Little Chance for an Agreement by the Five Naval Powers

Dominion Delegates to the London Conference Believe That Nothing Short of a Miracle Can Produce a General Agreement—Three of the Five Powers May Get Together.

(By HERBERT BAILEY, British United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, March 22—The Dominion delegates to the Naval conference here are almost reconciled to an agreement between three of the five powers represented. They declare that nothing short of a miracle can now produce a general agreement.

If a three power agreement is made, they state it will be drawn up in such a way that if competitive building begins between France and Italy it will be open to revision. The idea behind such an arrangement is to give France and Italy an opportunity to settle their own differences between themselves and when they have done so to call another conference to deal with such settlement and produce the disarmament which was sought at the present conference.

RADIO NEWS SERVICE FOR THE MAGGALENS

(Special To The Mail)

Moncton, N. B., March 22—The people of the Magdalen Islands, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, who are more or less cut off from communication with the mainland during the winter months are now receiving a daily news service via radio from CNRA, one of the C. N. R. of Transatlantic stations situated at Moncton, N. B. The inhabitants of these islands who number about eight thousand made a request that this be done as sometimes they are without news for two and three weeks at a time when weather conditions prevent air mail flights and through the courtesy of the Canadian Press in co-operation with the Canadian National Railways the latest news bulletins are transmitted to them over the air every week day afternoon.

THE QUEEN BEE ON AN AUTO, SWARM FOLLOWS

Adrian, Mich., March 22—Any one might catch a bee on the radiator of his automobile while driving down a country road, but it took Clifford Poll to catch a queen bee.

Quite a lot of things happened then. Mr. Poll was chiefly concerned with the fact that a whole swarm of bees trailed after his car, keeping the queen company. He made a quick decision and leaped from the car before it stopped rolling.

The bees settled around their queen and Mr. Poll waited for them to leave. Instead they were joined by the remainder of the swarm. Finally Poll mustered his courage, seized a screw driver and freed the queen from the radiator.

She buzzed a message of thanks and flew away, the swarm following without leaving a single sting.

STOLE WATCH DOG

Leeds, England, March 22—Burglars, who visited a house in the Yorkshire village of Kirkella, could find nothing particularly appealing, so that they stole the watch-dog.

PROTECTION ASKED FOR U. S. MISSIONARIES

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 22—American authorities in China have appealed to Cantonese officials for protection of Bishop O'Shea and a group of American missionaries trapped in Kanchow, China, which is surrounded by irregular troops, the State Department was advised today.

Douglas Jenkins, American Consul at Canton, asked Chinese officials to telegraph Liu At Mananfu urging quick action to protect the Americans.

PROPOSALS ARE REJECTED

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

New Delhi, March 22—The legislative assembly today rejected the government of India's proposals to impose duty of four annas an ounce on silver.

SHAW GIVES OUT PROBLEM

London, March 22—Tom Shaw, minister of War, has a 46-inch chest and tailors are having a hard time getting a suit ready for him for a levee a week hence. He was late with his order and nothing ready made would fit. The prescribed uniform has gold embroidered cuffs and pocket flaps on the coat and gold stripes on the trousers. A sword and a cocked hat with white feathers go with it.

BACHELORS SEEKING BRIDES

New York March 22—One thousand men intent on marriage who as yet have not seen the ladies are leaving for Greece tomorrow on the liner Saturnia. Photographs will be shown aboard ship. After arrival there will be a reception in Athens with flowers and song and introductions in the Acropolis.

MRS. RALSTON WILL SPONSOR C. N. S. S. LINER

(Special to the Daily Mail)

London Eng., March 22—Mrs. Ralston, wife of the Minister of Defence for Canada, has agreed to act as sponsor for the "Prince Robert" of the Canadian National Steamships, which will be launched at Birkenhead on the afternoon of Thursday, April 3rd. Mrs. Ralston came to London with Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, K. C., C. M. G., D. S. O., which is representing Canada at the naval conference and it is quite fitting that while on a mission to reduce naval armaments there should be a launch of a Canadian vessel.

DOHENY CASE TO THE JURY

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 22—The case of Edward L. Doheny, charged with bribing former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall, in connection with nava loll leases was given to the jury at 11.02 a. m. today.

REQUESTS JUMBLED

New York, March 22—Of the thousands of requests for specific musical numbers that are received by radio musical entertainment organizations, almost 75 per cent. have to be thrown away, according to Harry Horlick of the A & P Gypsies. Radio fans who ask for special numbers often have either the name of the selection or the name of the author incorrect and many times they have the both wrong.

Aviator Returns

Telegraph Journal: Frank Shute, Fredericton pilot, who made a forced landing in plane on Gregory's field, at Sand Cove Road, while flying from Fredericton to Saint John with two passengers on Tuesday on Tuesday returned to Fredericton yesterday. He carried with him one passenger, Alfred Oland, of this city, who returned to Saint John last night by train after spending several hours in Fredericton. Mr. Oland said that leaving here at 10.10 o'clock yesterday morning they made the trip to Fredericton in 50 minutes flying against heavy winds all the way. Being unable to take off from Gregory's field, Shute had his machine disassembled and towed to the airport at Millidgeville from where he took to the air yesterday morning.

THE FRENCH DELEGATES LEAVE LONDON

A Veiled Ultimatum to the Other Four Powers.

CONFERENCE MAY FAIL

Disarmament Plans Are in Worst Plight Since 1927.

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press Staff Correspondent
London, March 22—France's temporary withdrawal from London—in effect a veiled ultimatum to the other four powers, left the naval conference today on the verge of comparative failure and world plans for disarmament in their worst plight since the collapse of the Geneva conference in 1927.

GLUE SPRAY SAVES CROP, RUINS A FAIRY TALE

Waterbury, Ct., March 22—Lester Green of Prospect, who has achieved some fame as a hatcher of frozen eggs and befriender of shell-less turtles, sprays his apple trees with glue to prevent the apples from falling before he can pick them, according to the Waterbury Republican's special reporter.

Says the Republican: "Lester Green has had much trouble each year because apples in his orchard were blown down before he had time to pick them. Last fall he sprayed the fruit with a heavy coating of glue with the idea of gluing the fruit to the trees.

"His idea worked; not only have the apples stuck to the trees through the most violent storms but the heavy coating of glue kept them from freezing in zero weather. Green has been picking apples at his leisure all winter, immersing them in a warm bath to wash off the glue before marketing. He picked the last 20 bushels of Pippins Tuesday."

THE SPEAKER MADE GIFTS TO OFFICIALS

A pleasing incident occurred in the Legislative building on Wednesday when Hon. J. Leonard O'Brien, member for Northumberland and Speaker of the House, the youngest member and one of the most popular, presented to George Bidlake, clerk of the House, J. Fred Payne, assistant clerk and Henry C. Rutter, sergeant-at-arms, sets of gold cuff links, as mementos of the present relations existing between Mr. Speaker and the clerk and his assistants during the last four years. The links were engraved with the initials of the recipient and the donor.

Interesting spectators at the session of the House on Thursday were State Senator Harold Murchie and Hon. Lewis Eaton, of the Maine State Legislature, both of Calais, Me. They were guests of A. R. McKenzie, member for St. Stephen and Milltown.
