Second Day's Races at Fall Fair Yesterday, Interesting

A Heat in 2.10 by Lee Strathmore Was Fastest of Day—Rain Threatened, But Did No Damage—Expressive Guy and Neshia, Were Other Winners of Day—Some Duo-Duels Provided Excitement in Stray Heats.

The second day's racing card of the Fredericton Exhibition, Ltd., fall races, yesterday afternoon, proved interesting if not exciting, and a much larger crowd attended the speed carnival on Wednesday than on Tuesday. Huge crowds are expected here today to witness the classic Free-for-All, which is always an event for International patronage and color. Ruby P., famous roan mare sensation of downeast tracks is the favorite in today's feature.

Heat in 2.10

The fastest time yesterday was a heat in 2.10 by Lee Strathmore, maine paces, who turned the trick in the first heat, later winner first money, with two more victories, over Galahad, and Dude McKlyo. There were only three starters in the 2.18 Pace, and 16-year-old Billy Wathen, furnished the only real thrill of the event, when in the third heat of the Pace, he chased the Strathmore horse almost to the wire neck-and-neck. The Wathen pacer slipped a shoe in the last 20 yards, and almost gave her driver a nasty tumble, but miraculously held its feet to come under the wire a close second.

Expressive Guy, owned by George Bathholder, Rockland, Maine, won the 2.16 Pace, the second event on the card as expected in the pools.

Lucky Lindy, P. E. I. bay gelding, furnished the competition in the first two heats, taking second money, but in the final heat, it was Major Aubrey, with Johnny Conroy, who gobbled second position, and squeezed the Atlantic Express offspring to the wire. Lucky Lindy finished fifth in this heat, Gladys Direct, picked by some as having an outside chance to come through, took three thirds and third money. Billy Wathen drove the Direct pacer. Chappelle, upholding his reputation as one of the best drivers on downeast tracks, was up behind the winner in fine style.

Lots of Speed

Expressive Guy seemed to have a world of speed, (and like Eula H. of the preceding day's races, laid over the field easily. The best time in this race was 2.12½.

In the 2.21 Trot, for a purse of $400, Neshia, owned by J. A. Kerr, of Truro, N. S., came through to a wonderful win after dropping the opening heat to Captain Kidd, with old Tim Holmes handling the ribbons.

Close Battle

Conroy drove a wonderful race, in getting his Neshia mare up, and his victory didn't seem a bit certain until he had the mare drive out the Kidd gelding in the stretch of the second heat. The third heat was pie for Neshia, after Holmes had battled all the way to the stretch neck-and-neck, only to slow up to a dog trot and let the Conroy driver speed merchant express its way under the wire.

A heat in 2.12 furnished the best time for this battle. Barita Aubrey, of G. W. Horsman, Moncton, N. B. was third money winner, and Dona Thompson, a Woodstock trotter was fourth. Top Worthy, driven by Chappelle and Dora Mack, a Nova Scotian bred trotter, were distanced in the opening skirmish.

TEN MILLION AMERICAN WOMEN HOLD JOBS

New York, Sept. 18—The United States census director, William M. Stewart, reports that 10,000,000 women are "gainfully" employed in this country and that 23,000,000 women are housewives.

Mr. Stewart tactfully suggests that if 23,000,000 housewives are added to to at least a third of that 10,000,000 women jobholders, the total would amount to about 90 per cent of the number of women between the ages of 16 and 64 in this country and that would make the number of women workers equal to the number of men workers.

He hasn't officially added the housewives to the feminine jobholders. For "statistical" reasons he wants to keep the two separate and so we are told that 90 per cent of the men and 25 per cent of the women are gainfully employed.

Builds Power Dam

But is such a well known fact that women are forcing their way into every profession that no one bothers much about it now. Virtually every industrial barrier has been knocked down and dragged off by the weaker sex.

Engineering was always a splendid masculine profession, but the ladies have got into it with both feet. Here's Miss Betty Dean Read, who ought to be thinking of nothing but beaux and dancing, laying out a power dam in New Mexico.

The only field in which it is not universally admitted that women can outdo her masculine brother is the modern "bootlegging" business. Still, however, even in the "racket" game it has been known that woman can more than hold her own. One woman, Mrs. Rosalie Whitney of Brooklyn, N. Y. is struggling and winning in her attempt to wipe the "racket" game from the laundry business. She is dictator of the Neighborhood Laundrymen's Association, comprising 95 per cent of Brooklyn's laundries. She got the job last May and promised to give the racketeers and extortionists who were bleeding the laundrymen, a good tubbing. Today she announces she has done it. No one disputes her.

Architecture used to be a manly trade, but alas! no more. The ladies are taking it over as fast as they can. They are even running off jobs as building foremen. Lady Phillimore is Britain's only titled lady to hold such a job. Wife of the second baron of Phillimore, she has dedicated her life to building beautiful homes. She willingly lends a hand at laying bricks, supervising timber construction and is ready to do any of the jobs if need be.

No longer can professions and commercial enterprises be classified as being fields wherein man alone rules.

SIGMUND FREUD WAS AWARDED GOETHE PRIZE

Berlin, Germany Sept. 17—Sigmund Freud, father of psychoanalysis, has risen from the ranks of mere scientists to become a crowned king in the literary world by receiving the fourth annual award of $2,400 for the Goethe prize of the city of Frankfurt given on Goethe's birthday, Aug. 28.

Hitherto recipients of this prize have been exclusively poets and philosophers such as the poet Stefan George; the philosopher, Leopold Ziegler, and the theologian and physicians, Albert Schweitzer.

The Goethe prize is given to the modern German writer who in some way continues the spirit of the great Goethe. The choice of Freud, that specialist in the subconscious, seems a strange contrast to that self-conscious sage of Weimar, but the younger German writers are so thoroughly imbued with the Freudian spirit that the choice perhaps is made on this basis.

Each day brings to light the astounding fact that woman can equal man and, in many cases, surpass him in the execution of positions which heretofore were considered purely masculine.
