CARLETON-VICTORIA

Hon. B. Frank Smith, a former Minister of Public Works in the Provincial government, and one of the veterans of public life in this province, was unanimously nominated yesterday by the Conservatives of Carleton-Victoria as their standard-bearer for the approaching Federal election. Hon. Mr. Smith was first elected to the Legislature in 1903, but at the call of his party, dropped out on several occasions to contest the constituency for the House of Commons. He opposed the late Hon. F. B. Carvell, in the reciprocity election of 1911 and was defeated by only ten votes.

In 1926 the constituency of Carleton-Victoria elected the late Hon. J. K. Flemming by a large majority. Upon his death a year later, the Conservatives, being anxious to facilitate the sale of the Valley Railway to the Federal Government, and not wishing to put any stumbling block in the way, graciously permitted Ex-Sheriff A. R. Foster, a worthy man, to be returned by acclamation. The transfer of the Valley Railway has since been brought about and of course is no longer a matter of concern to the electors of the constituency. The electors now, therefore, feel themselves free to pronounce upon the public questions of the day and send to Ottawa a man who will be in a position to voice the sentiments of a majority of the people. The Conservatives in choosing Hon. Mr. Smith, have made an excellent choice. Well informed on public affairs, a man of courage, an excellent platform speaker who understands the needs of the constituency better than any living man, he is certainly well equipped to represent it in Parliament. His election by a decisive majority on July 28th looks like a foregone conclusion.

EARNING, LEARNING, LEISURE

Earning a living is not enough in this life and to teach boys and girls how to earn a living is not enough. Parents and teachers in their Denver convention are told they ought to be seeking a "worthwhile, full and enjoyable life. The lure of the dollar has carried us on to the neglect of the importance of leisure, contemplation and conversation." If we could teach boys and girls, men and women, too, how to use their leisure, we should be able to change the amazing crime conditions in this country. Learning to earn is important—but not so important as learning to live.

DISCOURAGEMENTS

It isn't disappointment or discouragement that kills us off. It isn't hard luck, failure, bad business and the like which get us down. Nothing can really get us down but our own spirit. It is not the event itself that has power. It is our reaction to the event. So long as we keep the spirit to go on, come what will, fail though we sometimes do, we are moving somewhere. It is when the spirit fails, when we give up the aim and the purpose and the ideal, that he are through.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, opened his campaign in this his native province with a great meeting in the Capitol Theatre at St. John on Monday evening. On Dominion Day he addressed another great audience at Island Park, Woodstock. This evening the Conservative leader will speak at Digby, N. S. He will tour Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, and is scheduled to speak at several New Brunswick points on his return trip. Hon. Mr. Bennett is a vigorous campaigner and his earnest addresses are listened to with great interest.

A St. John paper announces that one of the matters to engage the attention of the government at its meeting here on Thursday is the selection of a speaker to succeed Hon.

J. L. O'Brien, who met defeat in Northumberland. Hitherto it has been the custom of the Legislature to elect a speaker at the beginning of the term, on the nomination of the government, and we scarcely think that Premier Baxter will depart from that principle.

Thomas A. Edison expresses the feelings of many whose audition of the talking screen is not good or does not exist at all, when he says, "I don't like these talkies. I can't hear a word they say. Take this 'It' girl. I used to like her, but now she's talking too and that spoils the fun for me." Mr. Edison has our sympathy. While we like the talkies, there was something emotional in the silent screen which we miss.

John D. Rockefeller says the secret of golf playing is to use great deliberation. I'm not so sure. I have always done that in acquiring a million, and it doesn't seem to help any.

Professor Einstein's new theory, boiled down, is that space is eating up matter. However, we believe the experience of the average news editor is that matter eats up space.

Call it ambition or suppressed desire or anything else but the fact remains that a Florida man weighing 525 pounds has joined a glider club down there.

According to details of a suit before the California Labor Board, an actor was fired from the cast of the wild animal picture, "Ingagi," because he wasn't even a good gofilla.

One of the centers of golf interest this spring has been Sandwich, in England. Sandwich is the course, we suppose, where the slice was first brought to perfection.

Well, Mr. Rudy Valee has finally won his M for services to alma mater in spreading the Stein Song the M standing for Maine, not Moo.

Talking as fast as he does, we dare say it wouldn't take Floyd Gibbons more than 35 minutes to read the fine print in an accident policy.

Since he began giving away nickels instead of dimes, Mr. Rockefeller gets more publicity, if possible, for only half the money.

And doubtless the Chicago undertakers make special rates, like the old fashioned photographer, to gangsters killed in family groups.

What we are afraid of, in case of another war is that Mr. Mussolini will be overtrained.

Our strong suspicion is that golf is golf, and what Bobby Jones plays is another matter.

There's no great struggle left for Bobby Jones now—except occasionally to negotiate a union suit in an upper berth.

DOG WORTH MORE DEAD THAN ALIVE

Wichita, Kan., July 2—As a motorist struck and killed 10-year-old John Graham's dog he noted a menacing shotgun in the boy's grasp and hastily proffered a $5 bill.
"Sorry son, will that help any?" he inquired with a glance at the gleaming artillery.
"Yep," the boy said, "that makes $7 and its all profit, too. Shep had taken to chicken stealing and Dad gave me $2 to shoot him."
