N. B. GUIDES ASSOCIATION IN ANNUAL MEETING ASK CHANGES IN THE GAME LAW

A ban on the sale of game meat, extension for a similar fee of the $5 license for non-residents for three days salmon angling in open waters, a ban on the use of .22 calibre rifles in the woods and a regulation requiring a non-resident to be accompanied by a registered guide when fishing, were among the changes in the game laws and fishing regulations asked by the New Brunswick Guides' Association by resolutions passed at the annual meeting held here this afternoon.

The meeting was held at the York County Court House and was the largest and most representative meeting held in the history of the association, guides being present from almost every county of the province. The president, William T. Griffin, of Cross Creek, was in the chair, and the meeting lasted for more than four hours. Hon. Charles D. Richards, Minister of Lands and Mines, G. H. Prince, Deputy Minister, and Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman, of Milltown, First vice-president, and Francis Kerr, of Saint John, secretary of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association, addressed the meeting.

Badges To Be Used

Announcement was made that the Department of Lands and Mines will inaugurate this year the use of badges in place of cards as licenses for non-resident fisherman. The badges, it was stated, must be displayed on the outside of the clothing of non-resident fisherman and their use is expected to make it easier for wardens and all officials to check-up on whether strangers have angling licenses. The announcement was received with approval by the meeting and the Association asked, by resolution, that the Department of Lands and Mines publish a compilation of information secured regarding fishing and hunting opportunities in replies to questionnaires with the Department sent out some time ago to all camp-owning guides in the province.

The Guide's Association took no action respecting proposals that the big game hunting season be curtailed other than 12 months' notice of any closed season. The 10-point law, which was unanimously approved by the Association last year, is still favored by the guides as a means of conserving the supply of moose. There appeared to be a sentiment in favor of having the open season for deer delayed until the opening of the moose hunting season to a protection for the moose, but no formal action in that regard was taken. In response to Hon. Mr. Richards' request for an expression of opinion regarding the advisability for an open season for partridge, a resolution was passed favoring a continuation of the closed season for another year.

In Healthy State

The report of the secretary-treasurer, J. D. Black, showed the Association's financial standing to be the best in the more than 30 years of its history. For generous co-operation and assistance of various kinds to the Association and its individual members, a vote of appreciation was passed to Hon. Mr. Richards, who complimented the Association upon the success of several functions, and shows in which the president, Mr. Griffin, and other guides had participated at Boston, New York and other cities to the credit of themselves, the Association and the province. It was decided that the next annual meeting would be a two-day session, with the week between Christmas and New Year's suggested as a suitable time, and the co-operation of the transportation companies will be enlisted to ensure the success of the meeting, which, it is hoped, will become a big reunion of guides from all parts of the province.

Officers were elected for the year as follows: President, William T. Griffin; first vice-president, W. Harry Allen; secretary-treasurer, J. D. Black; executive, B. S. Moore, Willis Norrad and Robert Craig. Vice-presidents have been named for each of the counties.

It was decided that the next annual meeting would be a two days session with the week between Christmas and New Year's suggested as a suitable time and the co-operation of the transportation companies will be enlisted to ensure the success of the meeting, which it is hoped will become a big reunion of guides from all parts of the Province.

HAVELOCK COY, BARRISTER, DIED SUDDENLY

Born in Marysville

The deceased was the son of the late Thomas Coy and was born in what is now the town of Marysville. His father was the owner of the McConnell farm, which was ultimately sold to the late Alexander Gibson.

A Brilliant Scholar

Mr. Coy was educated at the public schools here and also at the University of New Brunswick from which he graduated in 1875 with the degree of B. A., taking his M. A. degree two years later. His college course was a brilliant one, he having led the graduating class. He won a number of prizes and scholarships during his college course. A younger brother, the late Dr. Judson Coy was a fellow student, and they thought nothing of making the journey from their home to the university on foot.

Mr. Coy studied law in this city and was called to the bar in 1879. This means that he had been practising law here for nearly fifty-one years, being the senior member of the local bar. He was a master of the Supreme Court, and for twenty-eight years had served as registrar of the U. N. B. He also served as secretary of the Local Improvement Association.

The deceased had long been an active member of the Brunswick Street Baptist Church and for many years had held the office of deacon. Although of a quiet disposition he always displayed a keen interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the community.

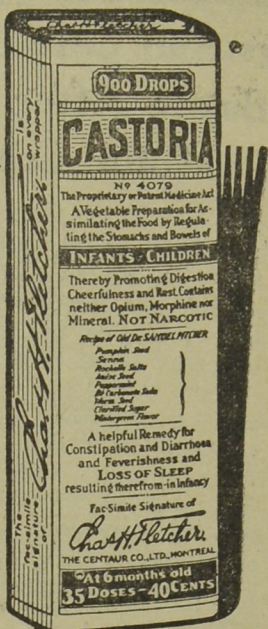

The late Mr. Coy was seventy-two years of age and is survived by a widow and one son Ernest H. Coy of this city. Dr. G. C. Vanwart of this city is a cousin.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock with service by Dr. Wellington Camp at the home, 749 Charlotte Street, and interment in the Rural Cemetery.

Children Cry for it

Children hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and harmless as the recipe reads. (The wrapper tells you just what Castoria contains.)

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, use it to keep the system from clogging. Your doctor will tell you Castoria deserves a place in the family medicine cabinet until your child is grown. He knows it is safe for the tiniest baby; effective for a boy in his teens. With this special children's remedy handy, you need never risk giving a boy or girl medicine meant for grown-ups. Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

"Before My Baby Was Born"

"I was in very poor health before my baby was born and had to lie down two hours every day. The doctor said I would never carry my baby as I was too weak. My mother persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped me wonderfully. My baby is not very big but he is strong and healthy. I recommend the Compound to every woman I hear complaining and when I feel weak I take it again myself. Everybody says they never saw me looking better. I will be glad to answer letters if I can help other women to be strong and healthy again."
