N. H. L. STARS TO TRY BASEBALL AT MONTREAL; MAY PLAY ROYALS

Montreal, August 1—National Hockey League stars will be seen in a brand new setting on the week-end of August 10 at the Stadium. They won't be clothed in woollens with skates and stick. In their place will be a pair of spiked shoes, a baseball uniform, glove and bat.

In short, the flying figures of many a Forum battle will be baseball played. Bill O'Brien, portly trainer of the Maroons, has at last realized a poet fancy in organizing a baseball game between professional hockey players and professional baseball players.

A Mixture

Genial Bill has lined up his team of winner pastimers and the personnel of his club will need no introduction to the fans, since fans, as a rule, are baseball fans in the summer and hockey fans in the winter. The hockeyists who will appear on the diamond against Chappy Johnson's Chappies on the afternoon of August 10, include Babe Siebert, Nels Stewart, Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliat, Hec Kilrea, Len Grosvenor, Joe Miller, Frank Boucher, Armand

Monodu, Sylvio Mantha Lawrence Northcott and others.

Royals Next

Chappies will be the N. H. L. Baseball Club's first opponents, but not likely their last. O'Brien hopes to keep the hockeyists intact on the diamond until September when they meet Eddie Holly's Royals in an exhibition game at the Stadium following the last game at the International League schedule.

The games should provide spicy attractions for the fans.

The N. H. L. team will line-up as follows: Siebert, catcher; Stewart, first base; Kilrea, second base; Grosvenor, shortstop; Joe Miller, third base; Morenz, Frank Boucher, Monodu, outfield. Others named on the squad may be injected into the play at any stage.

Royals are on the road on August 10, but Eddie Holly has promised to send home a pitcher to work for the hockeyists against Chappies.

GALLAGHER SIGNED BY TORONTO CLUB

Toronto, August 1—Announcement has been made by the Toronto Maple Leaf Club of the National League of the signing of Johnny Gallagher, stalwart defence player of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, holders of the Allan Cup, emblematic of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Championship.

Gallagher, who is 21 years old and weighs 187 pounds, accepted the offer by coach Conny Smythe yesterday after considerable cavalry between the Leafs and Montreal Maroons for his services. The latest recruit to the youthful Leaf one-up is an active of Kenora, Ont. He played left wing while wearing the colors of the Kenora club.

If a man has a sense of humor, being bossed by his wife should afford him as much amusement as a comic strip.

TO STAY OR NOT TO STAY, CARNERA NOW QUESTIONS

Chicago, Ill., August 1—The proposed "battle of vindication" between Primo Carnera and Leon Chevalier has been approved and will be held August 14—provided Uncle Sam does not shoo Primo from his shores before the time.

Promoter Mike Malloy gained sanction to put on the bout after the National Boxing Association lifted its ban on Carnera, imposed after giant Italian's last bout with Chevalier.

The Illinois body did not, however, lift its suspension on Leon See, Carnera's head manager and the latter will not be permitted to act in the negotiations for the bout.

Brief Hearing

Washington, August 1—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, arrived here today to keep an engagement with the U. S. Immigration bureau.

He was scheduled to appear tomorrow before the immigration board of review to seek a six-month extension of his stay in the United States, though officials said he might have his hearing today if he chose. The board recently refused to grant an extension and said Carnera would have to leave the country, but later consented to grant him a hearing.

Carnera went to the Italian embassy soon after his arrival. It was his first visit to the nation's capital and he attracted considerable attention. He was scheduled for a brief appearance tonight at a wrestling exhibition.

GUEST UNDECIDED OVER ROWING IN EMPIRE GAMES

Toronto, August 1—Jack Guest has not decided whether or not he will row in the British Empire games at Hamilton in the championship singles sculling event.

This year's winner of the Diamond Sculls at Henley, England, has experienced a great let-down since his triumph there, but is now in training for Canadian Henley and his defence of the championship won there last year depends on his reaching the same condition he was in England.

The prospect of a contest between Guest, Joe Wright and Bob Pearce, the Australian wonder oarsman and Olympic champion of 1928, had created widespread interest among followers of the aquatic sport and considerable disappointment will be felt if the event does not take place.

Not making his attitude public, Jack Guest made the following statement:

"I spent three years and a lot of money to win the Diamond Sculls, and I do not know that I want to risk all that I won on one blow. I have experienced a great let-down since Henley, but I think that I will defend my Canadian title at Port Dalhousie. But whether I will row in the British Empire race is another matter. I will not know for at least 10 days. I have not heard from the Hamilton people and do not even know the distance of the British Empire race. No one has officially approached me about my intention."

A bachelor is a man who is going the wrong way on a one-way street.

No matter who writes this, it seems to say something: "Suspicion never creeps in the back door until faith has been kicked out the front door."

We have found, through observations made in residential districts, that children cannot be raised without being "yelled at."

There are many who don't like classical music except when it is stolen, a phrase here and a phrase there, and used to dilute jazz sentiment.

FIGHTERS ALL

MIDDLEWEIGHTS

(Jack Dempsey, The Nonpareil)
Born Dec. 15, 1862, County Kildare, Ireland. Height, 5ft. 8in. Weight, 150 lbs. Irish. Died Nov. 1, 1895, Portland, Oregon.

Although there are many claimants of the middleweight title dating from the bare knuckle days under London Prize Ring Rules, we are concerned with the present mode of fighting, with gloves, under the Marquis of Queensberry rules, and therefore start with the original Jack Dempsey.

In 1884, Jack Dempsey, then little more than a welterweight, challenged George Fullames, who had claimed the middleweight title. This battle was fought with heavy riving gloves at Toronto, Canada, on July 30th. Dempsey was returned the winner after 22 rounds of bitter battling and the Brooklyn Irishman was generally accepted as the title holder as his record was clear.

Dempsey held the title until 1891, and during that time took part in many hard battles. Chief among these the two fights with George LaBlanche, the Marine. In 1886, Dempsey beat LaBlanche quite badly and scored a knockout in 13 rounds. The pair met again three years later in San Francisco, Cal., and just when it seemed that Dempsey was about to score a knockout in the thirty-second round, LaBlanche pulled the famous "pivot blow", a full swing and return with the elbow striking the face, and Dempsey's nose was broken by the illegal blow and the champion was counted out.

LaBlanche was not recognized on this account and Dempsey went along until Jan. 14, 1891, when he was knocked out by Bob Fitzsimmons, newly arrived from Australia, in the 13th round. The fight took place in New Orleans, La.
