ENDED IN A FIZZLE

The movement to place a candidate in the field in Westmorland in opposition to Hon. Lewis Smith, Minister of Agriculture, was sponsored by outside interests and evidently did not have the support of the right thinking Liberals of the County. This is amply attested by an editorial in the Sackville Tribune, the editor of which is C. C. Avar, who is also president of the Westmorland Liberal Association. In discussing the matter in the last issue, the Tribune said:

"The Tribune places itself on record as being absolutely opposed to the idea of an election contest in Westmorland County at this time. We have gone through a Provincial election and a Federal election this year. The Tribune wants no more elections at present and we are confident that the great mass of the people feel the same way about it.

"Due to the resignation of Dr. M. A. Oulton, a vacancy has occurred in Westmorland. Hon. Lewis Smith, Minister of Agriculture, who was defeated in Albert County last June, will be the Conservative candidate and the questions arises as to wisdom of putting a Liberal in the field to oppose him. In our opinion, Mr. Smith should be given the election by acclamation. As Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Smith has shown his willingness to serve New Brunswick farmers faithfully and well. His party is now strongly entrenched in power, and the prospects of defeating Mr. Smith in the coming election are not especially bright. There is no great issue at stake and an election contest at this time will accomplish nothing. Mr. Smith fills an important portfolio in the Baxter government; he has work to do and should be allowed to do it."

The "executive" meeting which demanded that Hon. Lewis Smith be opposed, was attended by Postmaster-General Veniot, W. H. McQuade and other political belligerents, but Leader Jones and Senator Foster were conspicuous by their absence. The two last named have probably had enough of elections for some time to come. While the "executive" wanted an election, they overlooked an important matter, to wit: the sinews of war. The county convention after noting this omission and remembering that elections are not won by prayers, turned down the proposition. The only result of the Westmorland skirmish is that the reputation of the ex-Postmaster-General as a political failure has been somewhat emphasized.

The Campbellton Graphic suggests that with the rapid growth of the tourist traffic in New Brunswick, the time has arrived when more attractive names should be given to the highways of the province, and the present hackneyed appellations discarded. Our Campbellton contemporary has offered a suggestion that should have the serious consideration of the authorities.

"Before the year is out," remarks the Spokane Spokesman-Review, "there will be two or three makes of peewee motor cars extant in this country. When these little gadgets become common enough to make the joke word, we want to drive up to a motor car agency and ask them if they have change for a Cadillac."

The things that really amount to something do not concern the people but they will engage in the fiercest kind of a battle over a baseball score, a mistake by an umpire or some little advantage that one player takes over another, these things that are valueless and effect their lives not one single iota.

Do you remember when a little boy's idea of greatness was to own a pair of red topped boots? Do you remember when nearly everyone had a piazza on the front of the house and a horse barn at the foot of the lot?

Germany is putting into circulation a new paper currency that will not burn. What a bore to possess a pocketful of money that you would have to spend to get rid of!

Another thing about coin collecting: You lay a quarter away for fifty years and its value runs up to 28 cents; whereas at compound interest it would have brought you a dollar or two.

Some people think that old fashioned religion is out of date. They want a religion now that can be plugged into a light socket.

Nobody yet has invented a political party in power that was strengthened by an economic depression.

TO RAISE THE DISCOUNT RATE

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Berlin, Oct. 9.—A meeting of the Reichsbank Central Committee is scheduled today for the purpose of raising the discount rate from four to five per cent in view of the severe drain on the bank's supply of gold and foreign currency.

WAVES WHITE CLOTH TO HER CAMPER GIRL

(New York Sun)

"Of all the ingenious schemes I ever heard of not one was better than that which came to my attention the other day when, strolling down to the Dyckman street pier, I observed a woman standing on the string piece frantically waving a large white cloth at an excursion boat proceeding south on the Hudson," said Mr. Scanner.

"I couldn't tell whether she was waving goodbye to the world before plunging into the dark waters or what she was doing, so I up and asked her.

"Well, you see," replied the woman, enthusiastically, "my little girl is returning from Bear Mountain, where she had been camping, and she's on that boat. We live in this section, so I wrote and told her that on the day that she came home, which is today, I would be down here on the pier and that I would wave a white cloth to her when she was passing Dyckman street. Now, does that solve the mystery?"

"And, of course, I had to admit that it did, but somehow I couldn't help thinking that she was going to extremes."
