

HAS EVERY CONFIDENCE IN MARITIME BUSINESS OUTLOOK; J. STEWART NEILL'S VIEWS

The fact that business conditions in the Maritimes are at present the most prosperous in Canada has again been proven by the receipt of a carload of radios from De Forest Crosley Limited, Toronto, by James S. Neill & Sons, Ltd. of this city. This represents the largest radio shipment over to enter either New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or Prince Edward. The particular significance of this event is two-fold; first, it is indicative of the business renaissance which has occurred in the Maritimes; secondly, it illustrates the type of progressive business men who are building towards sound and healthy prosperity in this section of the Dominion.

Since November of 1929 Canadian trade figures show very plainly that the wheels of industry have slowed down considerably. It has been evident in the fall of prices, the presence of marked unemployment and a shrinkage in volume of exports and imports. In times such as these there is a loss of confidence on the part of a great many business men which causes them to restrict productive operations. This aggravates each of the above factors which indicate the business trend. In such times there are men arise who have a sound confidence in the future and who realize that the employees of one concern are the market for the product of others and vice versa. In their attitude and abilities lie the brightest hope for the future.

Pioneer in Radio

Mr. J. Stewart Neill, Secretary-Treasurer of J. S. Neill & Sons, is a pioneer in radio in the Maritimes, indeed in Canada. When radio was but a name to the great majority, Mr. Neill had realized its possibilities and was intimately familiar with its every phase. Long before radio had become a household institution he had built the broadcasting station OFNB and provided the people of this part of the country with programs when the sets of those days could not bring in further stations. It is very typical of this energetic Canadian that he felt, being in the radio business, it was his duty and pleasure to provide broadcasts to the radio fans. Today J. S. Neill & Sons Ltd., have an enviable reputation throughout Canada as distributors of good radio merchandise. It is logical that this house should receive from De Forest Crosley Limited the largest single radio shipment ever made by this Company into the Maritimes.

Maritimes Reform

"It is," said Mr. Neill, "my firm conviction that since the Duncan Report the Maritime Provinces have experienced a rebirth and are moving towards an economic prosperity hitherto unknown. It is a notable fact that, contrary to conditions in other sections of the Dominion, trade is exceedingly good. In the Maritimes alone has there been more than a normal seasonal increase of railway traffic. Wholesale and retail trade keeps up well. Collections are officially reported normal where as they are slow to fair in the other provinces. An eminent authority has said, 'On the whole, 1929 has been the most prosperous year since the War and brisk activity continues.'"

"Many years ago we decided that the future of our business lay in the Maritimes. We had an implicit faith in the resources of the province and an intense trust in the industry, thriftiness and honesty of our people. We have seen the Maritimes pass through some difficult periods in the intervening years which, at the time, made it difficult to see any blue sky through the black clouds. Invariably obstacles have been brushed aside and the march of progress resumed. Today we see the Maritimes in a position we could not conceive ten, twenty, thirty years ago. Great natural resources—water power, timber lands,

BEACHCOMBERS MAKE MONEY ON FLOATING OIL

(New York Sun)

Three ragged youngsters sat on the Bayonne shore of the Kill van Kull gazing intently out over the surface of the water where swirling eddies of oil caught the rainbow hues of the sun. At their feet were piles of driftwood salvaged for use in tenement homes. But the driftwood was a by-product of other and stranger salvaging activities.

For suddenly there drifted close inshore a rectangular nearly black object which excited the keenest interest and quick action from the ragamuffins. An accurately aimed length of stout rope landed squarely on the prize and it was hauled up on the shore.

To the casual observer the nature of the catch was still unapparent. But the substance was scarcely out of the water when its surface was attacked with picket knives and the brown covering of about one-quarter of an inch was removed. Underneath there was revealed a good-sized cake of pure white paraffin, easily marketable to neighboring housewives for use in fruit preserving.

As the observers watched several more cakes of the paraffin came floating past and were captured. Inquiry revealed that the neighboring oil refineries produced the cakes, which were often loaded on small boats for transfer to larger ships. Piled high on the decks of these little craft some of the paraffin dropped overboard, eventually finding its way into the hands of the young beachcombers.

BIRD KILLED BY GOLF BALL

Heward, Sask., July 8—Sparrows are warned to keep off the Highway golf course, near here, when Postmaster Charley Leak is at the tee. Charley swung his iron on the home hole, cracking a shot dead toward the green; an errant sparrow intervened and died in halting the drive at 125 yards. The golfer, who had hoped to finish with a "birdie," closed with a par score.

DAD SAYS JACK WON'T COMPETE AGAIN IN 1931

Toronto, July 8—Jack Guest, Toronto Don Rowing Club oarsman, who won the Diamond Sculls Saturday, will not go to Henley again, according to his father, John Guest of this city.

"No, he won't go over again," said Mr. Guest. "Why should he? He has won the Sculls once. What's the good of racing for them again? Jack will get all the rowing he wants here."

Mr. Guest, who had confidently expected his son's victory, sent him the following cable: "Very, very pleased with result. Hope your mother is happy. Love Dad."

Mrs. Guest to whom the cable refers is in England where she watched her son win the coveted Sculls.

Among the other cables despatched from Toronto as soon as the news was flashed were those of Premier G. Howard Ferguson and Mayor Bert Wemp.

LORD BURGHLEY SHOWS HIMSELF HURDLE KING

London, July 8—Twenty-three thousands spectators of the British athletic championships cheered wildly Saturday when Lord Burghley, the noted hurdles runner, completed a wonderful double victory by winning the 120-yard and the 440-yard hurdles and in the case of the latter clipping a fifth of a second from his previous record of 54 seconds.

"The four-forty" was the great event of the day. Under blazing sunshine two of the world's greatest hurdlers met—Lord Burghley the 25-year-old son and heir of the Marquess of Exeter who had won several world championships and Facelli the Italian champion hurdler and record-holder of his country.

Facelli purposely saved himself for "the four-forty" withdrawing from the 120-yard hurdles by special permission after having qualified for the final.

ORDERED TO REST

Max Schmeling German Heavyweight, May Not Fight Again Till 1931—Doctors Ordered Rest For Big German.

Berlin, July 8—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, who won the world's championship from Jack Sharkey on a foul last month, today was ordered by physicians to rest two or three months before resuming training.

The report of the physician submitted to the German Boxing Commission, stated that Schmeling was suffering from varicocoele of the right side as a result of the foul.

According to the physician Schmeling's injury is of such a nature that sporting authorities who read the report interpreted it to mean there would be no participation by the German fighter in a championship contest possibly until 1931, if then.
