his father's calling. It was, therefore, with some surprise that his mother learned from his teacher in school that when she had asked him what his father's business was he replied, "I don't know."

"But you do know, don't you?" the mother questioned him a little later.

"Sure I do" said he. "But I didn't want her to think if I said news paper man that he sold papers on the street."

She—I hear that Miss Passe is angling for a husband now that it's Leap Year.

He—Well, she's got the angles all right.

"I've heard she walks in her sleep.

"Fancy—and they with two auto mobiles."

By No Means
Allow Your Bowels
To Get Constipated

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headaches, coated tongue, foul breath, sallow complexion, specks floating before the eyes, whites of the eyes dull and yellow, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, as by doing so you will be able to keep well and have no more trouble with your liver.

Mrs. I. Rubin, Halbrite, Sask., writes:—"I was very badly troubled with constipation, often had bad headaches, my tongue was coated, and I felt anything but well.

After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills I have felt much better as they certainly did me a lot of good."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
