ITEMS OF HUMAN INTEREST FOR DEVOTEES OF THE RADIO

Laurance Grattan says he has committed more murders, stole more houses, broken-up more homes, robbed more banks, foreclosed more mortgages, ruined more people and perpetrated more dastardly deeds in two years than any other man. This is because he plays the role of "De Witt Schuyler", the villainous villain of Hank Simmons' Showboat, which marked its second anniversary over the Columbia network recently. Each week he is called upon to portray a badman in one of Showboat's throbbing melodramas, and not once during the entire two years has he deviated from any part but that of a villain.

Mr. Grattan, who is a pear-loving man in real life, fond of books and kind to animals, nevertheless enjoys playing this type of character. He says it gives him an outlet for an otherwise suppressed desire to be wicked.

The Sad Sea Waves

Many fresh water listeners are writing in praise of the broadcasting of the ocean waves from Atlantic City during the "Dancing by the Sea" programs that originate at WP. G. Most of them say they get a lot of satisfaction out of listening to the surf when the mercury is striving to break 100.

Evans' Play

Reynolds Evans, who was an actor and playwright before he started announcing over Columbia, has received word that his play, temporarily entitled, "Betty" was given favorable reviews by the dramatic critics of Dayton, Ohio, where it is having a try-out prior to its Broadway opening.

Tall Graham

Gordon Graham, one of the three Fox Funnyboners, a Columbia feature, is six feet four inches tall, and a graduate of Dartmouth College. When he entered Dartmouth in 1924 he promptly tried out for the glee club. "A good voice", said the club leader to the director, "but where on earth would we put a fellow that size?"

The following week-end came Freshman initiation, and the leader of the Glee Club saw Graham, attired in polka-dotted gingham dress singing "Marcheta" to a delighted group of upper-classmen. "Maybe we were wrong," said the leader, and the following week-end Graham found himself on the glee club.

Four years later he had the pleasure of leading the Dartmouth glee club to victory in the intercollegiate contest held in Carnegie Hall.

The Choir Boy

When Ben Alley, Columbia staff tenor, made his public debut it was in his brother's footsteps as soloist at the Temple Baptist Church in Charleston W. Va. Ben's brother had married and moved away so the church was glad to accept the service of another Alley. When Ben arose in the choir stall the following Sunday the only recognition paid him by the congregation was a little brother to the old choir tenor. But before the last high "C" of his first solo, "Paul's Holy City," and died away, the usually staid congregation rose to their feet and applauded vigorously. The minister had been impressed so greatly by Ben's voice that he forgot to reprove his flock for their unseemly behavior.

Specialist's Cane

"Chic" Sale whose act is heard over the Columbia System Sunday evenings, confesses that he has never been able to carry a cane since the first disastrous experience when the cane caught between the cracks in a boardwalk, breaking in half with a pop like a black-snake whip. "Chic" is probably the only actor in America who cannot wear spats without being conscious of their presence.

Hoshna's Music

During a recent broadcast over the Columbia stations, Jesse Crawford played his own interpretation of "The Birth of Passion" from the operetta, "Madame Sherry", by the late Karl Hoshna. The following day Mr. Crawford received a visit from the composer's daughter who expressed her admiration for his playing. As a result Mr. Crawford long an admirer of Hoshna's music, now has an opportunity to browse among unplayed manuscripts contained in Miss Hoshna's library, with the prospect of presenting these compositions on future broadcasts.

This And That

Peter Biljo, director of the "Around the Samovar" program over WABC, has a Russian curioist shop where he spends his time when not broadcasting. . . . Domenico Savino, WABC arranger and conductor, is able to transcribe music while an orchestra plays another selection, so complete is his concentration. . . . Peter Armq, author of the "Whoops Sisters", a Columbia feature never visited a broadcasting studio until the other day. . . . Ann Leaf Columbia's half-pint organist can't understand why so many fans write to her for advice on love. . . . After her program is concluded, Evangeline Adams usually remains at the WABC studios to watch other broadcasts. . . . Ozzie Nelson, Columbia orchestra leader and former Rutgers' quarterback, will coach football teams this fall. . . . Luis Zamudio, leader of the "Aztecs" over Columbia, has a valuable collection of Aztec relics. . . . Bert Lown reports over 90,000 copies of "Bye, Bye Blues" which he revived on the radio have been sold. . . . The Crockett Mountaineers run their household on a community basis. . . . Ted Husing is addicted to the wearing of orange sweaters with ties and handkerchiefs to match. . . . Paul Tremaine popular baton-wielder, eats soft-shelled crabs twice a day—for breakfast and dinner. . . .

Vincent Sorey, Columbia director, plays a standard composition on everyone of his atmosphere programs. . . . Barbara Maurel, contralto at WABC, is a proficient linguist. . . . Dale Wimbrow now has sixteen ukeleles among his souvenirs. . . . H. V. Kaltenborn talks entirely from notes inscribed on a postcard. . . . "California Melodies", heard over Columbia Wednesday nights, introduce more new talkie tunes to the radio audience than any other program. . . . Toscha Seidel favors bow ties.

NASHWAAK BRIDGE

Nashwaak Bridge, August 6—Miss Florence Cassidy, of Newcastle, who has been visiting friends and relatives here, has returned home.

Mr. F. W. Kelly, of Hamilton, Ont., with his friend Mr. C. Robinson, of the same place, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tucker.

Miss Una Fairley spent a week visiting friends in Boiestown, and Taxis River.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. McNabb, and their adopted daughter, Miss Edith Parks, who have been residing in Fredericton for a few months, have returned home.

We regret to say that Mrs. Margaret Eastman is in very poor health at the present time.

Mrs. George Dennison and Miss E. I. Dennison are at present visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tucker.

Miss Fern McDonald, of Ottawa, has been visiting relatives here.

Rene Griffiths, of Berlin, N. H., has been spending the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Justice Manzer.

Perhaps by the time Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., puts his toe in his mouth it won't be news.

Lina Beane says the crack of doom will also be an unnecessary noise so far as he is concerned.

Is your Baby Thriving?

A Marquis, Sask., Mother's Experience

Little Joyce Taylor's mother writes: "The first three months of her life Joyce had a hard time finding a suitable food. Nothing seemed to agree with her. Then we put her on Eagle Brand and from her very first feed she came right along. I went by the directions on the can. Now at 13 months she is a sweet, happy child in perfect health all the time."

And from Saint John, N.B.

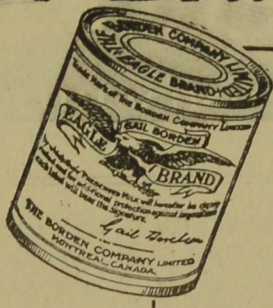

Mrs. Gourley writes:

"One after another different foods were tried for our baby, but Una couldn't digest them. At birth she weighed 14 lbs. but she dropped to 10 lbs. at 3 months. Then we tried Eagle Brand and she began to thrive almost immediately. At 2½ years she weighed 40 lbs."

Most babies show normal progress. That is quite natural. If your baby is not steadily gaining consult your doctor. If it is a food problem, we suggest that you and your doctor consider Eagle Brand. For bottle-fed babies, Eagle Brand has been the standby of mothers for three generations. It is especially valuable in difficult feeding cases, being such a safe food—pure, uniform, easily digested. You will be pleased to see your baby begin to thrive immediately when placed on a carefully prepared Eagle Brand diet. It is highly endorsed by doctors and nurses.
