A REAL BETRAYAL

It now looks as if that Supreme Court judgeship promised Hon. W. J. Jones, K. C., of Woodstock when he took over the leadership of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition in April last at the urgent request of the Ghostmaster-General and Senators Foster and Copp, has gone a glimmering. While there is naturally much sympathy for Mr. Jones, as one with a long political and professional experience, he should not have allowed himself to be hoodwinked by a bunch of fourth rate politicians. He should not have forgotten that the very men who promised him a judgeship were the same ones who turned him down six years ago, when a vacancy occurred on the Supreme Court bench, which he as the best qualified applicant, should have been called upon to fill. A lot was heard from opposition sources during the provincial campaign about an alleged betrayal, but the most outstanding victim of a betrayal is Hon. Mr. Jones.

PLAYTIME OF YEAR

"This is the playtime of the year. Vacations and a slowing up of business incident to the times and to the customs of so many business people laying off takes away pressure of the steady grind of other seasons, and every little lake has its crowd of resorters who while away a week or so fishing, swimming, or sleeping in the shade. Every day there is the usual number of camping outfits on wheels passing through town, some being elaborate with most of the conveniences of home and some quite simple in their appointments, but carrying a family with its necessities to some distant place. The desire to go somewhere, anywhere away from the place in which our lives are spent, is almost universal, and the automobile has made its gratification possible to the humblest. Our country is so big that there is an ever increasing enticement to the traveler, and no sore of climate, scenery or condition is wanting in the great invitation to the summer wanderers. No wonder old summers 'in the memory glow,' no wonder the very word has come to suggest pleasant days and happy experiences."

YOUR OPINION

Canon Elliott, former president of the British Association of Rotary Clubs, once said: "Do not value your opinion too highly; 90 per cent of the opinions held by men during history have been wrong."
That makes you stop and think, but don't be carried away by the idea. Even if 90 per cent of the opinions have been wrong, there have been 10 per cent right, as history judges rightness. Your opinion may be in the 10 per cent. Don't be depressed. Have courage. What we all need is more assurance, more faith, more intellectual adventure. Let's not be frightened.
Hon. R. B. Bennett, in his keynote speech of the late campaign, delivered in Winnipeg and broadcast from coast to coast, called upon the people of Canada to be fair to Liberalism. The people of Toronto Southwest Centre, a rock ribbed Tory constituency, responded by returning a Liberal to Parliament for the first time in many decades. The people of Quebec on the other hand, taking their cue from Mr. Bennett, made up their minds to be fair to Conservatism. As the result of this mutual spirit of fair play the party led by Mr. Bennett will rule Canada for the next five years.

The victory of Hon. Mr. Bennett at the polls on Monday means that the province of New Brunswick will save at least a cool million dollars a year on the old age pension scheme. Premier Baxter saw which way the wind was blowing at the last session of the Legislature and enacted legislation to be brought into force by order-in-council. By this time next year, people in the province upwards of seventy years of age should be receiving monthly checks.

The retirement of Fred W. Robertson, of Moncton from the position of district passenger agent of the C. N. R., on account of ill health will be deeply regretted. Mr. Robertson had many years of service to his credit, was a popular and capable official and gave of his best in the interests of the railway.

The Postmaster General had to keep away from the southern part of the province during the late election and the party candidates in their speeches seldom mentioned his name. The only words of praise for him came from two Ontario cabinet ministers, who were heard over the radio.

The return of the Conservative candidates in Youmaska Quebec by one vote increases Hon. Mr. Bennett's following in that province from 25 to 26. The Conservatives now have 139 members against 86 for the Liberals. The independent groups number twenty.

The only people who seem to be shedding tears over the narrow escape of the Ghostmaster-General in Gloucester are the Liberals who worked hard under his leadership in the late election against their better judgment.

The Postmaster General will scarcely be able to attribute the gain of three New Brunswick seats by the Conservatives in the late election to the rece cry.

The new lightweight champion won the title with a punch to the jaw. He is only 22, though, and apparently not grounded in the ethics of the craft.

The Postmaster-General kept out of the Southern parts of the province during the late election and his picture was kept out of the newspapers.

Science is developing evenly. Apartment houses become ever larger, but an investor in Berlin has perfected a loud speaker that can be heard 25 miles.

According to the cables, some English mediums with six-tube screen grid imaginations were able to tune in the late Conan Doyle.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE
Nobody applauds when the temperature breaks a record, up or down.
Every time we try to grasp an Einstein theory we run into a fog bank.

If we could see ourselves as others seep the amusement would still be ours.

Lima Beane says the man who has seen better days should consult an oculist before giving up.

Was it the new Senating who caused the Liberal ship of state to Ca(l)re(e) n(e)?

Inasmuch as he is unmarried, it is remarkable that Floyd Gibbons acquired the habit of talking so fast.

People should not complain above a whisper of our civilization. They must remember they are not innocent bystanders.

Out of a fiction story: "Janie moved away from him into the far corner of the hammock." No hammock we ever sat in had a far corner.

At last the ideal husband. A turkey gobbler on a Maryland farm is sitting on twenty-one eggs. Thus relieving the lady with whom he is quite in love of a tedious task.

Sombody, doubtless a scientist, says the memory is stronger in summer than in winter. We have filed the information away with the horse power in half a salted peanut.

False notions often become traditional and are accepted as truths. It has been said of more than one dog that is bark is worse than his bite. Yet it is never necessary to canterize a bark.

PALE PEOPLE ARE IN PERIL

Some Form of Nervous Breakdown Always Threatens Them.

Pale people are almost always nervous. Paleness denotes lack of blood and too little blood usually results in jaded nerves, sleeplessness, headaches or neuralgia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are different from most other medicines—it is impossible to take them and not feel better. Their whole mission is to make rich, red blood. This new blood strengthens the nerves and gives vitality to the whole body. Concerning them Mrs. G. Cook, Bloor street, Toronto, says: "Two years ago I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a nervous breakdown with the result that I have been well and strong ever since."

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fire Insurance Enough?

You have some fire insurance, of course; few householders tempt fate by going without any fire insurance. But enough—that's the point. If a destructive fire does attack your home and you find you are not partially insured, you will never forgive yourself for not taking out sufficient protection when it could so easily have been done. We suggest that you phone 291.21.
