THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

The national committee appointed in connection with the celebration of Canada's diamond jubilee has sent out from Ottawa a pamphlet containing general suggestions for the benefit of those who have charge of the celebrations in the various communities of Canada. Of course it is understood that each community is free to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation in its own way, but no doubt due consideration will be given to the suggestions and ideas sent out from Ottawa.

It is suggested that the Mayor or reeve call a public meeting to arrange for the celebration and appoint a committee which shall include representatives of the municipal council, educational authorities, societies, representatives of churches, and all other organizations represented at the meeting. It is proposed that a program be arranged for July 1st, which with the day following shall be proclaimed a public holiday. The celebration for Dominion day should be a public function under the leadership of the mayor or reeve, and there should be a community celebration, which will include processions and parades, speeches, etc. The children of the public schools should be asked to participate in this. This will be the only opportunity to celebrate in a great national way the founding of Confederation.

It is suggested that there should be floats and tableaux in the parade portraying the history of our great country. A booklet explaining how the floats and tableaux should be prepared will be forwarded to the committee.

It is suggested that at the celebration at Ottawa and provincial capitals that units of the active militia will be a distinctive feature in all processions, and that veterans of the great war should also be invited to take part. No doubt this suggestion will be carried out in Fredericton.

Old settlers, which means those who achieved man's estate prior to Confederation, should be especially asked to join the procession. In Fredericton and vicinity there are a number of old timers who will no doubt willingly consent to do their part.

It is suggested that if there are any Indians in the vicinity they should be especially asked to participate in the celebration. In Fredericton and vicinity there are reserves of the Malacete tribe of Indians and they certainly should not be overlooked by the committee in charge of the arrangements. They are New Brunswick's oldest settlers and will feel honored if asked to take part in the celebration.

It is suggested that all public buildings be decorated in a manner befitting the occasion. No doubt this will be done and many private buildings will also display bunting.

The program to be carried out at public gatherings will include the singing of patriotic songs such as O, Canada and the National Anthem. It is proposed that monuments of public men should be decorated, and of course this will be done. It is regrettable in this connection that there are so few monuments of the Fathers of Confederation in this Province.

It is suggested that in the evening of July 1st there should be fireworks and a community bonfire or other illuminations. This will not be difficult to carry out.

The program for Saturday should include water sports and in this connection the Saint John River will readily lend itself to a local celebration. There should be a program of canoeing and swimming races and other sports of an aquatic nature.

The meeting called for this city on Tuesday next by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Todd to arrange for the celebration should have a large attendance, and be representative of all sections of the province. It behooves all New Brunswickers to take hold and make the coming celebration the success it deserves to be.

York happens to be one of very few counties in New Brunswick which was represented in Canada's first Parliament by a Father of Confederation. The gentleman referred to was Hon. Charles Fisher, a Liberal in politics, who afterwards rendered good service as a Judge of the Supreme Court. York and the adjoining County of Sunbury which was annexed a few years ago, is today represented in Parliament by Mr. R. B. Hanson, K. C., undoubtedly the ablest lawyer whom this constituency has sent to Ottawa since the days of Hon. Charles Fisher. Mr. Hanson, as becomes his position, is displaying an active interest in the work of preparation for the celebration of Canada's diamond jubilee.

When we are physically sick the first step toward health is made when we make up our minds that we want to get well. When we are in the grip of a bad habit the first step toward normalcy is taken when we make up our minds definitely that we are going to change. Any human being who is living in any state of discontent, of unhappiness, of despair, can get out of that state by taking the first step. And it is to be taken in his own mind.

A drive to raise a hospital fund of $4,000,000 is now going on in Montreal and is meeting with great success at the end of the first three days the substantial sum of $2,350,000 had been pledged. Among those who subscribed generous amounts were Col. Herbert and F. W. Molson, $150,000; C. P. R., $150,000; Bank of Montreal, $250,000; Royal Bank, $150,000; E. W. Beatty, $50,000.

More and more machinery is being introduced into the realm of medical science. Physicians in convention in Los Angeles test an amplifying stethoscope which makes a heart beat sound like thunder. A blood pressure apparatus marks its findings with a fountain pen on a chart. No generation in the world's history has ever known so much about keeping people alive.

It always makes us smile when we see a movie hero go into a clinch with his sweetie, and we know from his look and the movement of his lips he is growling, "Been eating onions again, haven't you?"

A Southern farm has been shut down by the court after discovery of a still in the barn. Of course you can ring a bull and muzzle a calf, but whereabouts do you padlock a watermelon?

It looks as if it was going to be rather a bad year for rum-runners, bootleggers, fish poachers and others who graft at the expense of their fellow citizens.

"Even a hog doesn't eat that which he knows will make him sick," observes an exchange. True, but consider the latitude the hog enjoys in the selective process.

These fellows who go around the world in 40-foot yawls aren't the ones who clear from the Border Cities in an 18-foot dory for Tierra del Fuego with a load of ale.

However, things in the main are improving: There are not so many self-christened "Honest Johns" in the public service.

All most people know about prunes, says a Spokane writer, is that they are usually stewed. But who in the deuce wants to be a prune?

"I don't know what I'm going to plant this spring," said the Louisiana farmer as he tossed another sandbag into the levee, "cotton or fingerlings."

The butchers use everything about the hog but the squeal, and the consumer uses that when he is told the price of pork.

If a fellow was born 'mid pleasures and palaces what is he expected to do while the others sing "Home Sweet Home?"

We see by the paper that a man advocates scientific kissing. But the great majority will cling to the instinctive kind as good enough for anybody.

"One kind of education" remarked the Man on the Car "is to know where and how you can find out what you want to know when you want to know it."

MAKE CARE OF BABIES EASIER

Stomach disturbances, and constipation are responsible for much of the peevishness of babies and young children. When the baby is cross or irritable the mother should not resort to so-called soothing mixtures to correct the trouble, for in the majority of cases these mixtures simply drug the child into an unnatural sleep. What is needed is a gentle laxative that will sweeten the stomach and regulate the bowels. Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are easy to take and guaranteed to be entirely free from opiates and narcotics. Concerning them, Mrs. Jos. Tousignant, Ste. Sophie, Que., writes:—"I would like all mothers to know that I feel there is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets. I always keep a box in the house and their prompt use never fails to restore my little ones to health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
