BIGGER PROFITS

"Hit-and-miss" cultivation is little better than no cultivation at all. If your cultivator "skips" or "jumps" even a few times in each row, you are losing money because you are missing weeds.

The RICE Riding Cultivator works all the soil and cuts out the weeds. You can make every adjustment without stopping the teams and have perfect control over the gangs. A very easy cultivator for man and team to handle.

Also INTERNATIONAL CULTIVATORS and SCUFFLERS of all types.

AN EXAMPLE OF BOLSHEVIK MENTALITY AT ITS VERY WORST; REIGN OF TERROR HAS STARTED

London June 10—The world now has an example of the Bolshevik mentality at its worst it was remarked in British official circles with reference to the execution of 20 persons in Moscow on charges of anti-Soviet activities including that of furnishing information to the British diplomatic mission in Moscow.

Discussing the Soviet charges against the British government as "absurd and ridiculous" and declaring that the British government did not stoop to such plots as trying to blow up the Kremlin officials here declared that the objectives sought by the Soviet authorities in carrying out the score of death sentences was the same as they have been in previous critical moments of the Bolshevik regime—namely to institute a reign of terror and also to make a false appeal to the Russian's sense of nationalism by making them believe that Russia was menaced by foreign powers.

According to the British view with no freedom of speech and consequently with no public opinion in Russia the Soviet government has been able to gain support even from its enemies within Russia by continually emphasizing that the Soviet Union was in danger from the Baltic States and from the great European powers.

At the British foreign office where it was emphatically denied that the British government had any relations with the persons whose executions were announced in Moscow. The Associated Press was informed today that the members of the British Mission which had just been removed from Moscow had taken great care during their stay in the Soviet capital not to associate with Russians because "all Russians in Russia who are friendly to foreigners invariably are suspected of espionage."

This situation was contrasted with the position of M. Rosengolz, Soviet charge d'affaires here who with his colleagues went freely about the country not hampered in any manner in their activities or associations.

As an indication of the impossibility of conducting normal commercial relations with Russia owing to continual interference by Soviet agents in ordinary activities officials here cite the case of a letter written by the British Consul at Leningrad to a member of the British diplomatic mission at Moscow. Although the letter was nothing more than a promise to try to obtain the names of Russian firms willing to buy chemicals from British firms as requested it is related that it was interrupted by Soviet agents and later printed in front page of Izvestia together with accusations of espionage.

Flier Isn't Executed.

Moscow, June 10—The execution of 20 persons accused of counter-revolutionary activities against the Soviet regime, announced in an official communication made public today has caused much consternation through the Soviet Union among the former members of the Russian nobility and ex-army officers many of whom are still within the borders of the Union.

Tonight there was evidence of suppressed excitement in Moscow an excitement that was not allayed by the frequent passage about the city of police wagons and the presence of reinforced guards at important government institutions.

Contrary to reports in the United States the name of George Sidney Riley, believed to have been a captain in the British Royal Flying Corps did not appear on the list of those executed as given out by the authorities. Inquiry appeared to show that Riley who was arrested on the Finnish border in 1925 and has previously been reported dead was still a prisoner.

Wounded When Arrested.

Riley was wounded at the time of his arrest and a report went abroad that he was killed. He carried a Soviet passport under the name "Steinberg" but was apparently a captain of the executions given out by the state political department only as associated with Colonel Eldgren, a former Czarist officer who was among those executed.

A NORTH DEVON MAN DROWNED AT GRAND LAKE

Was Well Known.

The deceased had been a resident of North Devon for some years and was well known and respected. He is survived by a widow, two daughters and one son. The latter is at present on a trip to Virginia. Peter Hatty, a brother of the deceased resides in St. John and there are two brothers living at Richmond, Virginia. His mother and two sisters live at Mount LeBanon in Syria. The deceased was 62 years of age.

The body arrived from Grand Lake last evening and was taken to the former home of the deceased at North Devon.

MAY ENLARGE THE BEATTY

Saint John, June 11—The proposed extension of the Admiral Beatty hotel was discussed at a meeting of the directors of the hotel held yesterday afternoon. It was announced following the session that a meeting of the directors of the Admiral Beatty and United Hotel officials would be held at Montreal in the near future to further consider the matter.

Track Team Leaves.

The High School track team left today for Rothesay by car where they will hold the annual track meet. A large number of contentants are entered and a large number of rooters accompanied the team.

The Misses Mary Burns and Glenna Tracy left today for their home in Fredericton Junction after a short visit to friends in the city.

HEAVY RAINFALL REPORTED FOR MONTH OF JUNE

Numbers of farmers had not sown any seed prior to the eighth of June. Much land is in readiness and seeding will now proceed with a rush.

In the chief potato-growing sections the planting is about half completed. Some early planted fields are showing above ground. The intentions to plant an increased acreage over last year will be adhered to in most instances. The grass-crop is good, and the proportion of clover in mixed stands is high.

The outlook for a large flow of honey is good. Bees wintered well and are building up strong colonies in every apiary.

Pastures, though luscious, have not been greatly utilized, and stall feeding has been quite general to this date.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL OF CANADA A BEAUTIFUL CITY

From the period of Confederation other ways in order that the country till very recently it was customary indirectly should benefit.

for the people of Ottawa as well as Nature as has often been said has those resident elsewhere to regard done much for Ottawa. The natural the Capital as the favoured child of beauties of her site are unrivalled political odds past and present. Any and of late years much has been expenditures designed to aid the city done to emphasize her advantages in even indirectly, were resented in this respect. The Ottawa Improve other localities and it was a common ment Commission one of the creaplace to read or hear that Ottawa tions of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has was maintained by the presence of worked for many years with limited the legislative buildings and all funds to beautify the outer fringe of such an establishment implied. But the capital with a series of drivegradually a more national spirit and outlook has developed.

Ottawa was probably the first city to recognize that it owed a duty to the rest of the country and it set about creating a better understanding of its position at home and abroad. It is now nearer its ideal of a national capital than at any time in its history and the new movement has only begun. The conception of Ottawa as the Capital of the country and not merely an individual city has grown in favour and it is not too much to assert that at this Confederation celebration the idea will be firmly fixed in the public mind. The Ottawa attitude is that government or public expenditures for the improvement and beautification of the city should not be construed other than as efforts to dignity and chief legislative city of the country and add to the prestige of the nation as a whole. "Not our Capital but yours" is the Ottawa interpretation which the city is seeking to impress. Ann in this it is sincere for while the Dominion parliament had done much for Ottawa the city in its turn has sacrificed many millions of dollars in taxes and Within the period since Confederation Ottawa has grown from a lumber town of considerably below 20,000 population into a beautiful and modern city of well over 120,000 exclusive of the neighbouring city of Hull. Within a radius of three miles from the city hall are some 150,000 souls. Visitors are impressed with the splendid public and other buildings of the Capital with her clean streets her widespread system, her excellent transportation lines urban and otherwise, her lighting facilities and her progressive civic methods. The growth of the city has been steady; no booms have marred her progress and the Capital has developed along sane lines. During the period from 1895 onwards her progress has been very marked and her future should be such as will cause all Canadians to refer to the seat of government in terms of justifiable pride.
