(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

LONDON, January 22—The British and American Governments failed to reach an accord on naval policy as a result of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's recent visit to Washington and today are farther apart than ever. Premier Andre Tardieu of France told the United Press in an interview today assuming the role of a mediator between the two delegations, Tardieu said he "must spend the day between MacDonald and Stimson in an effort to reconcile American and British theory on several outstanding points."

London, January 22—Colonel J. L. Ralston, the Canadian delegate to the Five Power Naval Conference, called upon the South African delegation this morning. The visit was one of courtesy and also for the purpose of asserting in general terms the empire's views on the conference. Later Colonel Ralston lunched with Viscount Cecil.

There are a great many more persons, probably, who know now why it is called the stock "exchange."

FARMERS AND DAIRYMEN AT MONCTON

Record Breaking Attendance at the Annual Meeting of Association—Address by Hon. Lewis Smith.

Moncton, N. B., Jan. 21—The largest convention of the New Brunswick Farmers' and Dairymen's Association in over half a century opened here today with 243 registered delegates in attendance at the 54th annual meeting. Three sessions were held, morning, afternoon and evening. At the evening session Hon. Lewis Smith, Minister of Agriculture for New Brunswick, was the principal speaker. Mayor F. W. Redmond, on behalf of the city of Moncton extended the freedom of the city to the convention.

At the morning session, A. E. MacLaurin, Superintendent of Agriculture Societies, instructed the delegates in certain forms of procedure in the internal operation of the societies. He pointed out that during 1929 there were 160 active organizations, an increase of over 1928. The societies represent a membership of 10,992, a gain of 350 over 1928.

Hon. Lewis Smith.

Hon. Lewis Smith, Minister of Agriculture, addressed the meeting and pointed out that he had never seen a more enthusiastic gathering at a convention of this sort before. He said he thought it wise on the part of the executive to hold the convention in Moncton. "I know of no better place and no place where you could be treated better than right here," continued the minister.

He pointed out the value of the societies in the province. "Today we have 160 agricultural societies, the largest in the history of the province. They are powerful societies, too, and go to make up a powerful organization."

During the course of his remarks the minister related the various ways in which the Provincial and Federal departments were assisting the farmer today. He stated that it was possible that in the near future a specialist would be employed to visit the various societies of the province and to assist the farmer in his work insofar as soil conditions were concerned.

"We are spending in the provincial department today $250,000 yearly in comparison with $126,000 which we were spending five years ago. This is largely due to the better financial standing of the province today."

Other speakers at the evening session were Leslie Ensle, technical promotion manager, Canadian Industries, Montreal, who spoke on the changes in fertilizer practice in factory and field, and R. D. W. Hubbard, Burton, who addressed the convention on the influence of present freight and express rates in retarding agricultural development in New Brunswick.

The attendants were Miss Hope Wolverson, of Four Falls, and Philip Howard, of South Devon. The happy couple are being congratulated on event.

PREMIER TO VIEW WARSAW

Not Regarded by the Baltic States as Pure

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Berlin, Jan. 22—Reports received here from Lithuania indicate a growing resentment in Lithuania over the projected visit of the Estonian premier, Otto Starnman, to Warsaw.

The press of the Baltic refuse to look upon Starnman's visit as one purely of courtesy, but interpret it as "proof of Esthonia's quiet obvious pro-Polish attitudes."

GOVERNMENT WILL AMEND THE COAL BILL

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

London, Jan. 22—The Labor Government while scorning all advances from the Liberals to resume with the policy of "loose co-operation" has nevertheless decided to make concessions to the Liberal viewpoint by amendments to the coal mines bill. The nearness to defeat during the recent debate in the commons, due to the hostility of the Liberals, apparently frightened the movement into making some concessions.

GOLFER MADE HIGH SCORE AT VICTORIA

(Special To The Mail)

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 22—In a hectic competition just concluded at the Colwood Golf Club in Victoria, Harold Lineham, well known coast star, turned in an amazing card of 49 for the eighteen holes of the tricky coast course. This card is made up of Lineham's best score at each hole over a period of weeks. Par for the course is seventy. Lineham therefore beat par by more than twenty strokes on his composite card. His nearest competitor was J. H. Richardson, with a composite card of 59 for the 18 holes. Colwood, which is considered one of the sportiest courses on the continent, is holding the second annual empress mid-winter tournament early next month.

TO TIGHTEN BAN ON NAVAL LOBBYISTS

London, Jan. 22—Lobbyists or press agents will have trouble "crashing" the five-power naval conference, which opened here Monday. The British foreign office will provide personal press cards for all authorized correspondents, made out in the name of the bearer and not transferable. The card will be necessary for admittance to St. James's Palace, where the deliberative sessions will be held.

It is estimated today that 360 international journalists will report the conference—the largest journalistic gathering since the Treaty of Versailles. For the first time in history arrangements have been made to install extensive press rooms in the royal palace of St. James's, as well as a great system of wires.

Fire Anniversary

The anniversary of the disastrous $250,000 fire, which occurred in this city last year, is today, and there is some contrast in the weather conditions. On the day of the fire in which five places of business in the central block of Queen street, were completely wiped out, the temperature was well below zero with a biting wind blowing and causing considerable inconvenience to the firemen, besides aggravating the flames to stupendous damage. Today the weather conditions are considerably calmer and the thermometers are quite a bit above the zero margin.

Among the sadder things are those that an automobile can do when you attempt to show what it can do.

DR. MURPHY WON GREAT VICTORY IN HALIFAX

Liberal Candidate For Legislature was Snowed Under in the Halifax By-election.

Halifax, Jan. 21—Decisive approval of Dr. George H. Murphy to fill the legislative seat left vacant by the death of Hon. John Mahoney, was registered today by the Halifax City and County. The Government candidate was carried into office over Robert E. Finn, K. C., the Liberal party's choice on the crest of a vigorous wave that reached the highest majority ever recorded in a Halifax county by-election.

As results were received from the last outlying polls the final figures were: Murphy, 18,498; Finn, 13,023; a Conservative majority of 5,495.

Dr. Murphy's election, seen by Premier E. N. Rhodes as an endorsement of the record and policies of his administration, restores to the Government the majority of three with which it was returned to power in October, 1928, and which remained intact throughout the last session of the Legislature.

His First Venture.

Entering politics for the first time when he was called to the Executive Council last autumn, the member-elect was opposed by Robert E. Finn, who had formerly represented Halifax in both the federal Parliament and the local House. A victory for Mr. Finn would have created a virtual political stalemate, leaving the party standings at 22 to 21.

An intensive campaign, in the course of which every provincial Cabinet minister and many front benchers of the Liberal party rallied to support their respective candidates, brought more than 75 per cent. of the county's total vote to the polls.

Vote Heavy.

Despite the severity of a heavy snowfall, over 31,000 voters registered their preference, also 8,000 more than exercised the franchise in the county and city in the general election of 1928. So great was the increase that Mr. Finn, polling only two-thirds of the count recorded in favor of his opponent, received over 1,000 more votes than did the late John F. Mahoney when he led the poll in this constituency in 1928.
