AN IMPORTANT DISCUSSION

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Geneva, Jan. 16—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France and Dino Grandi of Italy will continue their discussions on the Mediterranean question in London, before the opening of the Naval conference, Briand informed the press.

THE REICHSTAG

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Berlin, Jan. 16—The German Reichstag will reconvene here on January 23rd. The session promises to be an important one.

When the meek inherit the earth the lawyers who specialize in breaking wills are going to put on dark glasses and rattle a couple of nickels in a tin cup.

PREMIER BAXTER AND HON. DR. TAYLOR ADDRESS FEDERATION; MANY RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Moncton, Jan. 15—The New Brunswick Federation of Labor, at the second day's session of their annual convention, today passed all the 13 resolutions submitted to the convention at yesterday's session, one only regarding the licensing of operators of low pressure steam boilers being subjected to amendments which were of a minor nature. Two additional resolutions were presented by the Resolutions Committee asking the endorsement of the Federation in a request to the Provincial Government for increased salaries to members of the New Brunswick Workmen's Compensation Board, and the other submitted by the Moncton branch of the International Boiler Makers' Union requesting the Provincial Government to appoint a boiler inspector for the province. Both resolutions were passed by the convention.

Premier J. B. M. Baxter, Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, Minister of Health and Labor, and Hon. E. A. Reilly, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission were speakers at the afternoon session, and tonight the day's proceedings were brought to a close by a civic banquet tendered the delegates and their friends at the Brunswick Hotel at which Mayor C. H. Blakney, E. R. Steeves, president of the Federation, Premier Baxter and C. W. Anderson were speakers.

The first resolution dealt with at the morning session was that introduced by the Saint John Trades and Labor Council asking for curtailment of home lessons for pupils in the public schools. The resolutions urged that children be taught the more difficult lessons in the school, doing away with home studies in these subjects.

Resolution No. 2, introduced by the Saint John Trades and Labor Council, asked that a coroner's inquest be held in each fatal industrial accident. The resolution was concurred in by the committee and after a short debate was adopted.

Amusement Tax

A second resolution introduced by the same union, asking the elimination of the amusement tax of admission tickets to the value of 50 cents and under was also explained by Mr. Whitebone. It would not amount to very much in dollars and cents to the Government, but the few cents saved on each theatre ticket would be beneficial to the workman.

Resolutions urging the Provincial Government to have printing done in union shops and approval of the Congress Journal for co-operation in the matter of publicity and urging support of the Journal were adopted.

Other Resolutions

Three additional resolutions submitted were also adopted, dealing with the opening up of streams in the province now leased to sporting clubs as soon as these leases expired; the appointment of a boiler inspector for the province; and urging the Provincial Government to give the commissioners of the Workmen's Compensation Act an increase in salary, in keeping with boards of other provinces.

Minister of Labor

Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, Minister of Health and Labor, addressed the delegates. He congratulated the Federation on the work they had accomplished. "The year just closed has been one to be long remembered in Labor circles," said Dr. Taylor. "The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada held their annual convention in Saint John and the C. B. R. T. held their annual meeting, Moncton. These conventions are bound to be productive of good. Able addresses were delivered and I might say that those I heard were a revelation and inspiration to us not so fully acquainted with the Labor movement as you."

He traced the labor question back a number of years and recalled the deplorable conditions under which Labor strived in the old days, contrasting those days with the present. "The fight was not an easy one, and you met reverse after reverse, but today you can look back on those striving years and feel that you have accomplished something big. Labor is fulfilling a service. The world today demands efficiency and you men of the Federation of Labor are supplying that service," continued the speaker.

"The Federation each year waits upon the Government with requests for social and other legislation and I think that your wants have been generally acceded to. Some of the present acts may need readjusting to satisfy everyone, but this all cannot be accomplished at once. Old age pensions are not problematical. Now they are a fact, and something along these lines may be done at the next sitting of the Legislature. Mothers' allowances may also be dealt with," declared the Minister.

Hon. E. A. Reilly spoke briefly and said that as he had discussed matters last night while attending the entertainment, he could not add much to his previous remarks. He stated that co-operation between employer and employee was vital today.

Premier Baxter

Premier Baxter, who arrived in the city on the afternoon train, was welcomed to the convention by President Steeves.

Dr. Baxter addressed the delegates as "fellow laborers," and pointed out that the administering of provincial affairs was also a workman's job, but that Sundays could not always be counted upon as a day of rest. Conditions of several years back were cited by Dr. Baxter and compared with conditions today.

"Although our opportunities in the province of New Brunswick are not so great we have made a remarkable advance in the past 25 years. Long hours and small pay has been discarded, and although there are some sections of the province where conditions are not as bright as I would like to see them, I feel that on a whole they are greatly improved.

"We have a great future in this section of Canada but we also must have the co-operation of every person in the Maritimes, we must develop a spirit of unity. We must impress upon the remainder of this Dominion that they owe us something. Political views must be forgotten," said the Premier.

Maritime Activity

"Within the next month the pulp mill at Dalhousie will be opened, and it might be well to add here that the capacity of that mill is four times greater than the Mersey project recently opened in Nova Scotia. An other mill will be opened within a short time near Campbellton and, although I am not in a position to definitely state it, it is possible that a third large mill will be in operation before long on the miramichi. Industries cannot be established without capital and therefore we have to give to those with the capital rights to our vast woods in the province. Bargains have to be made whereby the province will be protected, insofar as returns in the form of mills will be established for the people of the province to secure employment in," continued the Premier.

"You the Federation of Labor, can rest assured that you will be given fair treatment by the Government. Not the administration which I head, but I speak of other Governments, it is not my Government, or the Opposition's Government, but it is your Government, and they should work in the interests of the Maritime Provinces."

be made next season would mean a saving of fifty-five minutes in the Montreal-Fredericton schedule. He assured the delegation that rail connections established last summer with Washington, Philadelphia and New York would be continued next season.

Last evening Messrs. Woodman and Carter were the guests of the Fredericton Curling Club at a dinner at the Curling Rink. They left for Saint John by the seven o'clock train.

Will Be Out Soon.

Miss Helen Winters, who has been confined in the Victoria Hospital for the past few weeks is showing improvement and will soon be able to leave the institution. Gordon Ferguson another patient at the hospital is also greatly improved.

THE POWER GROUP DISPLAYED STRENGTH ON MARKET TODAY

With declining bank loan expectation and a further reduction in broker's loans this week, and the improvement in steel mill operations, sentiment appears to have been improved somewhat, and although the major improvement is not looked for in the immediate future, it is apparent that there are many good purchases which might be made.

Among the stocks which scored advances today were C. P. R., U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, Montreal Power and Shawinigan. Radio was off two points.

CASE FOR CROWN WAS COMPLETED THIS MORNING

thought to have been one of the two men who was involved in the theft. Anderson said that he had known him for a while. The other witnesses called this morning were Chief N. Jones, John Bird, Provincial Police officer, Percy M. Machon, driver of a truck, who testified to seeing a tall light man and a short dark man in the car near Woodstock.

One of the chief witnesses for the prosecution, and one who sprung a new angle to the case yesterday by her testimony, was Mrs. John Munro of Allandale an elderly woman. She said in court yesterday afternoon that Anderson was won't to stay at her home and that on the morning before the robbery she had heard him and another man, Milt Stairs talk about breaking into the Murray ranch. The latter had said that he needed $500 right away. Following Mrs. Munro's testimony, it was learned that there is a warrant out for Stairs who is now serving a 30 day sentence in the Bangor jail for illegal entry into the United States. The warrant charges him with violation of the Liquor Act. He will probably be implicated in the ranch robbery also.

Provincial Audit.

The auditors representing P. S. Ross & Sons, chartered accountants of Montreal, are still at work on the provincial accounts but will likely complete the task by the end of this week. A complete statement of receipts and expenditures will appear in the Royal Gazette towards the end of the present month.

Condition Improved

Improvement is noticed in the condition of Mrs. Herbert Estabrooks, who fell last Sunday night and suffered a broken bone in one of her legs. Her injury had caused her much pain at first, but now friends will be glad to know that she is steadily improving.

Government Meeting.

The next meeting of the provincial government will be held here on Tuesday, January 28th.

Much improvement is shown in the condition of Mrs. Frank Cooper, who is confined in the Victoria Public Hospital.
