R. B. HANSON WAS CHEERED AS RESULTS KNOWN

thanked his supporters for their generous support of him assuring him one of the most thorough victories in the history of the province. He was cheered roundly when he finished.

Only Few Polls

J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., the defeated Liberal warrior, it was learned at an early hour, had carried only a few small polls in York-Sunbury and before the final results had been in, it was seen that the Liberal candidate had lost his deposit. The vote was almost 5 to 2 for Mr. Hanson.

Things were quiet here all day, with little interest being shown in the polling. Toward evening, however, with the returns beginning to come, interest perked up, and hundreds appeared about the streets, gossiping on the ratings. Many others stayed at home and caught the results over their radios, broadcast by Jas. S. Neill & Sons, CFNB.

Things Quiet

Assist. Commissioner E. C. Morgan, of the New Brunswick Provincial Police told reporters this morning that throughout the province, polling day had been a quiet one. Nothing unusual happened to mark proceedings. Locally, a similar state of affairs existed.

Declaration Day will be on Friday and the final results will be made known at ten o'clock in the morning. Sheriff Hawthorne, the chief returning officer, said this morning.

A political party is an organization of men—and women—that claims credit for prosperity when it comes and denies responsibility when it leaves.

LIBERALS LOSE TWO SEATS IN MARITIMES

Result of the Vote Was Fairly Close in Some Nova Scotia Constituencies.

Halifax, N. S. July 28—The Liberal Government led by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King sustained a net loss of five seats in the Maritime Provinces as a result of today's general election. The Conservative Party under the leadership of Hon. R. B. Bennett, gained two seats in Queens, a two-member constituency in Prince Edward Island four seats in Kent, Northumberland, Restigouche, Madawaska and Carleton-Victoria, in New Brunswick, and lost one, Colchester, in Nova Scotia. This makes the standing, Conservatives 23, Liberals six.

At dissolution the standing of the parties in the Maritime Provinces was: Conservatives, 18; Liberals, 11. Both the Minister of National Defence, Hon. J. L. Ralston, and the Postmaster General, Hon. Dr. P. J. Veniot won their seats in Shelbourne-Yarmouth and Gloucester, respectively. But the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. Cyruc McMillan, who deserted the professorship of English at McGill University for the political arena, was low man in Queens P. E. I.

In Nova Scotia

An outstanding feature of the results in Nova Scotia was the defeat of all four members of the Liberal opposition in the provincial legislature who resigned to enter the Federal contest. These were D. A. Cameron, who was beaten by Finlay MacDonald, in Cape Breton South; E. C. Doyle, who was forced to bow to Dr. A. J. McDonald in Richmond West, Cape Breton; E. J. Cragg, who footed the polls in Halifax, and J. J. Kingley, who lost to W. G. Ernst, in Lunenburg.

The voting was close in a majority of the Maritime constituencies, H. B. Short, Conservative, winning in Digby by a bare 38.

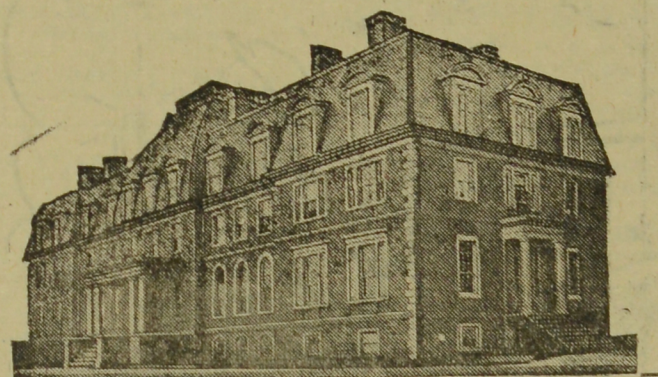

Two sons of the former Liberal member wend down to defeat, H. R. Emmerson, a son of the former minister of the same name in Westmorland, N. B., and Samuel Pickup in Digby-Annapolis.
