

BATTERY FOR FREDERICTON IS RECOMMENDED

Major J. G. Kirkpatrick to Command the 90th Howitzer Battery — Officers Will Train This Year.

A recommendation for the establishment of a howitzer battery at Fredericton has gone forward from No. 7 Military District Headquarters Col. Anderson commanding the district having made that announcement when here yesterday. Major J. G. Kirkpatrick is to have command of the battery.

An artillery unit has not been located in Fredericton since the time when New Brunswick had her own militia prior to Confederation. Then a field battery was raised in Fredericton and vicinity.

Present Militia Unit.

The howitzer battery it is believed will be armed with 4.5 inch guns. Infantry and machine gunners are located here now. The York Regiment dates from 1869 and a company of the 7th Canadian Machine Gun Battalion has been here since establishment immediately after the end of the war. The establishment of a howitzer battery will give Fredericton representation in the artillery arm of the service.

The new unit will be numbered 90th. That designation was held by the Newcastle Field Battery but it has been renumbered the 28th. At least some of the officers will train at Petewawa in August.

A Real Naturalist.

Mr. B. S. Moore of Andover, well known as a guide and naturalist, lately returned from an extended trip to his sporting camps on Nictau Lake, where he was engaged in putting in supplies for next season. He took along his moving picture camera, and was able to secure a number of excellent films which he sold at a profit of $175 besides retaining copies for his own use. An example of thrift this is hard to beat.

EARLIEST MOTOR TRIP ACROSS THE CONTINENT

Harold Gilbert and Family and Fred McAdam of Douglas Return From Los Angeles.

Harold Gilbert, his wife and children and Fred McAdam arrived here this morning after a motor run of four thousand miles from Los Angeles, Cal. They formerly lived in Douglas, B.C. Mr. Gilbert went to California some fifteen months ago and Mr. McAdam last winter. They say they intend to remain in New Brunswick. Three weeks and three days were occupied by the run. In four thousand miles the worst road encountered was in the State of Maine on the Houlton-Woodstock road.

Several children were in the party which camped along the way. A trailer attached to the car contained much of the baggage of the party.
