BATTLE OF THE BROADCASTERS DISTURBS RADIO

Montreal, Jan. 31.—Pirating of wave lengths and the lack of observance of the gentlemen's agreement on the part of certain stations in the United States has upset Canadian broadcasting conditions, compelling a change between Toronto and Ottawa in the hope of relieving an unpleasant situation. The change is an experimental one to cover a period of one month at the end of which a decision will be made regarding the future.

Previous to the change Toronto radio stations broadcast on a wave length of 356.9 metres, while Ottawa used 434.5 metres, and these channels have now been interchanged.

The Canadian National Railways Radio Department has suffered considerably and the exchange of wave lengths, which was effected upon the suggestion of the Radio Branch, Department of Marine and Fisheries, has shifted interference from CNRT, Toronto to CNRO, Ottawa. The Toronto stations, all of which operate on the same wave length as is the practice in Canada where dual broadcasting is not allowed, were being hopelessly blanketed by a new station at Buffalo. This station conducted by a religious organization did not appropriate the exact Canadian Channel but broadcast within three kilocycles of it, with transmission so close as to cause the greatest confusion when any of the four Toronto stations came on the air while the Buffalo broadcast was on.

In effecting the change a new situation has arisen. Previous CNRO, Ottawa and NAA, United States Naval Broadcasting Station at Washington, were on the same frequency, 690 kilocycles, the official United States station having taken a Canadian wave length and bringing the two capitals into conflict on the air and the transfer of wave length now shifts the interference from Ottawa to Toronto, in so far as the naval station NAA is concerned.

In the meantime there has been a friendly exchange of correspondence between the Canadian National Railways Radio Department and the Director of Naval Communications at Washington, in the course of which the latter has promised to reduce interference as much as possible.

As indicating the hopelessness of the situation regard control of broadcasting in the United States and inability to deal with encroachments upon the channels allotted to Canada, a communication from the Department of Commerce at Washington has this significant sentence: "We regret exceedingly our absence of authority to remedy the same."

Of Interest to the Women

MY NEIGHBOR SAYS.

Place a small paper bag over top of the milk bottle after removing the cap. This will keep out the dust and at the same time allow the air to get in.

To avoid scraping carrots wash them well and put them on to boil for about 10 minutes. Then remove from fire, peel and resume cooking as usual.

To stiffen malines use a solution of gum arabic. Try one teaspoon of powdered gum in one pint of hot water let it cool and dip the maline in it. Dry, and if not stiff enough dip again. Press with a warm iron while damp.

When buying meats for a large family it is well to know that shoulder of beef is a good investment as one can cut a good steak off the shoulder, corn a piece and make hamburger steak or stew with the remainder.

To press a hem, plaits, or a large plain surface take an old piece of cotton material (a pillow case would do) and after placing the material to be pressed with the right side down thoroughly wet the cloth and wring it out, place smoothly over the material and iron until dry. If this is done to one part of a dress all parts must be treated in the same way, or the part pressed will be noticeable.

STYLES IN FOOTWEAR.

Brown patent leather pumps are being worn with some costumes for afternoon, but the satin models are coming into wider use for evening perhaps they are also coming into use on wider feet since some orthopedic authorities say the modern shoes tend to widen the foot.

LEMON SAUCE.

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped pimento
1 tablespoon chopped onion
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped sweet pickle
Cream butter. Add chopped ingredients and gradually add the lemon juice, blending well. Serve at once.

DATE SCONES.

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup chopped dates
1-3 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted butter
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together. Cut in shortening with a knife or pastry mixer or rub in with the tips of the fingers. Add the dates and mix in the milk and beaten egg slowly. Mix thoroughly. Turn out on board and roll to one quarter of an inch thickness. Cut into squares of about four inches. Brush one half of each square with melted shortening sprinkle with a little cinnamon and fold over. Make some of the scones triangular shape and some like parker house rolls. Bake in hot oven 400 deg. for about 15 minutes.

CHERRY SLUMP.

Cover bottom of a buttered baking dish with a can of tart cherries drained of the juice. Pour over the cherries the following batter: one cup flour, one half cup sugar one teaspoon baking powder, one cup milk three tablespoons melted butter. Bake one hour in a slow oven. The batter may seem thin, but it will thicken in the oven. Serve warm with cream or hard sauce. Tart apples may be substituted for the cherries.

TOAST.

Here's to the mellowing sun of June
Here's to a hot July
Here's to the drouth on an August noon
Here's to a pouring sky.

Here's to a March day's roaring gale,
Here's to an April breeze
Here's to a snow, or a sleet or a hail,
Here's to a bitter freeze.

Here's to the blustery days of fall
To winds that are cold and raw:
In short, here's to anything everything—all
But a January thaw!

Got Relief From Dyspepsia

Mrs. Clarence Sealy, Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I suffered a long time from dyspepsia. I used tablets and medicines of all kinds, but got no relief until I started using

After taking two bottles I can gladly say that I became much better, and can now eat most any kind of food without having to suffer for it after."
