The Synod Discusses Religious Education

DISCUSSION IS ADJOURNED
ABRUPTLY

Rev. Dr. Hiltz of Toronto to Heard by the Synod.

MORE DELEGATES

Reports Received This Morning—Progress Satisfactory.

The Synod of the Anglican Diocese of Fredericton continued its business sessions this morning after the celebration of Holy Communion at Christchurch Cathedral. A considerable number of delegates who were not in attendance Tuesday were present this morning.

Rev. Dr. Hiltz of Toronto, General Secretary, General Board of Religious Education, was present and much of the time was taken up in hearing Dr. Hiltz speak upon the work of the Board and in hearing explanations and suggestions from him in the matter of the use of G. B. R. E. publications in Sunday Schools.

Rev. Dr. Hiltz although now located in Ontario is a native of Nova Scotia and was in the service of the Church in that Province formerly.

Objections Raised

The report of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education which was before the Synod made reference to the fact that dissatisfaction with lesson helps and leaflets. A questionnaire was distributed to the clergy of the diocese asking what lesson helps were used, whether or not the G. B. R. E. helps were being used and what improvements in the G. B. R. E. publications could be suggested. Sixty-six letters were sent out and thirty-three replies were received. Rev. Dr. Hiltz asked particularly for the views of the clergy who had not replied. Interesting discussion ensued in which various defects and difficulties were pointed out. Dr. Hiltz suggesting remedies in the majority of cases.

Controversy Developed

The discussion upon the nature of the publications of the G. B. R. E. developed a controversy which was concluded only by a motion to adjourn which was put at about 2.45. Rev. Father Young of the Church of St. John the Baptist, St. John City, usually known as the Mission Church took the ground that sufficient teaching of the real nature of the Church of England was not given and that many of its members could not tell in what it differed from the Baptist Society, for instance. He believed in teaching that it was the Church. He considered himself not a Protestant and nothing could make him one. He was a Catholic. The Church of England was the English speaking branch of the Catholic Church. History showed that.

Rev. A. L. Fleming took objection to the statement that the Church of England was not Protestant. Cranmer and Ridley had been burned because they were Protestants. Members of the Roman Catholic Church would state that. If Rev. Dr. Hiltz wanted to know in what the objection to the G. B. R. E. publications lay let him keep his ears open. He would hear.

There was a call for Rev. Dr. Hiltz to conclude his remarks replying to the objections but a motion to adjourn was made. His Lordship Bishop Richardson said that controversial matters should be avoided. Statements of two divergent courses of thought had been made. They could be allowed to stand. A self

ARGENTINE
PLAN MAY GO
BY BOARD

Labor and Business Both Against Law for Idleness.

STRIKE STILL ON

Conference Being Held With President—All Hopeful.

(By Bryant Powers, British United Press Correspondent).

Buenos Aires, May 7—Abandonment of the Argentine Republic's ambitious plan to abolish work for all those who have labored continuously in the country for 25 years loomed out as the general strike and lock-out in protest against the law entered its fourth day. Employers called off their lock-out temporarily following a conference with President Marcelo Alvear, who promised that if business would reopen and labor go back to the factories he would use all his power to obtain annulment of the law, or a satisfactory modification of the measure.

"We have decided to reopen business and wait and see what happens" the chairman of the Businessmen's Committee said after the conference.

Meantime both labor and business remained a unit in opposition to the law, which became effective on May 1, and provides in brief that all workers shall be granted a pension from a national fund after 25 years of service.

Labor organizations opposed the measure because the national pensions fund would be provided in part by a tax on wages, while business interests fought it as "ruinous to the economic development of the nation."

When interviewed they refused to make any announcement, other than saying that Dr. Smith and Mr. Acres would be in the city today and planned on going to Grand Falls tonight. In connection with the survey parties now operating near Grand Falls, and those which will be placed there in the near future, it was announced yesterday that applications were pouring in for positions in the parties. More applications had been received than there were positions to fill. Preference was given to U. N. B. graduates and students in making up the parties.

Anglo-Russian
Conference is Still
On at London

Both Parties Deny Reports of Any Break.

IS GOING STRONG.

Soviet Delegates Make Big Claims for Russia.

(Special Cable to The Daily Mail by British United Press).

London, May 7—The Foreign Office and the Russian Embassy have both issued denials of reports to the effect that the Anglo-Russian conference had broken down. It is asserted that progress is being made slowly, and that the job now is chiefly in the expert stage, and that, naturally Premier MacDonald is not present.

Of the principal questions at issue, no denials are made and the fact appears to be that the subcommittee on claims and counterclaims is near a deadlock in its secret sessions.

The Russian tactics appear almost comic to laymen, but officials are inclined to believe they are meant in all seriousness. They have prepared a big list of counter claims to present to England as a balance for Russia's unacknowledged debts, so, is the present negotiations end in Russia's acknowledgement of its obligation England will still owe money to the Soviets.

Russian Claims.

The Russian claims are said to be as follows:

Losses by Great Britain's support of Admiral Kolchak and other warlike adventures of the Whites—12,213,000,000 gold rubles ($6,106,500,000).

The question of transport during the blockade and the expenses of the Russian civil war (alleged to have been encouraged by London) 11,271,000,000 gold rubles ($5,635,500,000).

Losses by reduction in industry and agriculture, $15,560,000,000.

London, May 7—The Prince of Wales spent more than an hour Monday in the Canadian pavilion at Wembley examining the exhibits. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with all he saw. The thing that seemed specially to delight him was a series of panoramas of Canadian scenery, and he recalled many happy days spent in the scenes depicted on these gigantic canvases.

Proceeding to the C. P. R. pavilion the Prince showed particular interest in the panoramic view of the country surrounding Banff and the Rockies, describing it to those who attended him as "the most beautiful spot in Canada." The Prince went to the amusement park, where he stood with other visitors in the queue waiting to get on the switchback and for entry in several other of the amusements that are provided there.

(Special Cable to the Daily Mail by the British United Press)

London, May 7—Premier MacDonald today promised to afford the House of Commons the opportunity of passing a resolution urging a new conference on international naval limitation along similar lines to the United States Senate's rider to the navy bill.

The Premier's promise followed a series of questions from the house urging such a conference. In reply he said, "We welcome the action of the American Senate as a manifestation of good will." He refused, however to allow his previous attitude that it is not practicable to call a conference at the present time, although he said "I am most anxious for steps to be taken towards limitation."

Some Labor Support for the Liberals on Measure is Expected.

TO BE UP FRIDAY

Bill in British House This Week for Single Chamber Parliament

(By Harry N. Moore, British United Press Correspondent).

London, May 7—Home rule for Scotland has been brought nearer through the Labor-Liberal differences which have arisen over the refusal of labor to support any measure of proportionate representation, and which Labor defeated last week.

A bill will be introduced next Friday in which the Liberals will likely be supported by a considerable body of Labor back benchers providing for a single chamber parliament comprising seventy-three constituencies with members in each of these ridings except Dundee, which is to have four.

This will constitute a special Scottish parliament, while representation will still be continued in the British House by Scotland.

The same powers that were conferred on the Irish Free State by their constitutional bill are to be asked for the new parliament with the exception of control of the post office. Power will also be asked in the bill for the new state to be allowed to vary its own customs duties.

HERR HERGT
NATIONALIST
HEAD READY

Will be Called Upon to Form Cabinet Within Fortnight.

PLEDGES SUPPORT

Nationalists Will Not Sabotage Expert's Report.

(By Carl D. Groat, British United Press Correspondent).

Berlin, May 7—Deputy Hergt, Nationalist Leader who within a fortnight will be invited by President Ebert to attempt formation of the next German cabinet today pledged his party's support to the Dawes-Young plan with some reservations.

In an interview with the British United Press, Herr Hergt, a former Prussian Minister of the Interior who recently rose to leadership of the powerful Nationalists group, declared his followers would make only such concessions as it was "physically possible to meet. 'Certain reservations' he added, "were 'unrenounceable'."

The sum and substance of Herr Hergt's statement was that the Nationalists will not sabotage the experts report.

Such a declaration was a prerequisite to obtaining necessary centrists and Folks party consent to support a cabinet headed by Herr Hergt. If the Nationalist leader fails to form a cabinet the old coalition will be tried.

Willing to Co-operate

It must be remembered that the Nationalists no longer are sharp opponents of the Dawes-Young plan—especially if they are given a hand in the government—for their leaders, at the close of the campaign, disavowed the Nelfferich slogan, "A second Versailles," and let it be known they were willing to co-operate with the experts when the latter declared, "We must deal with facts as they are."

Must Observe Treaty.

In other words, even the Nationalists have admitted that Germany can not escape fulfillment of her treaty obligations. The government's latest revised election figures showed the following seats won:

Nationalists 99; Socialists, 99; Centrists 62; Communists 61; Folkspartei 45; Folkists 32; Democrats 24; Bavarian folks 15; Bavarian Peasants 10; National Liberals 9; Hannoverians 5; Deutsch Sociale 4.
