The New President Of Brazil Expected To Take Office Soon

Is Looked Upon By the Military Leaders as the Proper Man to Restore Order After a Month of Civil War—Plans for a Counter Revolution Are Discovered in Sao Paulo.

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 27—Dr. Getulio Vargas denied the presidency of Brazil by election, was expected to assume that office today with the support of the revolutionists who ousted Dr. Washington Luis.

The Provisional government of Gen. Augusto Tasso Fragoso, and other military leaders who took command of the capital, turned to Dr. Vargas as the logical man to restore order in Brazil after a month of civil war and invited him to accept the presidency.

Hostilities were ended throughout the country, with the possible exception of Sao Paulo, the home of Washington Luis and president elect Julio Prestes, where it was reported without confirmation that plans for a counter-revolution had been discovered. The report that Dr. Prestes had disappeared was considered in some quarters as meaning that he had retired until his supporters could organize a movement against revolutionists.

Prices are Down

Joseph Rosborough, a leading farmer of the Barony was a visitor to the city today. He says that crops have been good in his section this year but prices are down. For instance, last year he sold two year old steers on the foot for $50, while this year, he could only get $25 for the same class of stock. He says that pork prices are keeping up well, but he could only get six cents a pound for lamb on foot. Mr. Rosborough thinks that his ability to make ends meet is largely due to the fact that he has not yet invested in a car.

Queer Doings

When the Fredericton Rugby Fifteen showed up at Saint John on Saturday for their scheduled game with the Trojans, there was no Trojan team in sight, and the crowd on the playing field was nearly nil. Manager Golding, who met the local team, said that the Fredericton team was too late to play the game. The team was about ten minutes late in arriving at the field. According to the local management, Manager Golding pulled a pretty little ruse to stall off the game on account of the heavy rain and no gate. It was to his advantage to have the game postponed due to these factors, the principal one being, one would suppose, that of very poor attendance, with its resultant small money returns.

For some months he had been confined to his home and while he suffered a great deal he was always cheerful and glad to receive his friends. By his death the town of Marysville has lost a competent official and an outstanding citizen.

Native of Keswick

The late Mr. Inch was born at Keswick of Irish parentage and was eighty years of age. In his early life he followed farming but forty two years ago he removed to Marysville and engaged in business which he carried on up to a short time ago. He was appointed postmaster of the town nineteen years ago and gave close attention to the discharge of his duties, enjoying the confidence of the public to a marked degree.

The deceased had long been a member of the Knights of Pythias and had held the office of Chancellor Commander. He was an enthusiastic curler and, on numerous occasions upheld the honor of his home town in matches at the Fredericton rink.

Mr. Inch had been a widower for a number of years. He is survived by a family of one son and four daughters. They are Leonard Inch, Mrs. Jennie S. Torrens, of Marysville; Mrs. William Christeson, of British Columbia, Mrs. Arthur Limerick, of Compton, California, and Mrs. James Ralcliffe, of Winnipeg. There were also two sisters, Mrs. Melvin Hoyt, of Hainesville, and Mrs. Adeline Hawkins, of Nashwaakasis. The late Spencer Inch who died recently in Western Canada, was a brother, the late Dr. J. R. Inch, at one time Chief Superintendent of Education, was an uncle and Dr. George A. Inch of this city a cousin, of the Deceased.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon with prayers at the house at two o'clock. The body will be taken to the United Church, where services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Manuel at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be made at the cemetery of the United Church.

He says that the black fox pelt is the finest fur produced on the American continent and will always bring a satisfactory price. Mr. Chapman is confident that New Brunswick will soon have a national park.

Allan Russell, aged 23 years, fell from the top of the Fredericton-Devon highway bridge on Saturday afternoon breaking his ankles in the fall, and receiving other internal injuries of a serious nature. Young Russell was engaged as a painter on the bridge, and was on the upper strand. Suddenly, without warning, his foot slipped, and before any of his fellow workers could make a grab at him, he had fallen on to the bridge. He was picked up and rushed to the hospital, where Dr. Wainwright attended him. He was reported today to be resting fairly comfortable. Captain Was Out

George Johnson, captain of the Fredericton High School football squad was unable to share in the Yellow and Black victory over Rothesay on Saturday at College Field. The local captain took suddenly ill in the morning and was unable to participate. He was able to be around yesterday, friends will be glad to learn. The high school captain by his ability in ball handling, and stellar kicking, was missed but not so much as he would have been on a dry day. The wet, muddy condition of the field, made the work of the forwards preeminent and placed a minimum on backfield work. On a dry day, Johnson's work would have been sorely missed. He was replaced by a first year sub.

Giver a Banquet

The Fredericton High School and Rothesay Collegiate teams, were entertained royally on Saturday night, following the football game in the afternoon. Dr. A. S. McFarlane, principal of the school, was the chairman. Addresses were given by Dr. C. VanWart, chairman of the school board and Dr. Arthur VanWart, a keen football advocate and Ald. W. G. Quinn. During the evening, a presentation was made to Scott Clarkson, assistant coach of the F. H. S. squad, who is leaving for Nova Scotia shortly. Toasts were proposed by George Johnson, Captain of the local team, and Captain MacCauley of Rothesay.

Mean Joke

The bustle of a newspaper office at the time of going to press, proves rather fortunate for a person, with a smug taste for jokes sometimes. The phone of the Mail office rang one day—at press time about—a month ago, and a smooth, oily tongue gave the particulars of a wedding, which the voice stated, had occurred the previous night. As it happened it was all a joke, but the voice asserted it a fact, and so the item went into the paper. Unfortunately one of the principals is in a serious predicament over the item, as her job is at stake. Such jobs are sometimes costly, and we here take occasion to make the statement that the marriage item in question was purely a mistake on our part, and rather a poor imitation of a joke on the part of certain other poor punsters.

Two local young men, who have been awaiting hearing in the local police court, on a charge of the theft of a safe in the Capital Billiard parlor, appeared before the magistrate this morning, and were given their freedom. The evidence proved insufficient to convict either youth.
