(British United Press.)

Athens, June 27—One hundred naval officers have submitted their resignations and abandoned their ships because of the alleged unjust promotion of several navy officers by Naval Minister Hadjokyriacos. The officers threaten to quit the navy en masse unless Hadjokyriacos resigns immediately.

The Government regards their action as constituting mutiny, and has ordered them all arrested. One of those arrested is Lieutenant Countouriotis, son of the President.

The President is solidly backing the naval minister, and plans to ask the Assembly to defend their parliamentary rights and not to give in to the mutineers.

LABOR MINISTER IS COMPLETELY EXONERATED

Ottawa, June 27—After debate and divisions lasting until 3.30 Thursday morning, the House of Commons adopted the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections which exonerated Hon. Jas. Murdock, Minister of Labor, from the charge of having acted contrary to his obligations as a minister of the crown, in withdrawing his deposit from the Home Bank two days before it collapsed.

The vote for adoption was 119 to 44. Immediately Mr. Murdock enthusiastically cheered by Liberals, took his seat in the House. Ever since the charges were made against him, he had been unable to sit in the house.

The vote on the main motion was preceded by two other divisions. First came a Conservative amendment that the charge against Mr. Murdock be sustained. This was defeated by 149 to 39, Liberals and Progressives voting solidly against the amendment. Conservatives voting solidly for it.

Afterwards, there came a Labor amendment, William Irvin, Labor member for East Calgary, moved to amend the report in such a way as to render a Scottish verdict of "not proven." This was defeated by 129 to 22.

As the debate drew to a close, there were some sharp clashes and frequent appeals to the chair.

"Premier MacDonald has informed me that in case Germany defaults, England solemnly promises to remain beside the Allies," he told the Senators. He stated that in Brussels, he had found Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Hymans in full accord with the French viewpoint. "I have not had the slightest difficulty on any point," he said, "I raised the question of inter-allied debts with Premier MacDonald, and he admitted that the question must be taken up without delay. I insisted and shall insist that France is in an unfavorable position unless she attains an equitable solution of this point."

SAYS EUROPE MUST GET BACK TO NORMAL

Sir Robert Kindersley, Governor of Hudson Bay Company, Makes Report.

By HARRY N. MOORE

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, June 27—While generally optimistic regarding Canada's future, Sir Robert Kindersley, Governor of the Hudson Bay Company, in presenting his annual report to the shareholders emphasized the necessity of increased immigration, in order to lighten the present heavy burden of taxation. Sir Robert also referred at some length to the impossibility of any permanent basis of recovery being reached until European affairs had been settled. He was a member of the Dawes Commission, and for this reason his statement that "every day's delay in bringing the finding of the Dawes Commission into effect inevitably lessens the chances of a complete success" is of particular interest.

In spite of the huge crop of 1923, no less than 58,891 acres more of land reverted to the Company than the total acreage covered by sales.

FINE YACHT FOR LORDS OF ADMIRALTY

The annual cost of maintenance and provisioning of the Enchantress including cost of coal was about £10,000 before the war. Her upkeep in the last financial year before she was paid off cost £81,700.

OFFICIALS TAKE STAND ON BIG LIQUOR CASE

Men Charged with Violation Seek to Involve Secretary of Treasury—Eerie Tale of Long Chase.

(British United Press.)

New York, June 27—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his secretary, Arthur Sexsmith took the stand yesterday in the trial of Gaston Means, and Elmer Jarnecke, charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act, through illegal withdrawals of liquor from bonded Government warehouses. The Secretary has been subpoenaed by the defence.

Thomas W. Fider, defence attorney and himself under indictment with Means on another charge, will attempt to show that thousands of gallons of whisky were withdrawn illegally from a distillery near Pittsburgh, and that the forged permits for the withdrawals were found later in possession of the Mellon Bank in that city.

Means, a former agent of the Department of Justice, has already testified of the withdrawals, charging prosecution of persons involved in another $1,000,000 alleged liquor deal were hampered by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Means' tale includes a story he told Department of Justice agents about a plan to withdraw enough whisky to enable the Republican party to pay $1,700,000 it owed to the Mellon Bank on notes the bank had taken up from New York financial institutions.

TWO CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS IN CUSTODY

Woman Dies at Red Bank, N. J. From Neglect.

HELD IN $2000 BAIL

Doctor Says an Operation Would Have Saved Patient.

(Special Cable to The Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

New York, June 27—Mrs. Alice H. J. Morris of Eatontown, N. J., a Christian Science practitioner, and Mrs. Beulah Webster of this city, a reader was held in $2,000 bail each for the Grand Jury in Red Bank last night as material witnesses in the death of Mrs. Sadie Bingham Lampkin whose death certificate was marked by County Physician Harvey Hartman as "neglected case by Christian Science."

Mrs. Lampkin died yesterday morning after a two months illness during which she was given Christian Science treatment. Dr. Hartman learned of the case through an application from the family to Dr. James Ackerman of Asbury Park for a death certificate from him. He refused to give one when he learned that Mrs. Lampkin had not been attended by a physician.

Dr. Hartman then directed the undertaker to bring the body to his office in order to have an autopsy performed. However Mrs. Lampkins family refused, and it was not until Dr. Hartman himself went to the house, accompanied by a police officer that he was able to get possession of the body.

The autopsy according to Dr. Hartman revealed that death was due to peritonitis induced by a rupture of the lining of the stomach caused by a gallstone. He advanced the opinion that had the gallstone been removed by a surgical operation, Mrs. Lampkin would have been certain of recovery. During the two months of her illness the family had believed that she was suffering from pleurisy. Dr. Hartman said that the intensity of her pain should have prevented that diagnosis, even by a layman.

John B. Lampkin a son said after the autopsy that had he realized the seriousness of his mother's condition he would have called in a physician himself.

FOUR DROWNED IN DELUGE IN NEW YORK CITY

Gale with Thunder and Rain Hits New York—Decorations Were Destroyed.

(British United Press.)

New York, N. Y., June 27—Faded decorations and a cooler temperature greeted Democratic visitors Thursday, following a sudden gale and rainstorm, which struck the city.

Four persons were drowned, dozens injured, convention decorations ripped from buildings, subway lines tied up and river and harbor traffic halted by the storm.

The deluge broke just as some 1,800 delegates and friends were assembling at the country home of Samuel Untermyer. There was to have been a garden party, but the "tent" went with the 72-mile an hour wind.

Approximately 100,000 natives and visitors were promenading about Coney Island, seeking relief from the 94 degree temperature and were caught in the storm.

Two police department aviators were in the air at the outbreak of the storm. Their seaplane was forced into the harbor, but the men were saved.

The gale lasted only 20 minutes but coupled with the damage, it brought relief from the high temperature, which has marked the week.

N. Y. HOTEL IS WRECKED BY GIRDER FALL

Ten Tons of Steel Crash Through Big Building.

11 PEOPLE INJURED

Crash of Rending Timbers Heard Blocks Away.

(Special Cable to The Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

New York, June 27—Ten tons of girders today plunged from the sixth floor of a building under construction at Thirty-sixth Street and Seventh Avenue. They struck the roof of the four-story Hotel Paris, in the rear and edgewise. With action similar to that of a giant knife the girders cut the building in half, burying themselves in the basement. Eight men and three women, trapped and buried in the debris, were seriously injured. Two of the men are dying.

The crash of rending timbers, immediately followed by the screams of victims, was heard at a great distance. Ambulances from a dozen hospitals were rushed to the scene.

At the time there were about a hundred women and men in the hotel. Many of them were still in their rooms others out in the lobby and fifteen were in the Paris cafeteria on the ground floor.

The roof gave under the girders, tore like paper, and the steel cut its way straight through. Why the building has not collapsed is a mystery. It is split open, a gaping wound exposing a wrecked interior.

GERMANY WANTS TO JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Berlin Report Says an Application to That Effect is to be Made in September.

(British United Press.)

Berlin, June 27—Germany intends to apply for membership in the League of Nations, at the League Assembly at Geneva, next September, according to information from a reliable source.

The news follows the announcement of plans for an inter-Allied reparations conference fostered by Britain and France, the Government of which are both inclined towards increased League activity in European affairs.

Britain and other powers recently have urged that Germany apply for League membership, but relinquish her former demand for immediate permanent membership in the League Council.

It is understood that Germany is convinced that once the experts' scheme is in operation her importance as a world power will assure her admission to the League.

Pro-League sentiment has been increasing here for some time. League advocates began an active propaganda in the summer of 1923 and since have pushed their case aggressively.
